A.W. Tozer once said, "It is not what a man does that determines whether his work is sacred or secular, it is why he does it." Although my staff and I produced this yearbook, we did it for you. It was our goal to provide you with a book that you'll enjoy now and use as a history or memory book later.

Keep in mind that the difference between ordinary and extraordinary is the little extra that is added. We've incorporated many new topics and even added an index in this volume. However, we kept the traditional things -- we just used John D. Rockefeller, Jr.'s secret to success and covered the common topics uncommonly well.

Thank you PHS for allowing me the opportunity to be a part of the Ebb Tide production for the past two years. It has been an exciting experience that I will never forget. Thank you Mrs. Cunningham and staff members for your hard work throughout the year.

Future graduates remember "Life is a coin. You can spend it any way you wish, but you can spend it only once." (Lillian Dickson). If you don't stand for something, you will fall for anything. As my class motto states, "Don't go where the path leads. Instead, go where there is no path and leave a trail."

Best Wishes,

Mary Lynn Mosier

All the students at PHS were rewarded with an ice cream social for their cooperation with the new dress code requirement of tucking in shirt tails. Sophomores Stephanie Rohan, Julie Riccio, Marisa Vaquez, Tanya McKissick, Kristin Savage, and Ollie Vargus are enjoying their reward.

These students were the statistics as they represented the number of teens that die daily from drugs and alcohol. This was done during Red Ribbon Week in an effort to emphasize the effects of drugs.

Student Life

Cut to the Action

Although most of us do not like to admit it, one of the important things in a student's life should be his or her academics. Sophomore Dung Nguyen is displaying her diligence by working out her geometry assignment.

Daily the hallway is filled with out-going, eager students rushing from class to class during their five minute breaks.

Throughout the year PHS students are motivated by various speakers. This "commando" speaker proved that anything is possible when there is 110% determination behind it. He blew up and popped a hot water bottle with his own hot air.

Weekends and Hangouts

of a teen

What activities are Palacios High School students involved in on the weekends? Where are their usual hangouts?

Jude Garcia and Henry Rojas enjoy spending time with friends, while Jess Huddleston and James Roy hold down part-time jobs. Johnathon Sample and Timmy Dinh play basketball with their friends when they have spare time. Mark Morales visits the bowling alley and movie theater in Bay City on a regular basis. In addition, Wade Kubecka and Kristy Borwn enjoy attending dances.

The local teen hangouts include Sonic, Hendersen Square, and the south bayshore. However, this year the city council instated a teen curfew prohibiting youths under the age of 17 from staying out past 11:00 PM on school nights and 12:00 AM on weekends.

PHS students have a wide variety of interests, yet everyone definitely enjoys their time away from the campus.

Mary Lynn Mosier waves to the crowd along the square in Bay City during their lighted Christmas parade. She was crowned the 1995 Miss Palacios on November 12, 1994. The annual pageant is sponsored by the Palacios Rotary Club. Mary Lynn has represented the City By The Sea by participating in many local and out-of-town parades on the weekends.

Seniors Kristy Brown, Paul Remlinger, Steve Gullett, Melanie Lamorie, Jacob Cuellar, Jolene Dunn, and Lee Ann Long are hanging out in the country.

Wade Kubecka, Tanya Aoughsten, Ann Long are at Hendersen Square after a senior party. Steve Gullett, Emily Riccio, and Lee

The seniors who took a little trip to Astroworld in Houston, TX on an exemption day loop through the sky on the Looping Starship ride.

Senior Gary Hafernick roller blades through Henderson Square and leaps over the cement wall to the Sonic parking lot.

Jason Gibson, Brandon Rupert, Tanya Youngblood, Shawn Johnson, and Michael Barker are getting muddy but having lots of fun.

Michelle Morales rides down Main Street in the annual Valentine Parade. It is obvious that she was sponsored by the Palacios Golf Association for the Harmonie Club Valentine Sweetheart Pageant. Senior Kristy Brown who was sponsored by Palacios Sporting Goods received the most votes that weekend for Valentine Sweetheart. Garrie Jean Hunter was the first runner-up and D'Ann Bowers was second runner-up.

HARD CORE LABOR

By: Tanya Youngblood

Teenagers need money! The Multiple Occupational Cooperative Training Program (M.O.C.T.) provides students with an opportunity to work part-time while attending school. The program, which is available only to seniors, gives participants a vast amount of information on how to get a job, how to keep a job, and what to do and expect once employed through classroom instruction as well as on the job training. Students also learn to manage their money.

The program gives students a chance to get a job that will allow them to make money to fulfill their needs and wants, at the same time receiving high school course credit.

While M.O.C.T. attracts many students, others find after school and week-end jobs not associated with school. You will find them working at local restaurants, grocery stores, on the home farm or other family businesses.

Seniors need money! The senior year is usually crammed with wants, needs, and necessities that have to be purchased. "I just want to get away from home...out of the house," said Felicia Marroquin, M.O.C.T. employee of Palacios Pharmacy. Humberto Perez, employee of Dependable Motor Auto Parts said, "I have bills to pay."

Palacios Sporting Goods employee Kristy Brown is finishing out the books to close up for the day.

Humberto (Beto) Perez searches the computer for stock data at Dependable Motor Parts.

Stocking money saver items at PGI is Steve Gullett. He said he'd "rather be some place else..." but he "needs the money."

Kasey Harris works as a sacker and stocker at PGI part time. Here he stocks jelly.

Karen DeLeon rings up a customer at PGI as Ricky Jordan sacks their items.

Senior Tanya Youngblood carries out her duties as a horticulturist at the Palacios Floral Shop on Main Street.

Senior Melanie Lamorie struts in from carrying out a customer's groceries. She too is a part-time employee at PGI.

