Senior Prophecy

We, The Seniors of 1944, being of sound mind, (we thin) and being quite indisposed, do hereby make and prophesy that the following things will sooner or later come to pass with our Seniors playing the leading roles.

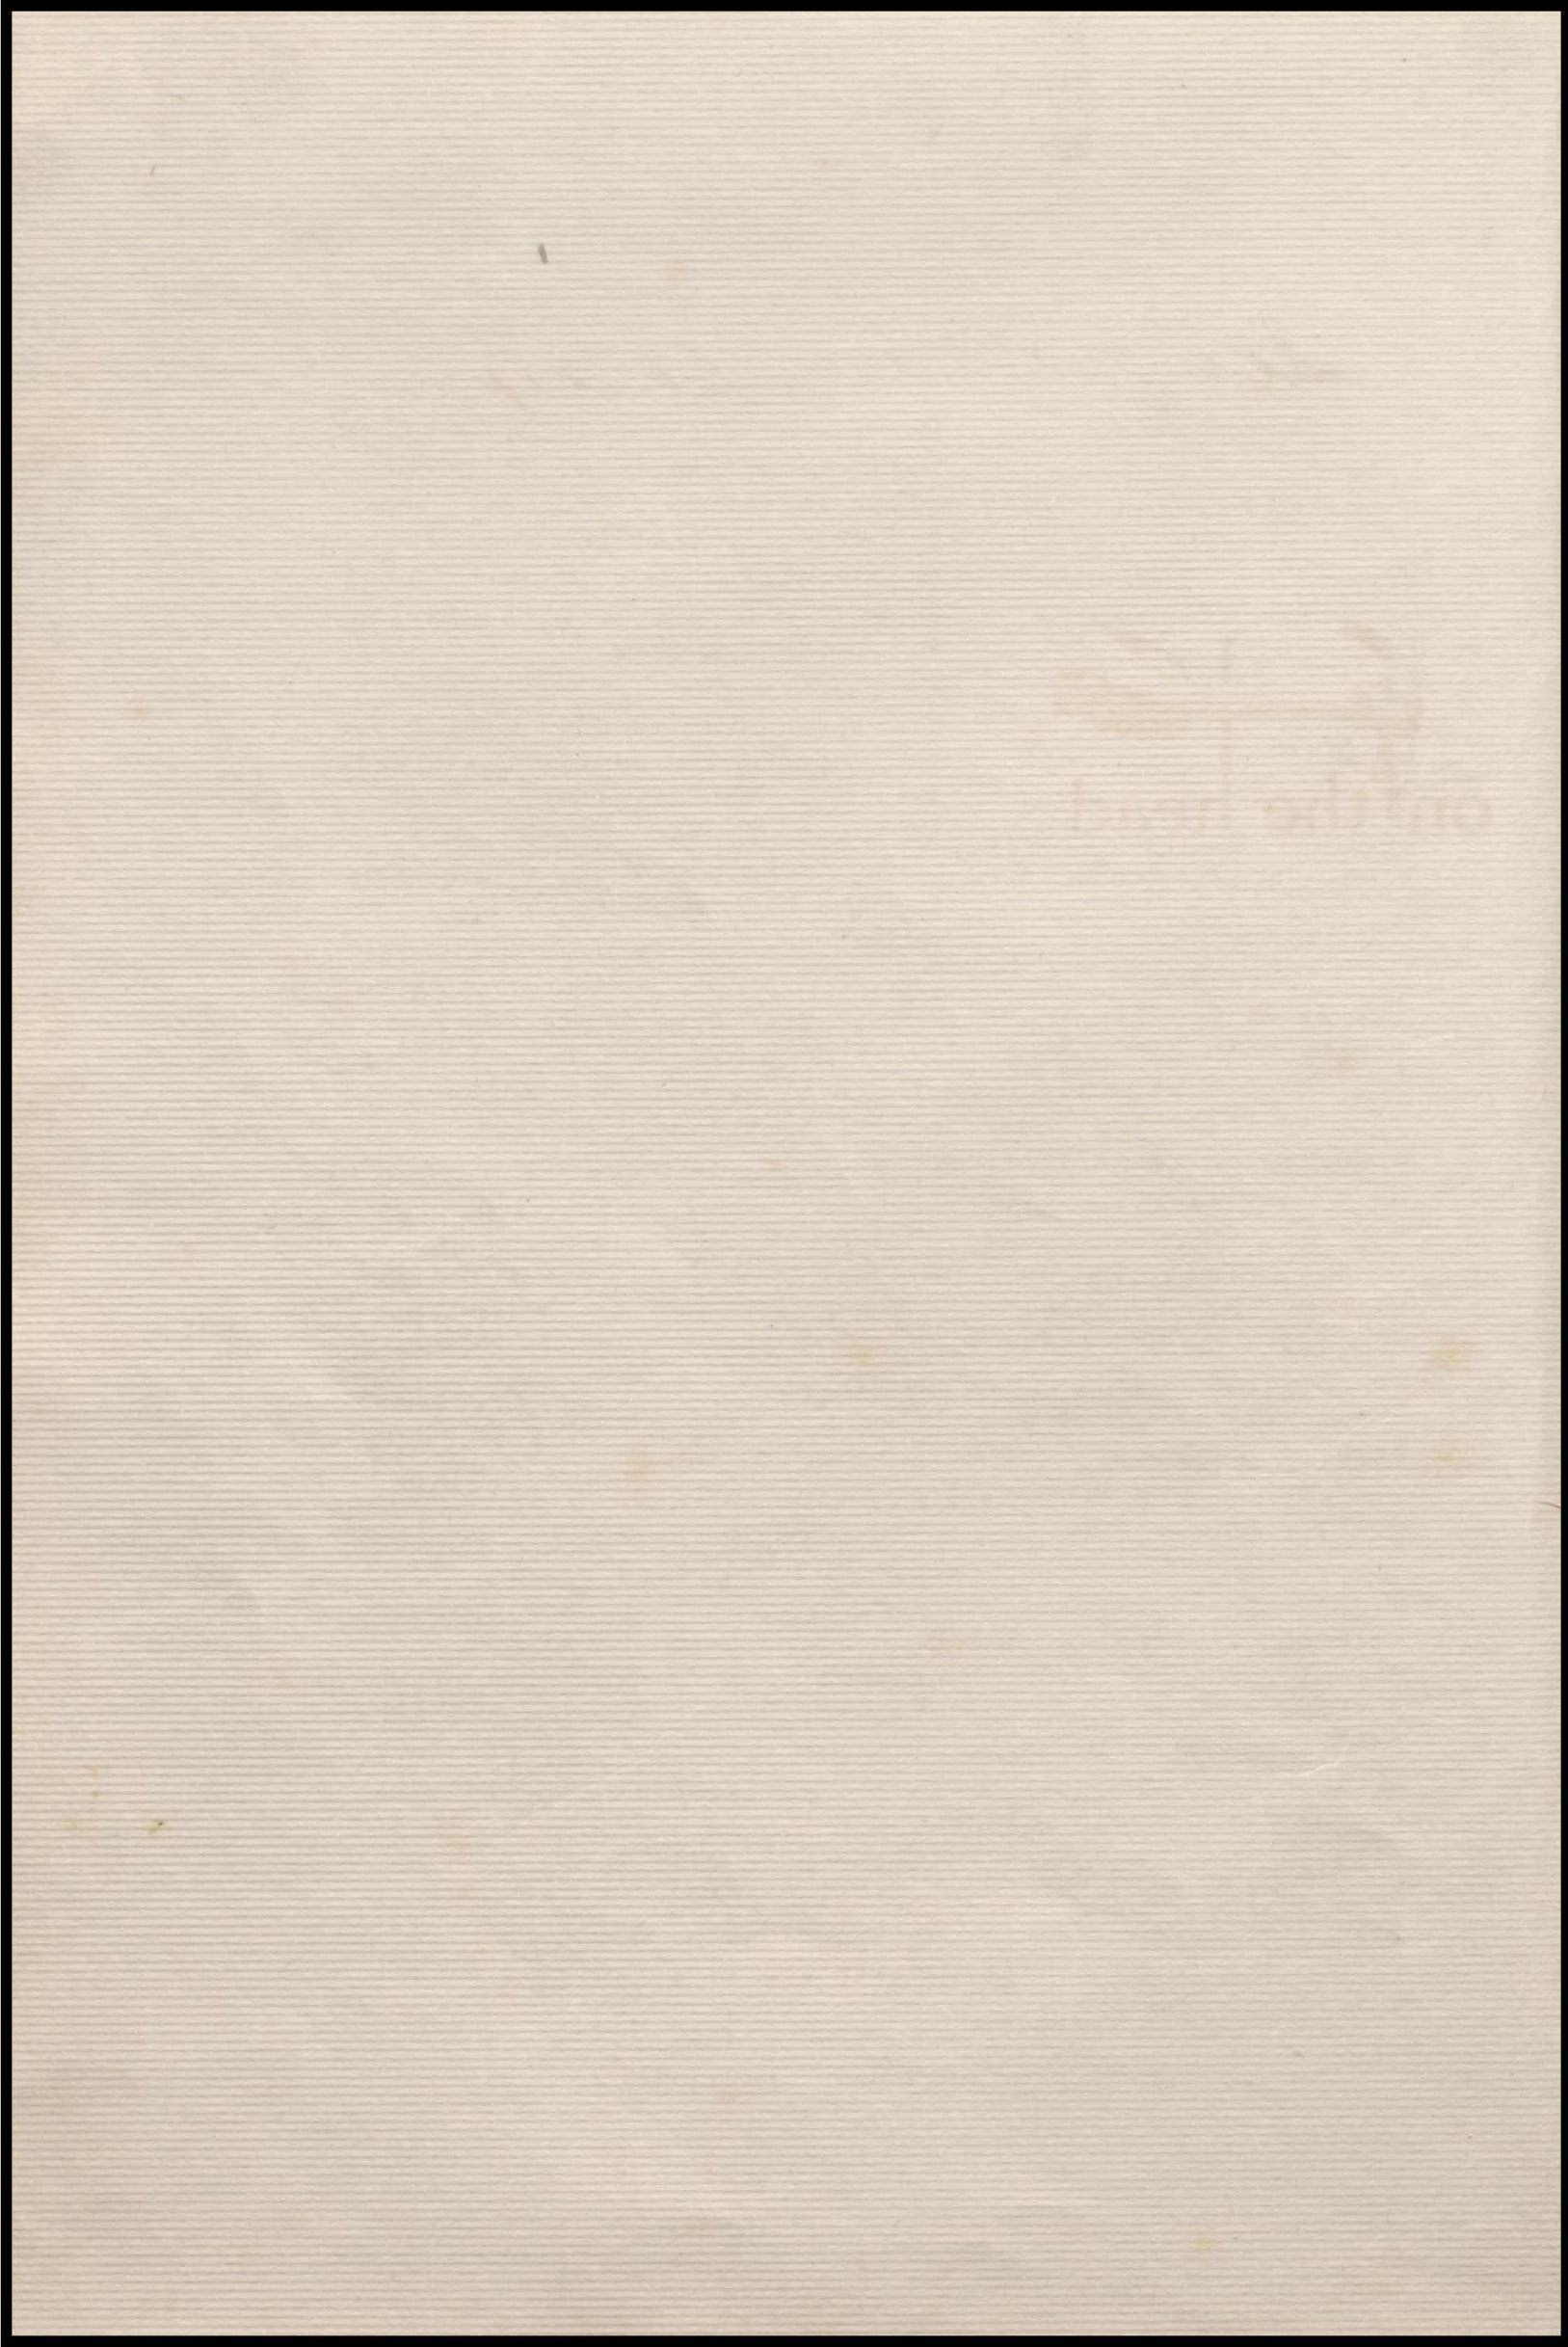

First, we wish to shed a tear for the unfortunate Junior Class which will have the difficult job of trying to replace us,--a well nigh impossible task, considering the high quality of this years' graduates.

For J. W. Sanders we prophesy a career as a divorce attorney with his main office at Reno and branches at every whistle stop all over the nation. His fee is two-bits to split 'em and four bits to splice 'em as he is a Justice of what little peace there is in Reno, as well as a lawyer.

We see Harold Wind as a preacher with large congregations wherover he preaches. His success is due to the man-to-man talks he had with Mr. Black while supposedly studying English back in Markham High. He is currently conducting a drive against juke boxes and slot machines that stick. He frowns against dancing in any form except jiving which he says is all right because it is one of the gentler dances compared to the new steps.

Jack Heard is earning his living singing in church choirs over the country and has been known to help "Windy" on occasion but his fees are rather high as his basso profundo voice is very rare indeed--very rare. He always insists on helping with the collection as the jingle of silver reminds him of many things in the past. His hobby is betting on things--he will bet you ten to one the sun will rise in the morning or that the moon will be full sometime during the month. He still hasn't done any of the things he says he was going to do and he won't go to a baseball game on a bet--says it's silly, especially major league games.

