The Last of the Mighty Fighting Hornets of PJHS Standing L-R: Paula Bowers, Tim Bray, Frank Solis, Oscar Garcia, Kevin Haynes, Larry Diaz, Greg Seaman, John Brooks; Kneeling: Debbie Haskins, Helen Juneck, Albert Saenz, Patricia Flores, Johnnie Barefield.

These students are representative Freshman Hornets who lettered in at least three of the many sports now offered at PJHS (football, basketball, track, volleyball, tennis, and golf) to both boys and girls.

This tribute is to all the c3000 students that have passed through the doors of Palacios Junior High School and become a "Fighting Hornet." They have many reasons to be proud to have been a member of the Hornet teams or a Hornet supporter.

The Hornet, as a mascot for PJHS, came into being in May 1949. The "Hornet" name was recommended by a committee comprised of all lettermen of all sports of the 1948-49 school year. This was a great honor for them as well as for their coach, George Holst, who had led them to be "Champs '49."

At this time, May 1949, the colors were changed from blue and grey to blue and white. Thus the Blue Hornet flourished with many victories until spring of 1965. Then, chameleon like, the Hornet emerged wearing colors of red and white.

May 1979. Thirty years of winning more than losing, the Fighting Hornet is to be laid to rest. The Fighting Hornet will always be thought of with fond memories. The new mascot, a Sandshark, will have a tough job trying to keep up the good name left by the "FIGHTING HORNET."