HOMECOMING

Savoring Tradition

"When I woke up on the morning of Homecoming, I thought of how I would walk out onto the field with Coach Todd, my heels would sink into the ground and I would fall flat on my face," said Senior Melanie Lamorie. Melanie's worst nightmare did not happen. In fact, Melanie was crowned the new homecoming queen. Melanie said, "Receiving the honor of being crowned 1994 Homecoming Queen is a dream come true."

The crowning of the queen was the highlight of the evening, but Melanie was not the only one thinking of homecoming that morning. "I hope we stay together in the dance at the pep rally and the Sharks win the game tonight," said senior cheerleader Jolene Dunn.

The cheerleaders' dance was not the only thing that went well at the pep rally; the drill team's routine was great as well. Everyone, including the band, was hyped. A new event, a "Mr. Cool" contest, was introduced by the National Honor Society. A contestant from each grade was submerged in a pool of cold water as ice was dumped on them every few seconds. Teeth chattering and shivering from the ice and cold water, the four "cool cats" were all pronounced winners.

"...all for the Sharks stand up and holler," yelled the varsity cheerleaders. At the half of the homecoming game the Leopards were up by 11 points. The Sharks came tearing through this year's winning crusher, made by the seniors, to begin the second half. In the last three minutes of the game, the Sharks made a breakthrough when junior Johnny Kaucher scored on a pass from junior Darren Okruhlik, making the score 18 to 15. However, the Van Vleck Leopards defeated the Sharks 24 to 15 and Homecoming came to an end.

With a gain of three yards Chris Byrd is tripped up short of a first down. Leopards Derriest Alexander, Taron Jackson, and Jonthan Times were in hot pursuit of the Shark offense.

Student Council representatives Jaye Chavez, Matthew Bates, Jenny Stuhrenberg, and Brandi Duran presented Melanie Lamorie with a plaque and bouquet after she was crowned.

"Receiving the honor of being named Palacios High School Homecoming Queen is a privilege that I accept proudly. Homecoming '94 will always hold a special memory in my heart. THANK YOU P.H.S."

*Love ya lots,
Melanie Lamorie*

Anxious about Homecoming, Sr. Kristy Brown and Fr. Kelly Kurtz discuss their plans for after the game as they admire each others mums.

Wade Kubecka and Patrick Kacer empty a full chest of ice on the Mr. Cool candidates Samuel Burnes (Soph.), Ricky Jordan (Jr.), Henry Rojas (Fr.), and Gary Hafernick (Sr.). NHS members Mary Lynn Mosier, Andrea Girndt, and Hien Nguyen monitor the competition. Band and drill team members join the student body in cheering on their class representative. The competition lasted throughout the entire pep rally.

D'Ann Bowers, Tanya Aoughsten, Melanie Lamorie, and Kristy Brown proudly represented the Senior Class of '95. Andrea Girndt (Jr.), Dora Zepeda (Soph.), and Lorainne Lopez (Fr.) were also in the court.

Hold On To The Night

Juniors plan, decorate, and coordinate the prom each year. This year was expected to be a low ranking year by the seniors. However, the juniors turned up a big surprise when the evening of April 22 rolled around. Parents and teachers helped them that morning and afternoon prepare the recreation center for the evening's excitement. The chosen colors were purple, blue, and silver. John David Photography was there to take pictures. Despite the low expectations, they worked hard to make it a success -- even the restrooms were decorated.

Before the dance many students went out of town to eat dinner. Following the dance some went home, most gathered at friends houses or went out. With the wide variety of festivities, most everyone enjoyed the evening.

Following the dance Jude Garcia, Nancy Dunseth, Brandi Riha, Mark Morales, and many of their friends went to the Bay City Whataburger to hang out and get a bite to eat.

Santiago Rodriguez makes his way to the dance floor and seems to be having a good time.

Hang Nguyen, Jimmy Tran, Linda Nguyen, Quang Hoang, and Andrea Girndt put the finishing touches on the theme display and discuss how they will secure it on the wall.

Getting everyone in a group shot is a chore for any photographer that has these guys and girls to deal with!

Preparing the picture scene are Jude Garcia, Darren Okruhlik, Merry Tran, Johnathan Sample, Timmy Dinh, and Garrie Jean Hunter.

After dinner in Port O'Connor Phyllis Cunningham tried her hands as a beautician to touch up Kyndell Colura's hair before arriving at the dance.

Tanya Aoughsten and Mark Morales were voted Prom Queen and King. Following tradition they started a dance and then were joined by everyone else.

Juniors Jude Garcia, Nancy Dunseth, Brandi Riha, Annette Constancio, Kyndell Colura, Michelle Morales, Andrea Girndt, Phyllis Cunningham, and Stephanie Gomez enjoyed dinner at Clark's Seafood on the Intercoastal Canal in Port O'Connor before the dance.

Although it wasn't Halloween, Phyllis Cunningham, Kyndell Colura, and Brandi Riha dressed up in garbage bags to shield off the rain.

KID PARTY

by Melanie Lamorie

F, G, H, I, J, K,
L, M, N, O, P,
Q, R, S, T, U,
V, W, X, Y, Z!

The Methodist Senior Kid Party was a moment in time to be a kid again, and each Senior took advantage of that hour. The night was filled with all sorts of goodies for the "kids." All the "kids" practice their writing skills by printing their names on colored tags. To satisfy their growling stomachs, each "kid" was fed a kiddie meal of chicken nuggets.

PHS superintendent,

Mr. Okruhlik, even joined in the fun by reading the seniors a Dr. Sues story about the ways of life. After story time the "kids" were entertained in "odd" games, such as "pencil in the bottle," "rolling the tator," and "no sight." Fun describes it all.

The last moments of the party were lighting candles and singing the PHS Alma Mater all together as the Class of '95!!!

Mickey Mouse kid Paul Remlinger attempts to "roll the tator" but he was still quite a ways from the pins.