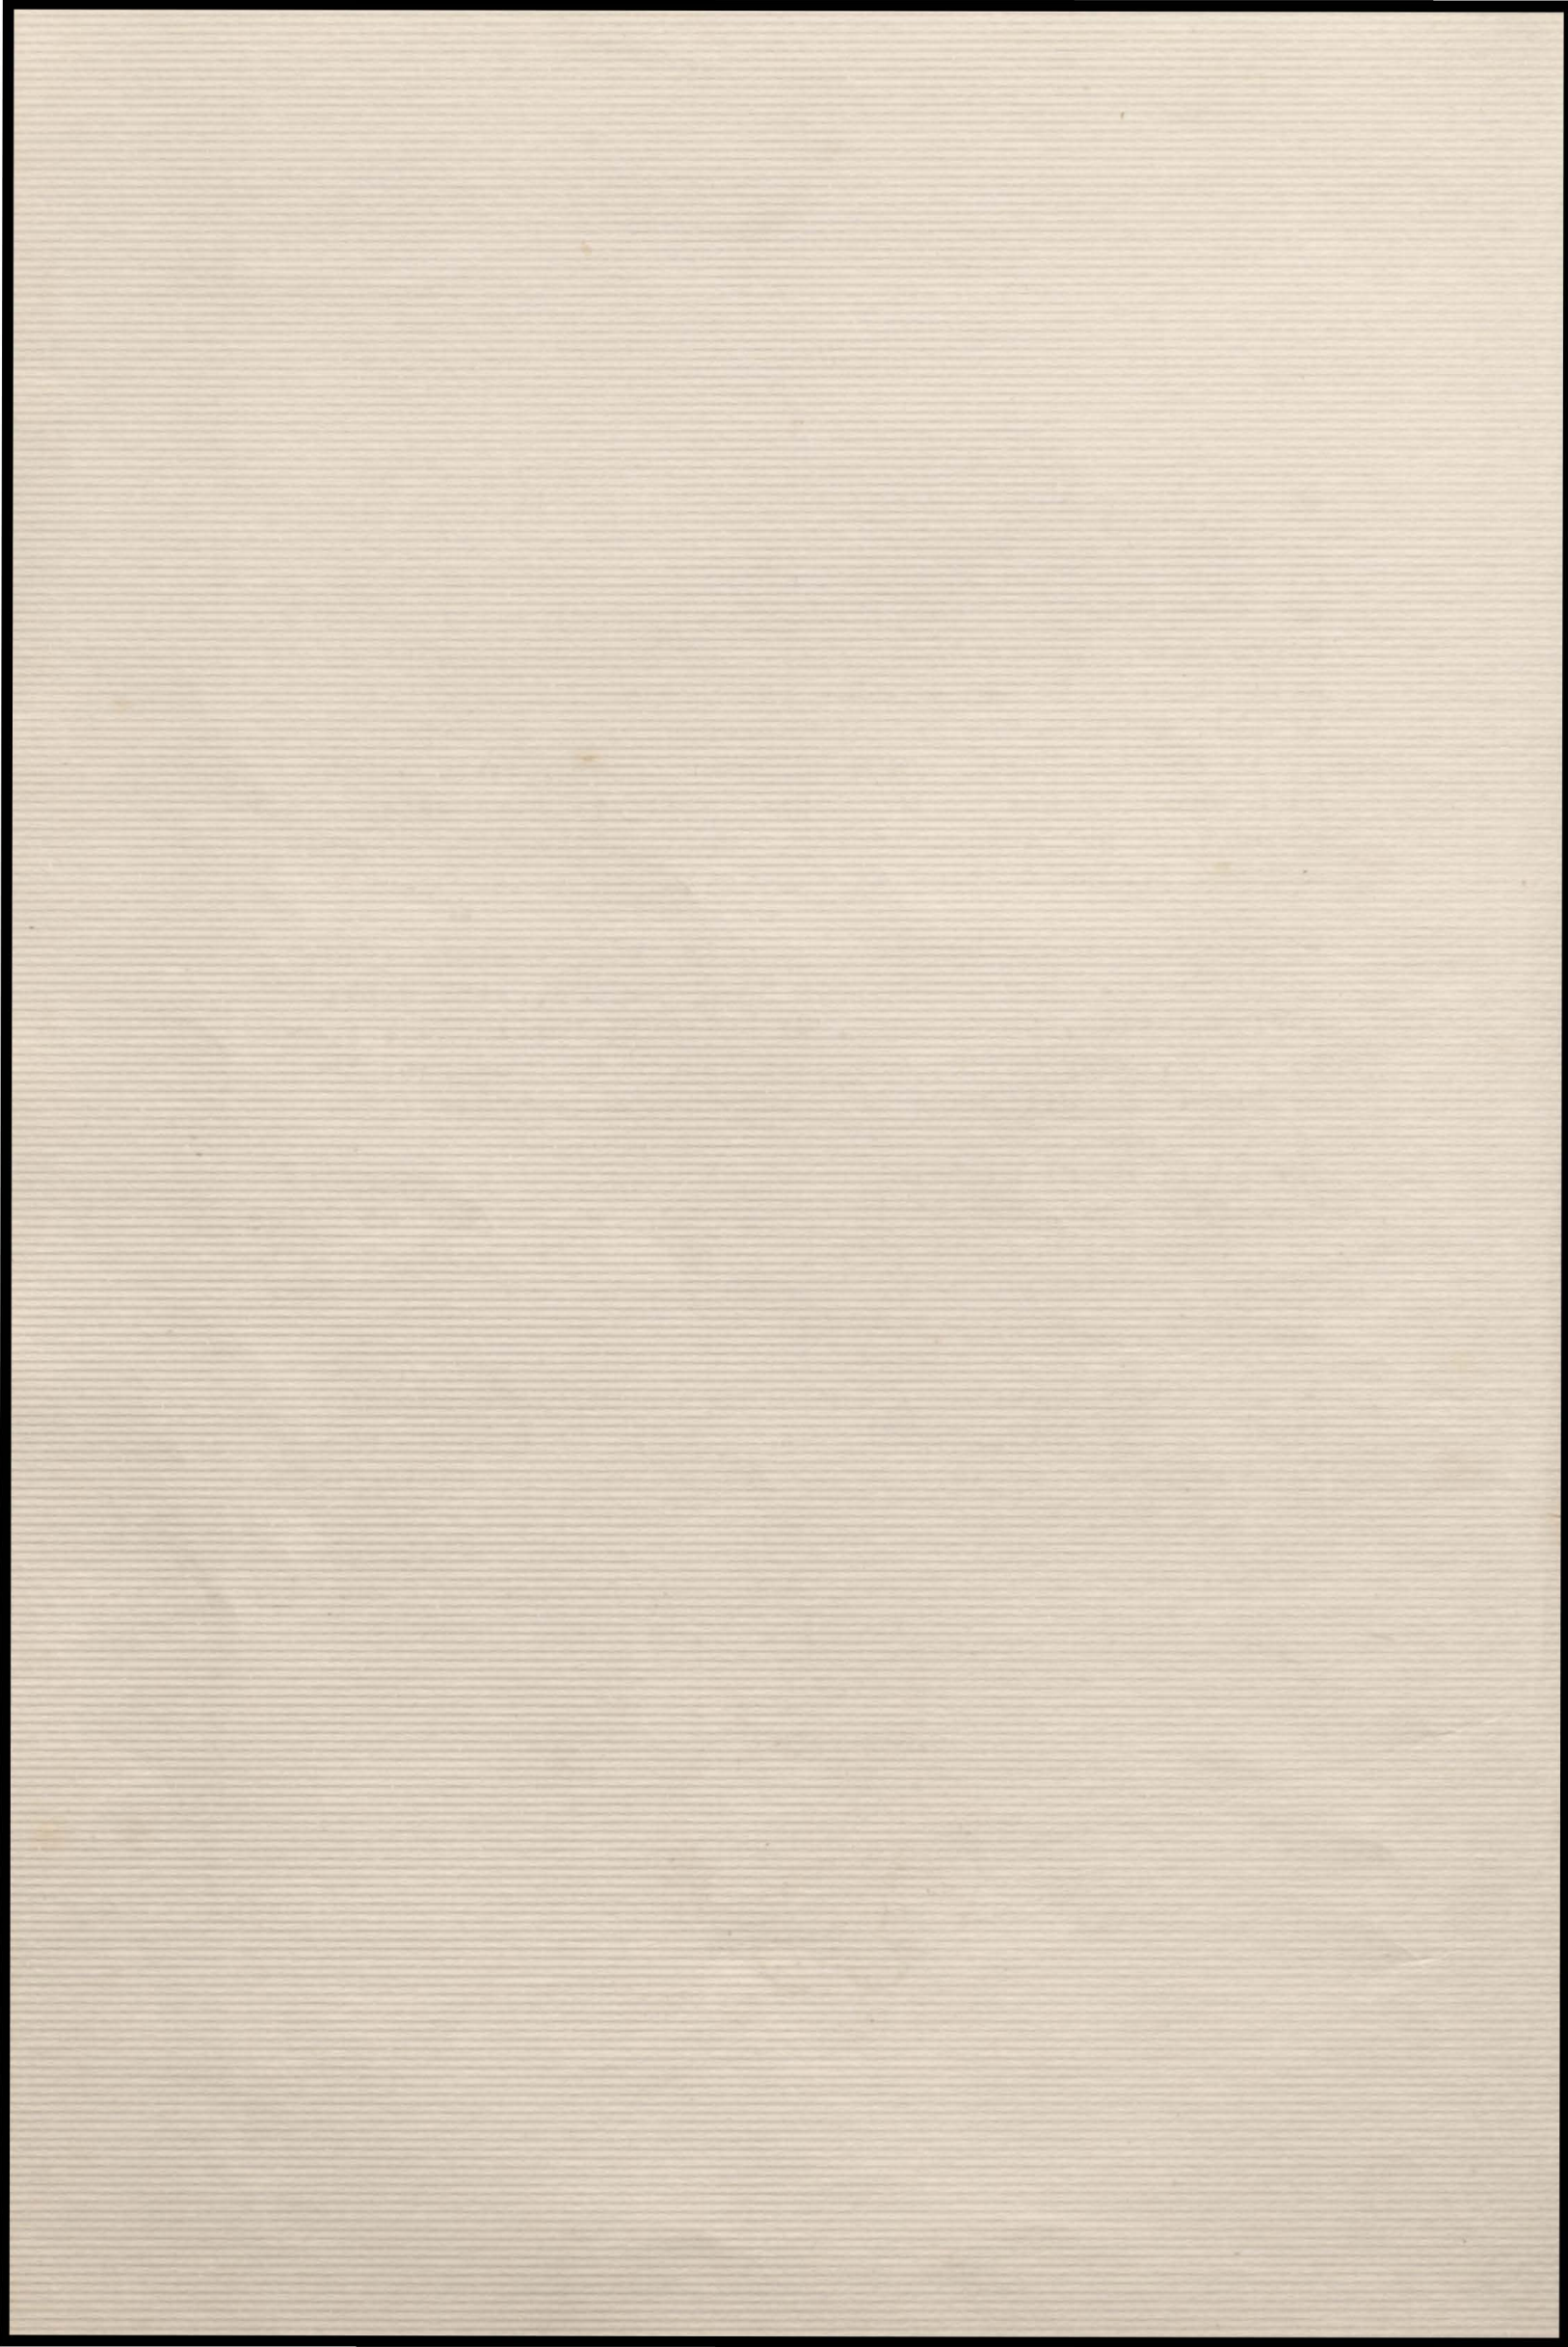

We see Ginny Andersen and Albert Heffman in some kind of a partnership--they say its farming and raising imported Algerian Canaries with pink eyebrows. They have a two acre farm down in South Texas and concentrate on cockleburrs which Albert insists is good hay although he can't sell it at all. He is also an inventor, although he has trouble getting his patents as some one has always thought of it first. He is now working on an automatic tooth pick which crawls on the table by itself at mealtime. Virginia says who loves farming, especially cotton chopping, and she wouldn't trade it for anything.

We prophesy Lewis Nygard as a hair dresser with offices in Midfield. He says he can do up-sweeps, side bobs, curl twizzles, pompadours, GI haircuts for ladies, Pansy parts, waxy waves, and many others too numerous to mention. He will also trim the babies eyebrows free.

For Annie Pearl we think that a career as a teacher of commercial subjects is in the books. We see her at Crabtree Corners, a small village near Le Talle park, teaching typing, shorthand and bookkeeping, which were her favorite subjects in high school.

We see Homer Schurtz as a manager of the Western Auto Store in Bay City, working up to this after 25 years on the same job. He is a deacon in the church and is prominent in in civic affairs supervising all dog catching work in the community. His hobby is raising Victory gardens even though Victory has been won for over twenty years. He won't grow anything but Spanish horse radish which is the only vegetable he eats.