Van and Melanie compete in "No Sight," while other "kids" cheer.

Valisha Roy questions Alex Acosta and Humberto Perez to see if they fit any of the characteristics left on her game board. Although neither drove a bug, Alex signed as an athlete.

After sitting the "kids" down in a quite circle, Superintendent, Okruhlik attempts to read a Dr. Sues story.

Kids will be kids -- there will always be bullies as Jacob Cuellar and Jarrid Abraham showed Mary Lynn Moiser after the Kid Party at Henderson.

The Chicago Gang, Kristy Brown, LeeAnn Long, and Alta Ellis sit back and drink a few (IBC) before they begin their town drawing.

After running through the town on a Scavenger Hunt, the New Orleans Gang came in first place, coming back with four out of five clues.

It's a real Bummer! HOBO PARTY

Bums, Bums, and more Bums was the theme of the Hobo Party given by the Presbyterian Church. Every Senior wore their best rags and fixed their hair just right! After the Seniors strutted their stuff for the judging of the best costume, they finished drawing their "gang" hometown. Then it was off for the scavenger hunt. All of the Seniors were in groups of five, and each group was a "gang." They took off down streets and highways, running and walking, trying to read and figure out clues. In the end the New Orleans Gang won the Scavenger Hunt. They were awarded Igloo thermoses. The judging of the best hobo was next. Suzanne Puetes and Michael Michalik were awarded first place, and Julie Valcik and Santiago Rodriguez were awarded second place.

Rev. Blanton gave the Seniors a motivational talk about the past, present, and future. Each Senior was attentive.

At the closing the hobo party the Seniors linked arms and sang the Alma Mater!

Michael Michalik is all smiles after winning the title of being named the best dressed Hobo of the party.

Suzanne Puetes concentrates really hard on drawing her home town, Dallas, while the rest of the gang admires the prizes for first place.

Tanya Aoughsten and Julie Valcik model their best rags for the judges, and still manage to hold a smile.

MEXICAN PARTY

by Melanie Lamorie

Los "Seniors" de 1995.

The Mexican Party was held by the Catholic Church. All the Seniors were welcomed by signing their names and receiving a themed tag to designate their group. They also were given challenging toys to past the time. Before the games began, the Seniors had to sing the annual song, "La Cucaracha." Everyone had a blast! Then all of the Seniors were divided into groups and got ready to play games. The Cactus team took the title away for each game, but every team got a prize.

At the closing of the party there was a challenge, the pinata. ----- finally broke it, and all the Seniors went flying for the candy. Then the Seniors locked arms and made a big circle in the CCD Hall. They all joined together and sang the Alma Mater.

David Tran and Carmen Diaz were awarded with best dressed Mexican boy and girl.

The Seniors are getting ready to sing "La Cucaracha." I.J. Polk, one of the many Seniors, cannot wait to begin.

Jolene Dunn is initiated as captian of her team by being tricked into thinking that Mrs. Hester is flashing the boxers that she will have to wear.

Although Wesley did not come dressed in a costume, he used his table decorations to make one.

Otilio Guillen kneels down to the floor after being spun around three times and attempts to hit the pinata.

Natalie Rodriguez defends her team's victory insisting they won fair in square.

Wade Kubecka, Wesley Hutto, and Gary Hafernick form their next plan of attack for victory.

Amy Hoang takes her turn with the bat. After going around it ten times, she attempted to make a straight dash for the wall, but was so dizzy she ended up running into an adjoining wall and dropping to the floor.

Kathy Tran, Melissa Tran, Amy Hoang, Van Vo, and Kim Tran make their way to the cattle guard gate with their party favors.

Santiago Rodriguez's skates came right out from under him leaving him face down on the court.

Julie Valcik attempts to pass the puck before Kevin Harvey can block her shot.

Jolene Dunn, Melanie Lamorie, Marroquin, and Lee Ann Long the barbeque and ice cream.

Gary Hafernick races down the court for victory with Santiago Rodriguez in his sheet.

Mary Lynn Mosier is dressed and ready for the Western round-up.

WESTERN PARTY

"Yee-Hah," exclaimed the senior cowboys and cowgirls at the Baptist Western Party. They came in cars and trucks, wore boots, spurs and cowboy hats. Each senior had to sign in and go to the hay-stack where tables were set up with jugs of candy. Not having to kill their own food, they lined up in the chow line for some great grub.

After stuffing their faces, they lined up for games. The first game played was "Hitting the Can." The next game, "Run Around the Bat," put many dizzy cowboys and cowgirls on the floor before they even started to run. "Run with a Sheet," was the last game. Many cowgirls and cowboys were thrown into walls or flipped once or twice, while being pulled on sheets.

The last round-up was spent and roller skating. The western crew even managed to get their Ram Rod (Mr. Joyce) to but on roller skates. Before they said "Adios," they huddled up to sing the Alma Mater had have a prayer.

Project Celebration

After a night full of dancing, gambling, and swimming, Alta Ellis proves that Seniors are not "Energizer Bunnies."

Santiago Rodriguez, Alex Acosta, Shane Adkins, Otilio Guillen, and I.J. Polk cheer Humberto Perez on as he rolls the lucky dice to win the jack-pot.

The Seniors mobbed the Mr. Gatti's pizzas delivered to the cafeteria. Not only did they have seconds--they went for thirds, fourths, and even fifths.

Gary Hafernick and Wade Kubecka combined their Casino Night winnings giving them over $1,000. They bid on the first secret prize and won a stereo worth thirty dollars.

Blackjack

Slapping and jumping over one another was what had to be done to reach the goal of four-court volleyball, and that was to get the ball to one of the other sides successfully.

LeeAnn Long, Felicia Marroquin, Tanya Youngblood, Jolene and Lisa Dunn concentrate hard on where to place their chips on the Blackjack table.

After a night full of gambling, the Seniors make way to the tables to turn in their chips for their winnings, so they can bid on the ten secret prizes.

Maria Correa was one of all the Seniors who was able to pick the cooler of their choice filled with either cokes, calling cards, cards, money, and etc.

What's New at PHS

This year at PHS there were a number of changes around the campus. Whether it was new rules to be followed, new administrators to listen to, or new buildings to learn in, all have experienced these changes in one way or another.

Two new faces at PHS this year were our Principal, Mr. Joyce, and our Assistant Principal, Mr. Todd. Another big change for PHS students was the new dress code. As a reward for the following new rules, the student body was treated to a Blue-Bell ice cream party.

One of the most noticeable changes was the new science building. All PHS students watched construction for many months and finally saw it finished in April. Also, the addition to the cafeteria was enjoyed by all.

Two of the new math lab students, Clifton Alderman and Matt Wilkins, experienced hands on learning while measuring objects on campus.

Coach Kremling and Mr. Miller help dish out ice cream to the PHS students for doing a great job in conforming to the new rule of tucking in shirt tails.

Jason O'Connor, Michael Farmer, J.W. Jenkins, Ruben Lopez, and Matt Wilkins are just a few of the students who were able to walk into the new science building on April 18, 1995.

Mark Morales proudly displays the Shark he drew in the newly remodeled cafeteria. His artistic ability, along with Mrs. Beck's and Mrs. Savage's talent, made this possible.

Principal Richard Joyce and Assistant Principal J. E. Todd.

At the beginning of football season, the Athletic Booster Club purchased new goal posts for the Palacios Shark football stadium.

PHS Spirit

"We've got spirit yes we do, We've got spirit how 'bout you?" Even through the summer, Palacios High School is full of spirit. Working long hard hours, the Varsity cheerleaders decorated the halls and lockers, painted crashers and attended camp.

The band and Sharky's Angels also worked very hard to make a great success out of the pep rallies and half-time shows.

This year there were many spirit competitions. A Mr. and Miss Irresistible contest was the all-time high. This was a contest between the opposite sexes—you could not talk to one another without having to give them your heart, which you wore around your neck.

Though PHS is only a small school, the spirit shines through each and everyday! GO BIG RED!

After some confusion during the band's Senior half-time show, the Se-

Some say three's a crowd, well not to these folks, they're just having a good ole time at a football game. Jude Garcia, Nancy Dunseth, and Phyllis Cunningham show their spirit.

Gotta love that athletics class. Juniors, Jaye Chavez and Kyndell Colura are relieved that they only have one year left.

poured from the bodies of the volleyball team as they practiced for the first time in the summer. After their hard practice, they were exhausted, yet excited anticipating their first match against Tidehaven in a few days.

This was the start of the Sharkettes' quest for victories they would attain during the season. The varsity team consisted of sophomores, juniors, and only one senior, Angela Rocha. As the only senior, Angela commented on the chemistry among the players. "This is a new varsity team, and I think we are off to a good start," she said. Since this was the first time the players actually played together, their 9-16 over-all record made for a good season. As a team they never gave up and played with a great deal of heart.

Injuries Cripple Season

A new season brings thoughts of a winning record and a district championship. Excitement mounted as the Sharks anticipated their first game of the season. The Sharks were ready to go full force, but fate had something different in mind. Before the season even started senior quarterback, Mark Kubecka, went down with an injury that kept him out for the entire season. The Sharks were still determined to make this a great season. However, other key players would fall to injuries as the season progressed.

When the last game was finished, the Shark's record stood at 0 and 10. However, the Fighting Sharks showed a great deal of effort and desire throughout the year; they never gave up no matter what the score, and many young players gained experience that will be valuable for the upcoming season.

A year to remember

CHEERLEADERS

The Palacios High School cheerleaders and mascots started their season with fundraisers to pay for uniforms and camp. They sold key chains and had an auction/supper to raise money for summer camp. They began preparing for UCA camp at SWTSU. Once in San Marcos, the cheerleaders worked continuously all four days. They walked away with numerous blue and gold ribbons, four spirit sticks, and memories that will never be forgotten. The J.V. Cheerleaders received the Most Improved Squad trophy, and the Varsity Cheerleaders received a superior squad trophy.

In August the P.H.S. Cheerleaders sponsored their traditional mini-cheerleader camp. Then they began decorating the halls for the opening of school and the upcoming football season. Many long hours were spent getting halls and lockers ready, and there were still those practice sessions in preparation for the upcoming seasons.

Through football and basketball seasons, the cheerleaders were found on the sidelines cheering on Palacios teams.

This was a very memorable year for the Varsity cheerleaders. The squad consisted of six seniors, one junior, and one sophomore. Throughout the season they formed friendships that will be cherished forever.

Cheerleaders never stop having fun even after those tiresome days at camp. Roommates Melanie Lamorie, Jolene Dunn, Sarah Jessup, and Rachel Glenn certainly had their share of camp fun!

DRILL TEAM

"Camp is one week away and we need to learn a new dance and perfect it," said Junior Garrie Hunter. That is how the drill team started off the summer. After pulling together and getting the routine ready, the team was on their way to camp.

The first night of camp brought so many aches and pains they wondered if they had made a mistake in coming. After a week the muscles were really aching. However, the experience gained was well worth the effort because they were now better prepared to take on the responsibilities of being on the team.

The work at camp seemed like nothing compared to the work that awaited them when they returned home. There were halls and lockers to decorate, dance and flag routines to learn, and pep rally and half-time shows to get ready.

The season was extended for the "Angels" because the Sharks won district in basketball. Performing at the district championship game was a nice bonus for the team.

After a long day at camp practice, the drill team sits down for a good meal.

No summer would be complete without those long, hot days decorating lockers before the opening of the school year.