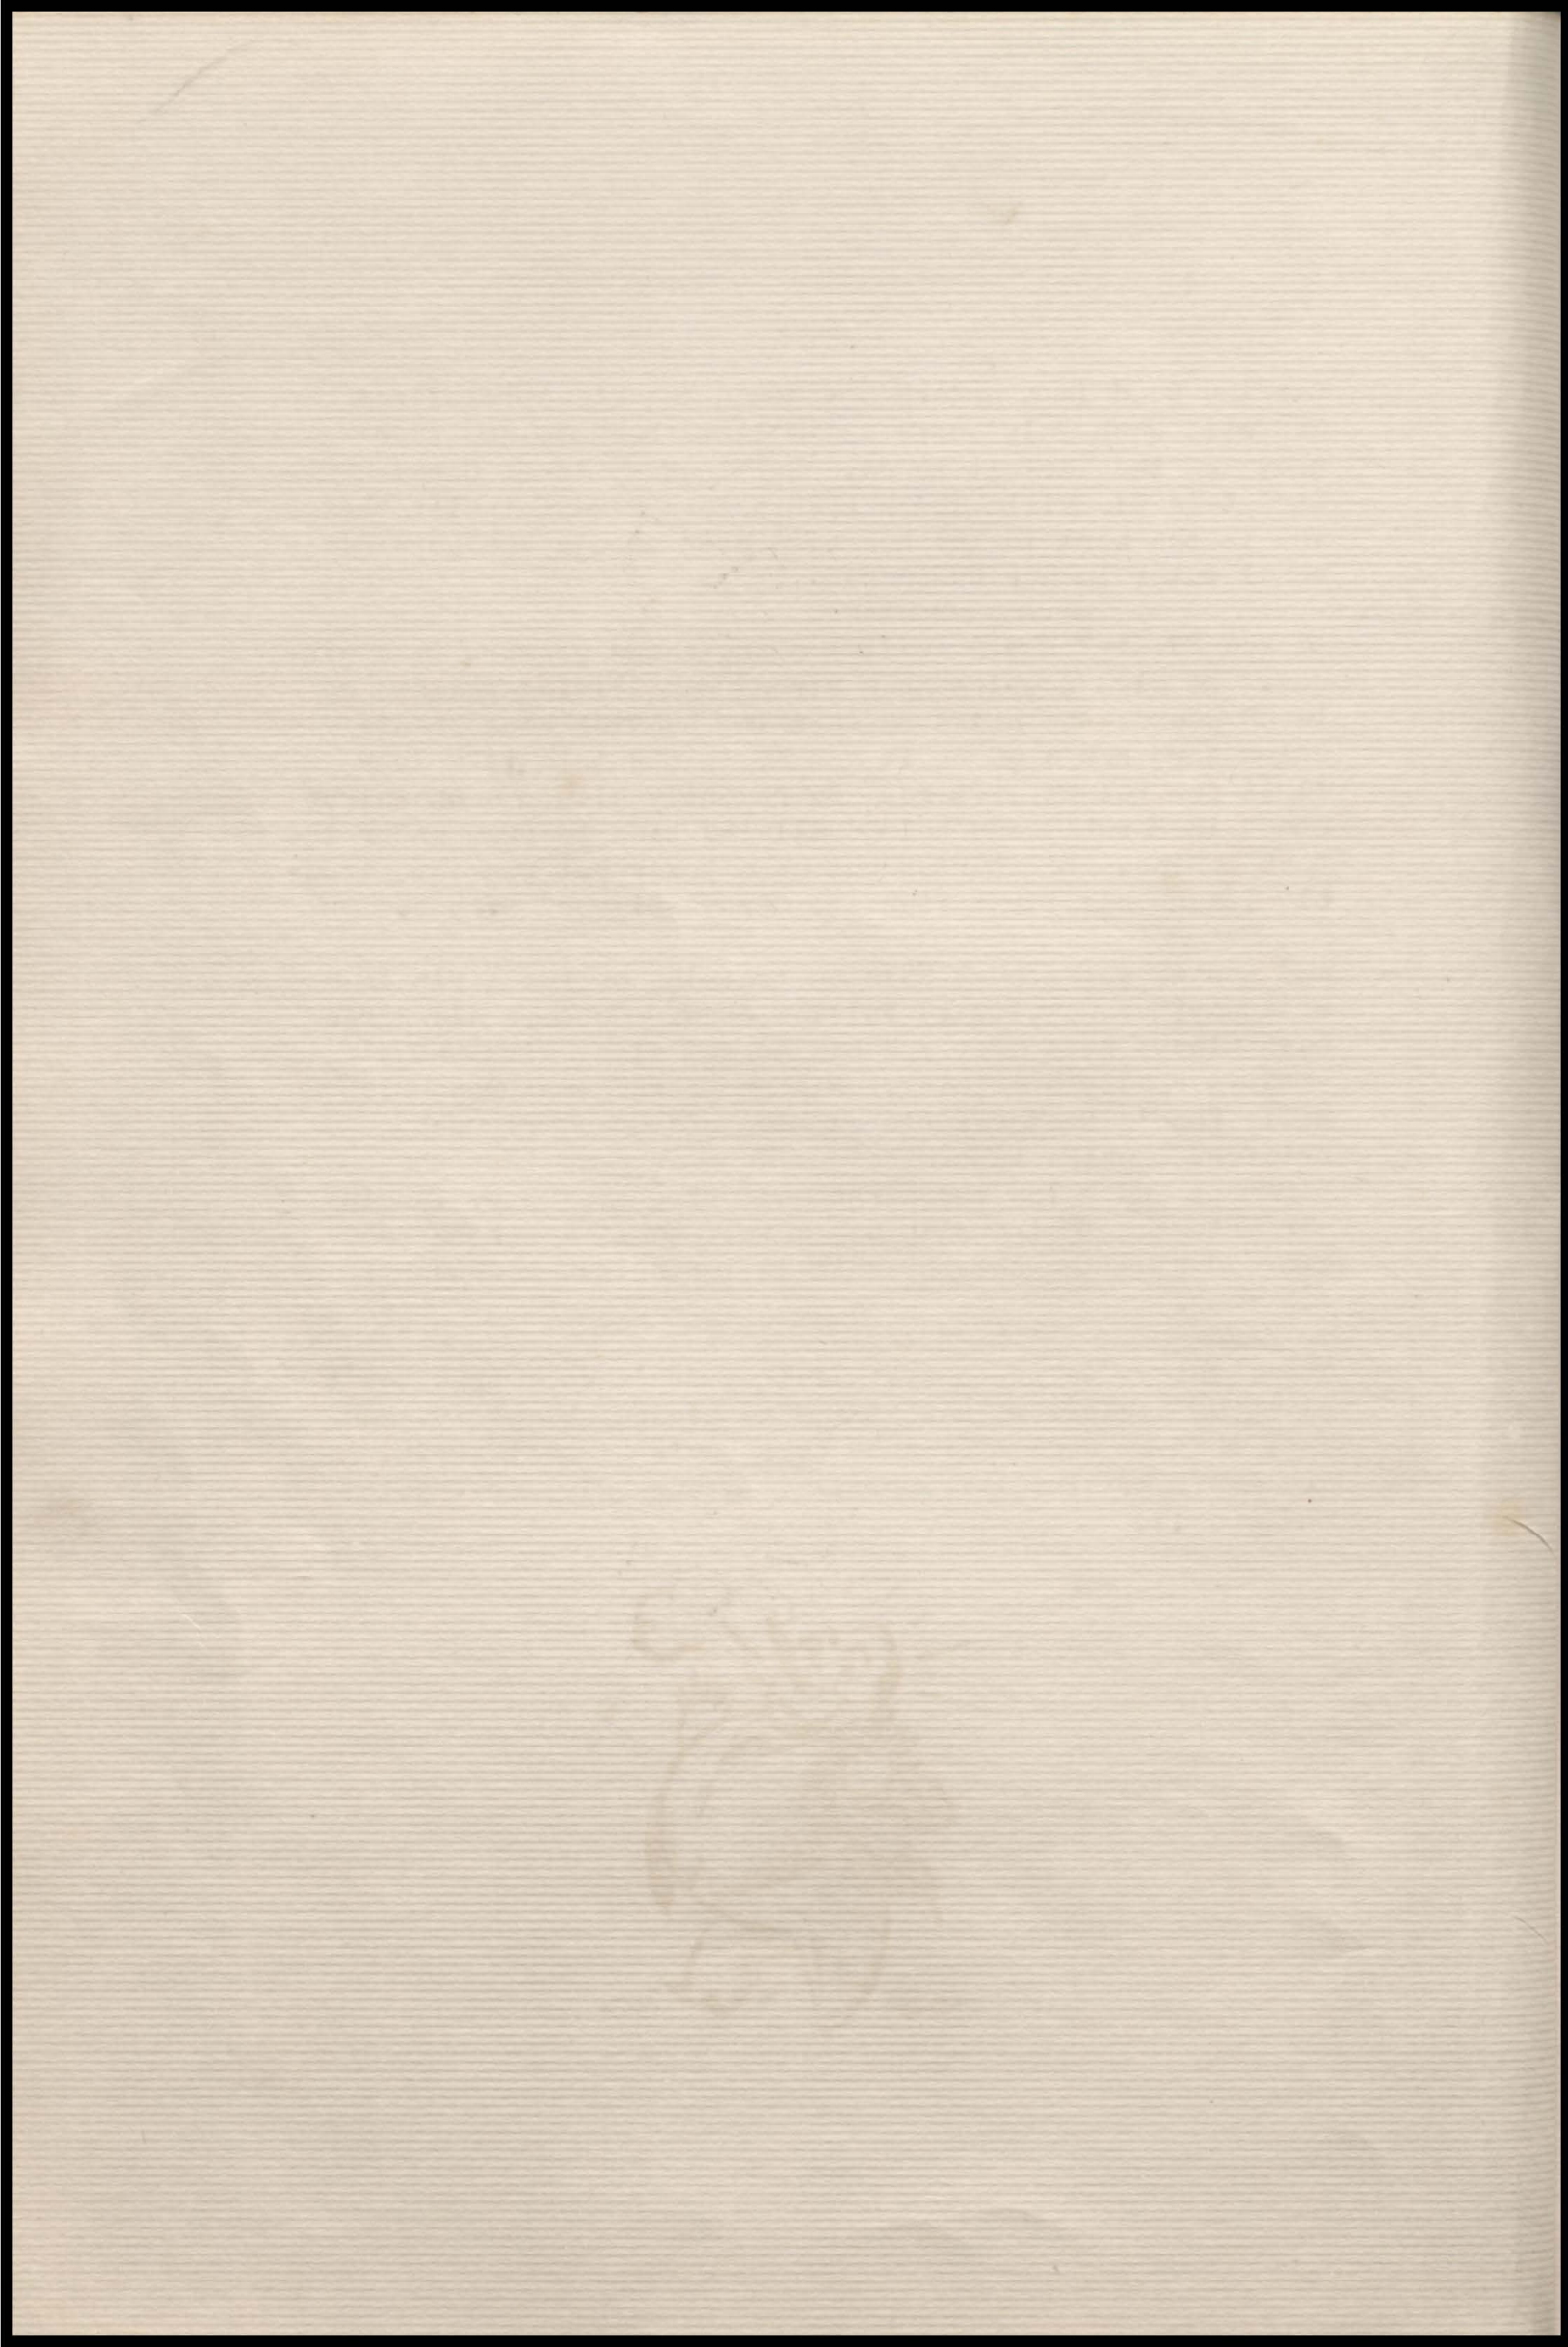

Dorothy Reed is a modern washwoman but she specializes and will wash only cuffs and collars because she says they are the easiest to do. Her laundry is on Canal Street in Clemville and her customers always insist that she is the best in the business even though she uses plain canal water in her business

We see "Tooky" Robin selling peanuts and popcorn in a circus. He also doubles as a strong man lifting weights up to 50 pounds--he balks on anything heavier because his union card has a 50 on it and he thinks this is a load limit for weight lifters. He recently played a one-night stand in Markham and helped all the kids in free under the back canvas. He started out as a boxer but ran into trouble losing his first fight to "Grave-Digger" Graves.

And now we see Johnny Ralston training chorus girls in a Broadway (Markham, Texas) Follies Show. He says all girls have always been easy for him to get along with and his show is really something. His shows somewhat resemble Billy Rose's best efforts but the costumes are much briefer. During intermissions he goes down into the basement and helps the air-conditioning system by fanning air into the theatre with his ears. He is never on the stage during the show as this is impossible because of his feet.