Running Endless Miles

The Cross Country team came back once again to strive for their goal as District Champs. Dedication, sacrifice, and desire are essential elements to succeed in a race. The following poem expresses the mind of a runner.

The Runner's High
by Jen Van Horn, Runner

It is no longer a sport,
No longer just a game.
It has become a way of life.

Every breath is a stride,
Every heartbeat a string of silence.

It is a compulsion for glory,
To go through the torment,

To last through the waiting,
To gain that one moment
Alone with myself.

And only the ones
Who have already gone
Can truly understand.
And only the few
Who chance to stive
Can know the experience.
To hear nothing but breath
To feel nothing but heartbeat,
To feel so much like hell,
Running so close to heaven.

This is the runner's high.
This is the feeling I live for.
This is the goal I strive toward.

If my chance disappears,
Part of my life would end.

submitted by Coach Arredondo

Senior Gary Hafernick is miling his way toward his goal to be first in every race.

Senior Alex Acosta runs with all his strength to reach the finish line. He placed 4th in the District meet.

Former, future, and present Palacios High School students packed the home court stands to support the Sharks.

24AAA district champion team members are as follows: Francisco Martinez-manager, I.J. Polk-senior and 1st team all-district, Dedric Jones-senior and 1st team all-district, Wesley Hutto-senior, Alex Acosta-senior and 2nd team all-district, Wade Kubecka-senior and 1st team all-district, Jason Novak-senior, Patrick Kacer-senior, Darren Okruhlik-junior, Brent Kunefke-junior, and Gary Hafernick-senior and 2nd team all-district.

Varsity Sharks

Repeat District Champions

Boys Basketball

Sharks the name--basketball proven their game as the varsity team reigns once again the champions of district 24AAA. The Sharks definitely had another stunning season. They left non-conference play with a 15 win-7 loss record. During that play period they averaged 58 points per game and totaled 1281 points. In conference play the team totaled 613 points and averaged 56 points per game. The season record shows the Sharks scoring an overall 1871 points, while only allowing 1606 points scored against them.

In addition, the Sharks averaged more points during conference and non-conference play than their opponents. "It was a great accomplishment for these men to win back-to-back championships. Thank you guys for making my last year a very memorable one. Thanks to the student body for the tremendous support at our games. It has been a great 5 years of coaching at Palacios H.S.," remarked J.E. Todd. Teams and coaches to follow will be challenged in living up to the history Coach Todd and his players have made!

At the bi-district game in Wharton against Columbus, senior I.J. Polk takes advantage of a small gap in order to gain 2 points. However, the Sharks lost the game 57-58.

Wade Kubecka reminds Coach J.E. Todd of his challenge to the '94 Sharks while Melanie Lamorie offers encouragement to the '95 team on behalf of the student body to get win #385.

At just about game time the Sharks offer up a short prayer and prepare to break for what turned out to be one of many crowd-pleasing games at home in "The Tank" -- the PHS gymnasium.

Looking for a way out, Lisa Stoffel passes off to her teammate Brandi Todd in a game against the Sweeny Bulldogs.

"Kicking off" the '95 basketball season, Dennis Bowers leaps in an effort to block his daughter Kristen Bowers' shot at the hoop.

Practice makes perfect is the old saying we hear all the time. As the girls work out, Bree Thompson is up next for the dash across the gym.

Alyssa Lopez reaches to score while under "attack" of a vicious, growling Sweeny Bulldog!

Girls Basketball

Keep the Fire Burning

Having lost many of the teams starters and experienced players, the Sharkettes were starting over. They moved up underclassmen and only had one senior. Tanya Aoughsten said "It was an adjustment at the beginning of the year...but we pulled together...for the most part played together and did fairly well." Being the only senior, Tanya felt a great deal of responsibility for the team, yet realized that each player had to pull together with the team. She remarked that she learned many things from being a five-year Sharkette such as overcoming mental limitations you place on yourself. Tanya said that by overcoming such obstacles "you can achieve anything because the body follows the mind--and the body is stronger than we think." Athletics has taught her to "aim high and not to settle for mediocrity. Keep the firing burning meant that we had to keep going--putting forth our best effort no matter what the outcome."

The junior varsity Sharkettes were Stacey Dobbins, Tiffany McAdams, Bree Thompson, Becky Sample, Michele Bullock, and Bernie Guerrero.

The freshman team included: Nina Martino, Bridget Green, Kelly Kurtz, Amanda Bowers, Kristen Bowers, Robyn Malone, and Lorraine Lopez.

Team coaches Luz Arredondo, Noma Kremling, and Kathy Labay take a break from the chaos of track meets.

The Sharkettes were: Kelly Kurtz, Melissa Howerton, Bobbie Jo Buckley, Amanda Bowers, Lorraine Lopez, Bernie Guerrero, Martha Blackmon, Marie Lucio, Sarah Creel, Nina Martino, Angela Garza, Stacey Dobbins, Lisa Stoffel, and Bridget Green. The JV placed third in district and the varsity placed 5th.

Their goal was to be successful and therefore, this season was one of learning, wondering, hard work, and pressure.

"It was really hard to put out everything they had day in and day out."

Luz Arredondo

"Instead of giving up on us Coach Arredondo told us to be patient. She also pushed us to keep trying no matter what!"

Although the girls weren't shy with the menu, Tony Joyce went all out with his fajitas at the Tejas Cafe being the only regional competitor for the Sharks.

"Coach, what are we doing today?" we'd ask. "Chipping and putting" was the usual response; so, we got pretty good at it. It was Andrea that taught us not to contradict the coach, while Bobbie Jo usually provided the humor. Tony seemed to offer tips on a regular basis, while Ross and Leigh Ann constantly disagreed. Bobby, J.D., Michael, and Keith were pretty laid back. Brandi earned the title of Coach BLT and Bree, and I provided scenes from the Lion King free of charge. All in all we were supportive of each other, and Coach Calhoun was a really good sport about our crazy behavior.

PHS HONORS ITS ATHLETES

Approximately 400 people jammed the Recreation Center for the annual sports banquet where athletes from all sports were honored. Oscar Giles, a well remembered 1986 graduate of Palacios High School and professional athlete, was guest speaker. He urged the athletes to set goals for themselves both on and off the playing field and to work to fulfill those goals.

Many students were recognized for their outstanding accomplishment in their respective sports.

Over all Palacios had a successful athletic year. Highlights include boys basketball team winning district for the second season in a row and regional and state qualifiers in several other sports.

Guest Speaker, Oscar Giles, poses with Wade Kubecka and Gary Hafernick after the banquet.

Retiring from coaching after 25 years, J.E. Todd said farewell to the players and community. His 5 year record at PHS was 80 wins against 55 losses. His teams won 384 games during his 25 year career.

A plus for these athletes was receiving a scholarship. Tanya Aoughsten received $1000; Gary Hafernick and Wade Kubecka each received $500.

Mrs. Cunningham's fifth period Business Information Processing (BIP) students G.J. Hafernick and Brent Kunefke are preparing an assignment in Lotus 1-2-3.

Higher Achievers

Palacios High School is well known for its outstanding educational standards. The school district sets high expectations for each student throughout each year. Each year there are several students who compete very intensely for the top position in their class; this year it went to Mai Le. Thuyen Tran was happy to accept the honor of Salutatorian.

There were two students who had a perfect GPA of 4.0, Emily Riccio and D'Ann Bowers.

Each year there is an assembly in which the top ten percent of the graduating class have the privilege of awarding a bell to their most influential teacher throughout their school career. Each student gives a speech talking about the person to whom they will present their bell. The speeches are given in all different forms from long and serious and to short and to the point. The top ten percent (in GPA order) are: Mai Le, Thuyen Tran, D'Ann Bowers, Hien Nguyen, Paul Remlinger, Wade Kubecka, Emily Riccio, David Tran, Marcela Arriola, and Stephanie Chau.

Emily Riccio and Steve Gullett were recognized for their outstanding scores on the PSAT and were named National Merit Scholars. They are entitled to substantial scholarships to their chosen college or university.

The Rotary student of the month award is sponsored by the Palacios Rotary, and the students are chosen by the faculty at PHS. Each of these students is nominated by a teacher and voted on by the entire faculty. They look for a student that is reliable, responsible, active in school activities, willing to go the extra mile, and understanding of the needs others. They are recognized at a luncheon at Petersen's Restaurant at a Rotary club meeting. Each student is recognized by Rotary Club President, who is currently Thomas Galloway. It is truly an honor for each of these students to receive this award.

University Interscholastic League

A yearly tradition at Palacios High School is competing in the University Interscholastic League competition held at Wharton County Junior College. The UIL competition consists of many different categories in which PHS students compete against other surrounding schools. These categories include: Extemporaneous Informative Speaking, Poetry Interpretation, Prose Interpretation, Editorial Writing, Feature Writing, Headline Writing, News Writing, Accounting, Calculator Applications, Computer Applications, Computer Science Team, Current Issues and Events, Literary Criticism, Mathematics, Number Sense, Ready Writing, Spelling and Vocabulary, Science, and One Act Play. The PHS students who participated in the 1994-95 UIL

Competition represented PHS very well. They showed that Palacios High has a great academic program. A big thanks goes to Mr. John Rother, our UIL coordinator; without him our great success would not have been possible.

Academic Decathlon

Spending hours after school studying, researching about subjects that you never knew existed, "cramming" every possible bit of information that you can into your already diminished brain, and putting up with Mrs. Dvorak and Ms. Sappington are just a few of the requirements of being an Academic Decathlon member. These requirements may seem to be all work and no play, but somehow the 1994-95 academic decathlon team found a way to have fun and do great at the same time.

The AD team competed at the regional meet held at Lake Travis High School, January 20-21 scoring enough points to advance to the state meet held at Diboll High School, February 24-26. This year was filled with many interesting and unforgettable experiences including, but not limited to, the following:

"Paul, do you have your speech yet?...Paul!" cried Mrs. Dvorak and Ms. Sappington as the competition neared and Paul continued to procrastinate.

- Van taking on the role of maid and mother to all.

- David admitting in his speech not being able to pop popcorn.

- Ngoc behind the steering wheel of the bus (she could only look through the steering wheel as her feet dangled inches above the pedals).

- Chris' dry heaves that resulted in three other competitors losing their breakfast in a wastebasket during testing.

- Maria blossoming out of her quiet little shell.

- "Please God, just let us make it to state, and I promise I'll study this time!" prayed by Jacob moments before the A.D. team found out they had indeed advanced to the State Meet and loud enough for all to hear, including Mr. Joyce and Mr. Okruhlik.

It was truly a unique and unforgettable year.

John Nesse, Chris Griffin and David Tran have tamed themselves from otherwise odd behavior to appear respectable for the banquet.

Van Vo is excited after making a strike. After hours of study, speeches, and tests a little recreation helped team members relax.

Ngoc Tran, Van Vo, Jacob Cuellar, Chris Griffin and Maria Correa are sitting down for one of the few minutes of rest they will get before they start competition at Lake Travis HS.

Andrea Girndt is frustrated after all the hard work and effort she put into the Academic Decathlon meet in February.

The AD team takes time out of their frustrating weekend at State Com- petition (Diboll High School) to relax and have a little fun.

Jacob Cuellar, Maria Correa, and Paul Remlinger are excited to finally sit down for lunch at Diboll High School State Competition.

Other Classes

Van Vo enjoys seeing her classmates dressing up as characters they are studying in English Class. Mark Morales and D'Ann Bowers accompany her down the hall.