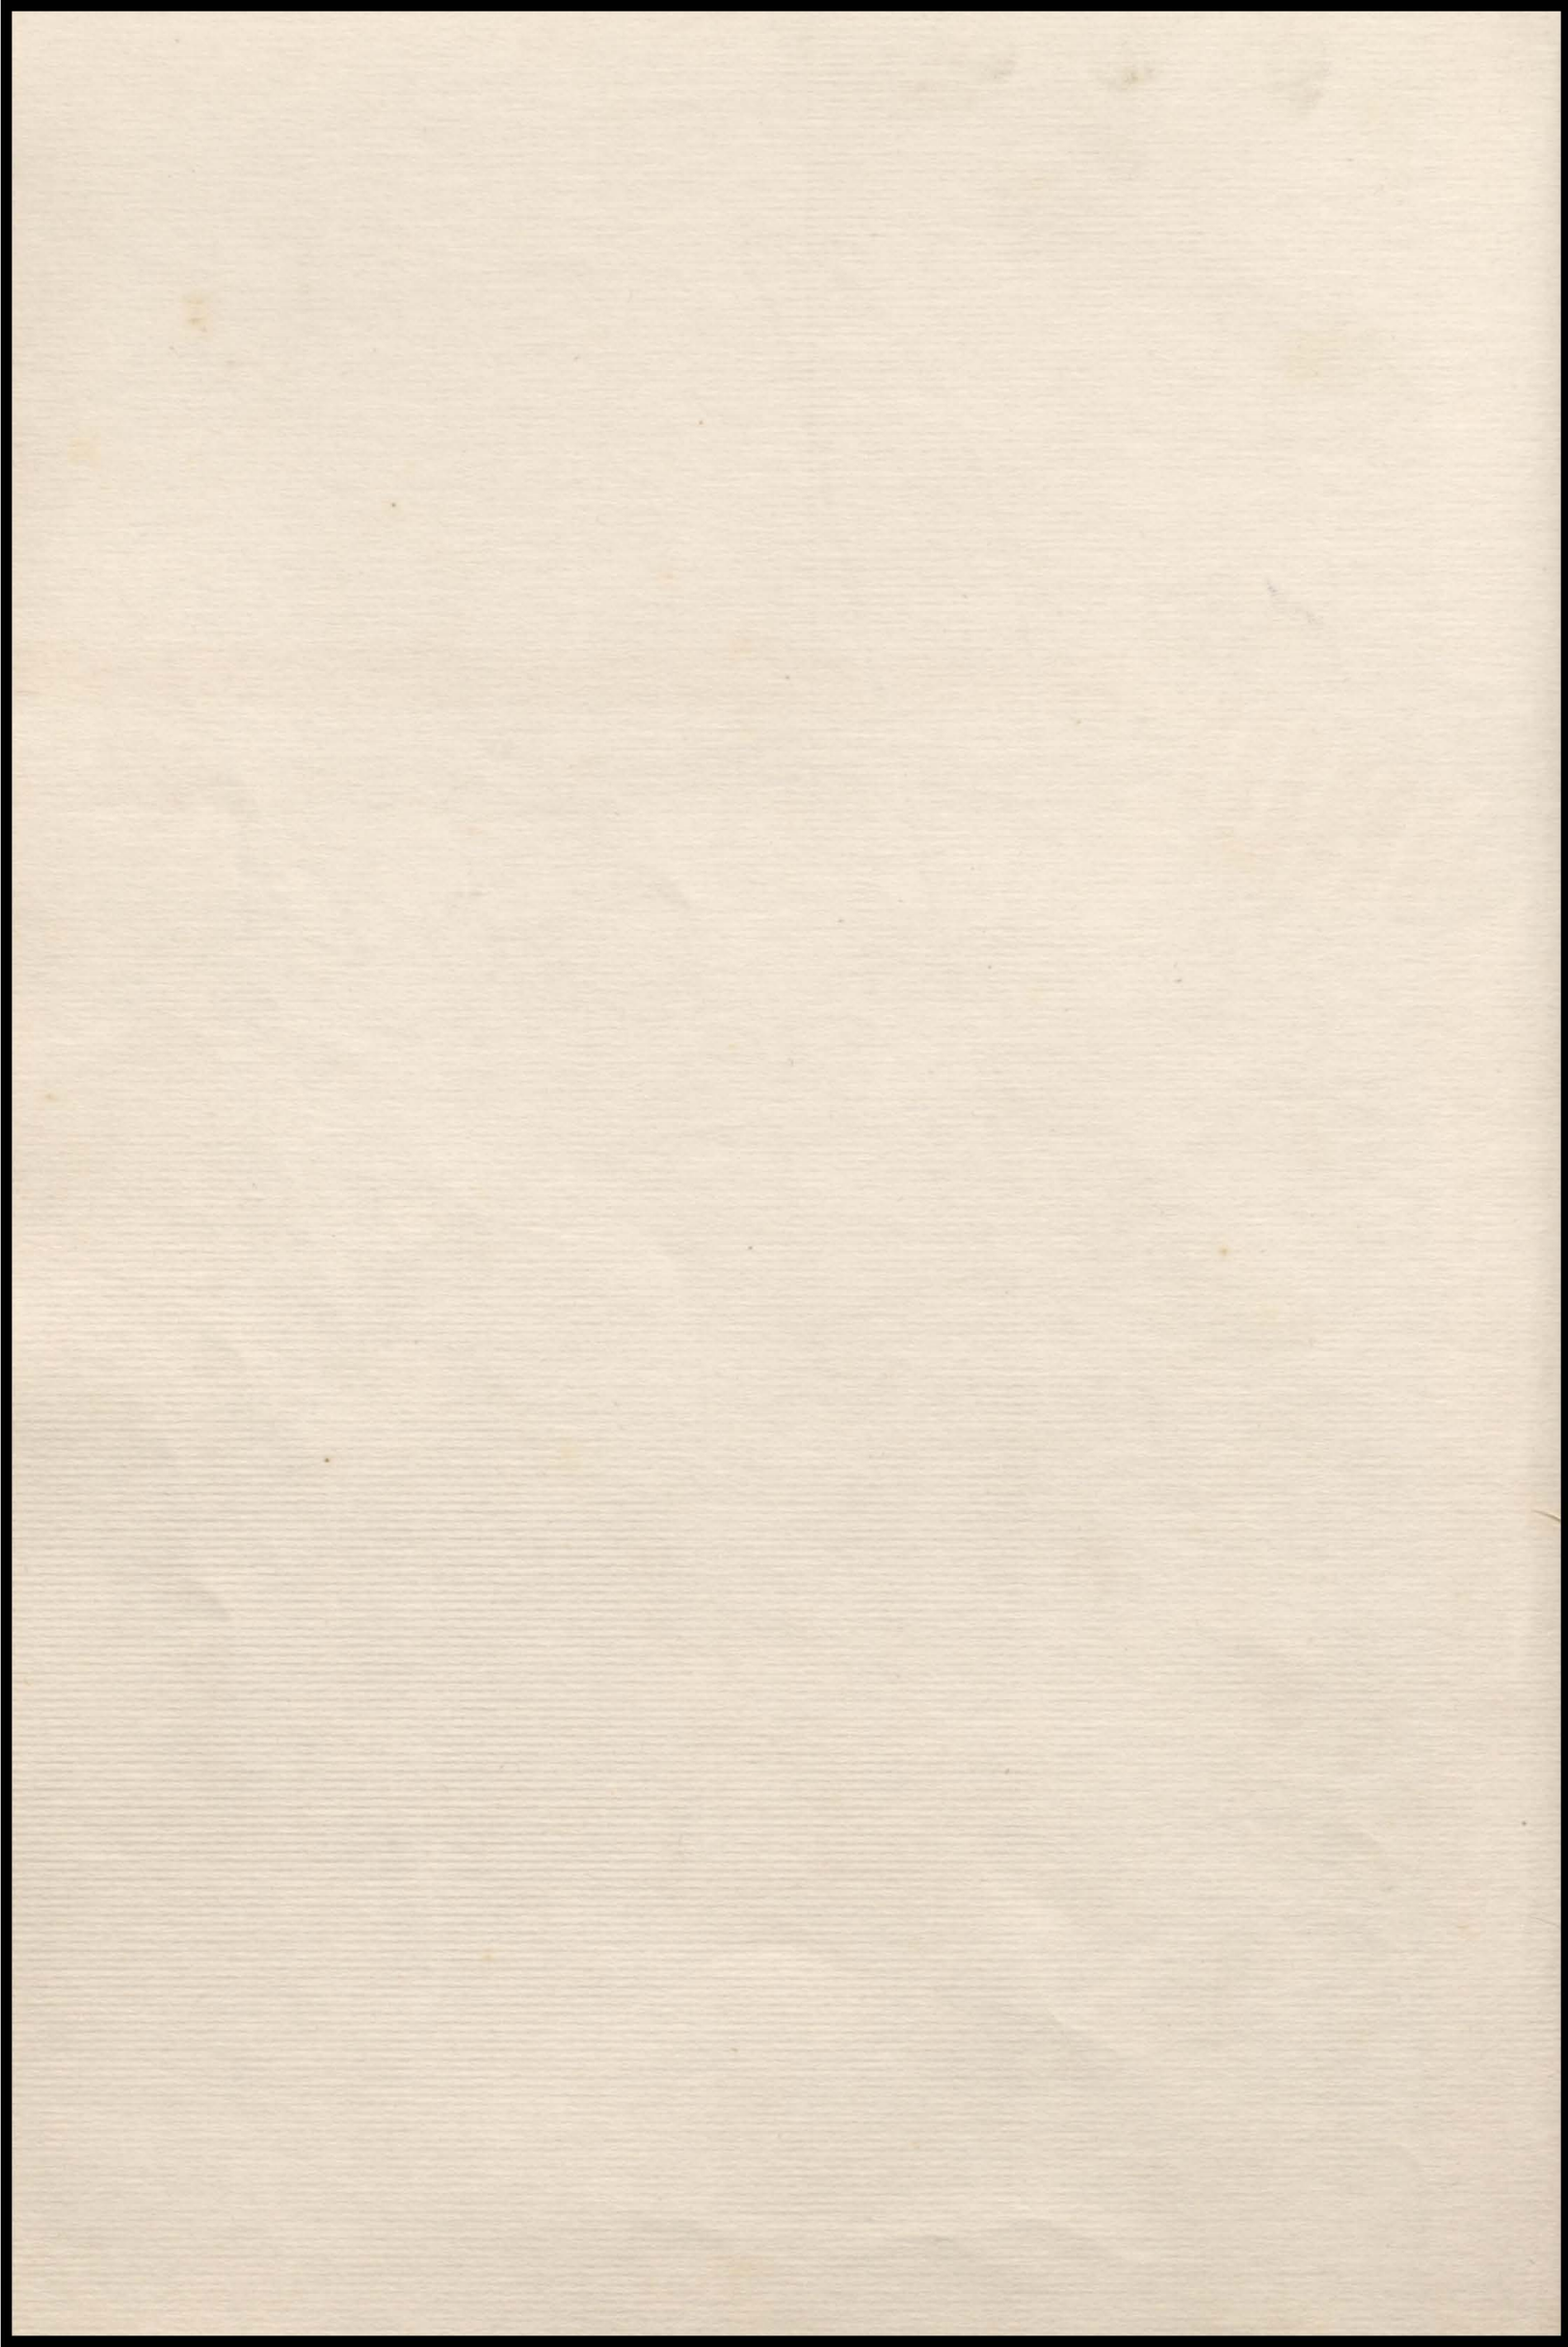

These things we prophesy. If they don't come true don't blame us because we have tried to please everybody. We feel that we have expressed everyone's highest ambitions and desires. For the impatient we can only say - wait and see !!!

Plans

LET'S GO!

After the war the first thing to be bought is a GRUEN watch for Joe Johnson. Next we get new dictionaries for Prof. Robert E. Black. Then a new equipment room for M. H. S. boys for a show and entertainment place, grandstands for the football field.

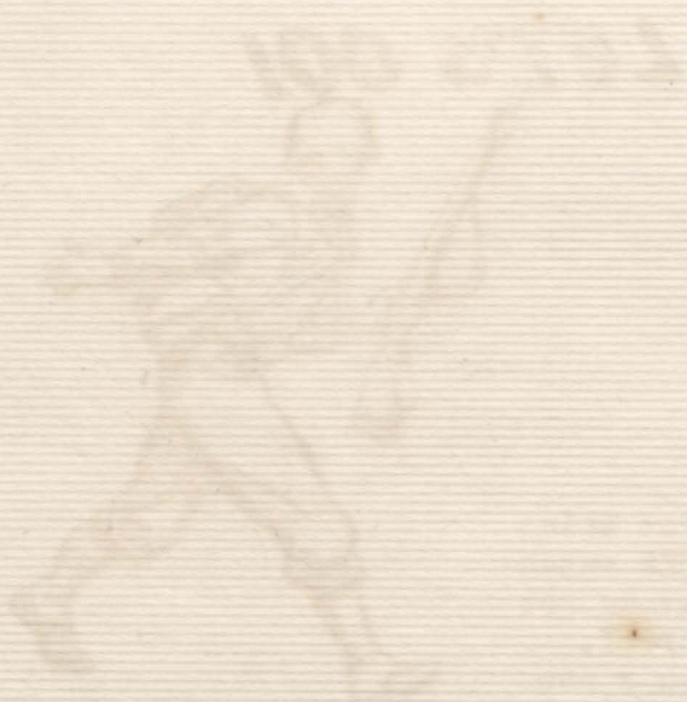

Also someone that will do some work on next year's Annual staff, -- a new shoot-gun for Clara Babb's dad, remodel job on Clarence's car, For Jack, a girl with a drape shape, a new bracelet for Willis and Homer, -- a new kind of hair restorer for Prof. Hanson.

And don't forget -- new straight pins for "Tooky," -- more healthy sparring partners for K. O. Keith, new records for the students of Markham School, new jokes for everybody, no rules, more soft-back erasers, more chalk, more football and basketball games.

Also, marriage licences for all of the couples that have up a case (or think they have) at "Dear Old M. H. S."

And don't forget -- a MAN -- any age, any size, and any kind of looks -- for -- you know who!! Clara Babb

And most important of all - a brass spittoon for Jack Hoard with his initials engraved thereon -- for his own exclusive use.

Faint, illegible text, possibly a title or header, located in the upper right quadrant of the page. The text is mirrored or bleed-through from the reverse side of the paper.

Multiple paragraphs of extremely faint, illegible text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The text is arranged in a columnar fashion on the right side of the page.

(Season still in progress)

JUNIORS won first place trophy at Conference meet at Blessing by defeating Crescent 10 - 2; and Ganado 6 - 5, in 10 innings.

Track

THE MARKHAM HIGH school track team had a good year in track considering the inexperience of the boys. The school did not have a track team last year due to war time difficulties. The Mustangs finished third with eight schools competing at the Conference Meet which was held at Boling. Two fine teams from Crescent and Ganado took first and second place.