You can hardly be a Texan and not know how to do the "Texas 2-step." Kristy Brown gives Kelly Kurtz a crash course during Microcomputer class.

Tanya Youngblood points out the "lead" in a newspaper article. Students used the Houston Post to learn to write in journalism class.

Learning is fun at PHS

Not only does academics require hard work, lots of time, and dedication, it also requires a little fun. Academic activities are happening outside as well as inside the classroom.

Thanks to creative teachers and willing students, academics has been made fun in many cases at PHS. Whether it be dressing up as storybook characters, teaching other students about different cultures (those culture days featuring foods from other cultures are especially popular), or simply performing different experiments, students are learning and having fun at the same time.

This may look like an odd classroom, but Coach O'Conner's fifth period chemistry class thinks it's great. The Palacios Marine Education center is an extension of the usual classroom for area students.

Kevin Harvey feels right at home behind a welding hood. Students in Ag classes learn valuable skills that give them an edge when it comes to preparing themselves for the real world.

One of those "culture days" gives students the opportunity to sample foods from other countries. Hein Nguyen, Jolene Dunn, Amy Hoang, Bao Nguyen, Spencer Smith, Amanda Hernandez, and Yen Nguyen enjoy a pretty fancy spread.

These "monkeys" are dressed up as characters from the novel The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn. Up the tree are Darren Okruhlik, Billy Mitchell and Michele Morales. Not in costume are John Neese and Susan Emmons.

What's wrong with this pictures? Van Vo and Robbie Fellingham do a little clowning around when selecting their choir attire.

Cooperative learning offers an alternative learning style for students in this class. Wesley Hutto doesn't seem to know the location of his group.

Michelle Morales, Darren Okruhlik, Billy Mitchell, John Neese, and Susan Emmons are dressed as characters in Mark Twain's Huckleberry Finn, a novel they read in Junior AP English.

"I wish I had a better dancing partner," said Adrain Flores. Despite his handicap, he managed to learn the waltz from Andrea Girndt, Kasey Harris, and Jolene Dunn during his Humanities class.

Mrs. Corgey's Senior AP English class dressed up as Canterbury characters from Geoffrey Chaucer's Canterbury Tales and had a medevil festival.

Stacey Oliphant and Karen DeLeon prepare signs to advertise the December Sharkspeare Theater production.

"I am determined to make it over the top," exclaimed Marcus Sanchez as he participated in a "hands on" experiment with his classmates. Ms. Holt's Sophomore AP English class was having fun the way Scout and Jim Finch did in To Kill a Mockingbird.

National Honor Society inductees Bobbie Jo Buckley, Jeff Mitchell, Marcus Sanchez, and Lafy Stephens are enjoying the refreshments at the reception following the ceremonies.

After "making the show" at the Matagorda County Fair, Phyllis Cunningham is getting "Tornado" bedded down for the first night.

Organizations

Cut Down to Business

Katherine Ottino is steadily working on her VICA project for the cosmotology convention which was held in Texas City.

Choir members Kasey Harris, Steve Gullett, Wesley Hutto, and Bobby Mahoney are putting finishing touches on their quartet just before contest.

Drum major Brandi Todd conducts the PHS Fighting Shark Band as they perform on their home field.

Shark Choir

Just before entering the stage for the PHS Chorus performance, Monica Arroyo and Johnathan Tobias share a few moments together with smiles and laughter.

Rose Nguyen, Charish Flores, and Leslie Mausek were among several talented performers during the "Sweet Tooth Melodies."

Angela Dearen took on the part of "Hannah" during their ensemble performance to the tune of "Hard Hearted Hannah." She was the main attraction out on the floor.

Steve Gullett performed "I'm White and I Can't Get Down" at the annual "Sweet Tooth Melodies" held in March.

Dwana Ceasar, Amanda Duran, Suzanne Puentes, and Erika Collins took a minute to see what was on the program for the Christmas Concert.

Van Vo and Robbie Fellingham take a glance at the new choir music while labeling it. They worked along with others to organize the choir library.

Anglea Dearen and Wesley Hutto entertained the audience between performances at the "Sweet Tooth Melodies" with funny gestures and comical jokes.

Shark Band

Even during time of contest Band director, Tracy McElroy, and students still find time to have fun.

Junior Matt Wilkins surprisingly accepts the most spirited award for the 1994 marching season. Matt has made band a important part of his high school career.

Dora Zepeda, Lee Ann Long, and Nancy Dunseth along with the rest of the band members are proud of receiving

First Division ratings at the UIL Concert and Sight-Reading contest held at Palacios.

Junior High joins the High School band at the last home football game.

A joint performance between the bands has become a tradition.

At the last football game the band performed a "Senior show" in which Senior Mark Morales was named band beau and Senior Cyndi Hodges was named band sweetheart for the 1994-95 year.

Here comes the Band! The Valentine's Parade is an annual event in which the band participates.

National Honor Society

Supporting PHS!!!

National Honor Society is an organization that believes in serving the community. It's main purpose is to be successful role models for others and to do projects that will benefit the school and enrich the student body. National Honor Society teaches leadership and service skills to its members.

NHS sponsored several events this year including a bake sale in March at PGI. Teacher appreciation day was held in October. The teachers guessed how many candy corns were in a jar. Mr. Hutto came closest to the correct number and won the candy. In November there was a turkey give-away. Teachers entered their names in a raffle, and the turkey was awarded to Coach McAdams.

National Honor Society selected new members in March.

A blood drive was held in May and a total of 98 pints of blood was given. The Senior class earned $500 for Project Celebration when 40% of the class gave blood.

PHS Student Council

Students "kicked up their heels" at the "After Valentine's Dance" sponsored by the Student Council. Everyone had a great time and memories were shared by all.

Jennie Stuhrenburg, Eric Gonzales, Matt Bates, and Mrs. Johnson (Sponsor) gather around a table of sweets while having a bake sale.

School Spirit Starts from the Heart!

The year started out with teamwork as Student Council members made spirit tags to promote school spirit. The school flirts were given a chance to show off when the Student Council members sponsored a Mr. & Miss Irresistible Contest. During the Christmas season, members helped spread a little holiday cheer by bringing a fruit basket to the local nursing home residents. PHS Student Council members sponsored a "Deck the Halls" door decorating contest, with Mrs. Corgey's class coming out on top. Then, Student Council sponsored a night of dancing, the night the Sharks basketball team stole the district title!!!

Cheryl Frankson and Kim Frankson, both FFA officers, served tea the night of FFA's annual Chili Supper.

A favorite way to pass the time while waiting to show their animals is head and heel roping. David Murry and Chuck Frankson practice while Wade Kubecka looks on.

Phyllis Cunningham showed her heifer during the Fort Worth Livestock show. She placed 1st in her class with "P.J."

It took weeks of hard work building a float for the annual Valentine's Parade. However, the FFA members made a "Starry Night" come true with this entry.

This young Brahman heifer is getting a lot of attention during the Fort Worth Junior Heifer Show in February. Mr. Jim Williams, well known breeder of Brahman Cattle, gives David Murry, his father and brother, Mr. Janzsen and Eric a lesson on the finer points of selecting a good show heifer. David purchased this heifer from Mr. Williams and placed fourth in his class during the show.

FHA during their 50th Anniversary

Future Homemakers of America had a great head start this year by working in the concession stand along with FFA. A large number of students joined FHA during their first meeting in September. When the members finally set dates for events, they were off to an exciting year.

During the month of October FHA worked as "ONE" to accomplish many goals. A few of the events were: a leadership conference in Victoria, Local STAR Events, Halloween Party, and baby sitting for the parents and teachers of Central Elementary School.

During the month of November, members prepared a very special Christmas Party.

Six members worked really hard with their presentations for the STAR Events competition, which was held in Houston in January. All six members advanced to state, which was held in Fort Worth in April.

Also in April, FHA celebrated their 50th Anniversary with a special awards banquet. Everything was nicely decorated in gold and red. Members and supporters were recognized for showing their interest in the organization.

Other events: the county fair, bar-be-que benefit for fair projects, teacher appreciation day, FHA week, and serving several banquets during the year. "We made 50 years a success, and now we are after 50 more. I hope to see it happen at PHS," said President, Brandi

Fellowship of Christian Athletes

What have you learned in FCA that you think will help you make future decisions?

"The knowing that you belong to a group and that everyone cares."

Dedication and Devotion

"To present to athletes and coaches, and all whom they influence, the challenge and adventure of receiving Jesus Christ as Saviour and Lord, serving him in their relationship and in the fellowship of the church." This is the stated purpose of Fellowship of Christian Athletes, a national organization.

FCA is also a place where students can share their concerns and problems with fellow members who care.

The Palacios chapter is an active organization with a variety of endeavors. In December the club delivered a surprise Christmas for a Palacios family, including a tree, food, and numerous gifts. Donkey Basketball was a "fun" fundraiser held during March. Other activities included several "activity nights" and parties where members enjoyed being together.

Coach McAdams sits atop his donkey and looks on as his teammate, Coach Fort, attempts to reason with his beast.

The donkey basketball gave everyone a good laugh during the FCA's annual fundraiser.

Vocational Industrial Clubs of America

From Head to Toes

Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA) recognizes the vocational students who excel in their occupational areas as well as their leadership development activities.

Officers for the Palacios High School Chapter for the year were pres., Elma Aguilera; v-pres., Autumn Gripp; sec., Suzanne Puente; photographers, Carmen Diaz and Yvette DeLeon.

A highlight for the year was the VICA contest where students compete against other schools. Members participate in categories of permanent waves, wave sets, nails, and comb-outs. Most of these projects placed and advanced state competition, which was held in Dallas.

It's amazing how quickly a principal fills up with an "all you can eat meal" at Ryan's. Mr. Joyce accompanied the VICA contestants to Texas City, for the district competition.

It's strange how we never forget our childhood. Being with the Easter bunny brought back fond memories for Mrs. Rojas, Suzanne, Rosa, Delia, and Elma.

At state competition the girls all placed first. Here they are proud to show off their mannequins and their ribbons.

Business Professionals of America

Learning through Competition

Business Professionals of America is a co-curricular organization for students in vocational office related classes including computer based applications.

A highlight of the groups' activities is the annual competitive events conference. Here students compete against other school in events featuring skills learned in class. Of the six participating, Tiffany McAdams placed first in her event (Adm. Assistant) and advanced to state competition. Amy Hoang (Computerized Accounting) placed fourth but did not reach to state.

The other participants were Yen P. Nguyen in Data Assistant, Anh Le in Data Specialist, Phyllis Cunningham in Document Formatting, Joe Martinez in Office Assistant, Tam Tran in Office Specialist, and Bao Nguyen in Financial Assistant.

The staff put together a yearbook signing party as a fundraiser for this year's book. Students payed $2 at the door, picked up the 1994 Ebb Tide, and stayed to get friends' signatures.

The Core

Jessica Riede, Nancy Dunseth, Mrs. Cunningham, and I got off to an early start by attending the annual three-day Walsworth workshop in Houston. Little did we know that we would be assisted by an entire journalism class. In addition, I planned to put together the entire yearbook on computer - a challenge. In order to get everyone going many of us attended a mini-workshop in Victoria after the school year had begun. Although producing a yearbook was a first for most everyone in the class, it was a great learning experience. This year we had a yearbook signing party when the 1994 Ebb Tide came in to raise money for publication. Indeed, we sold ads and reserved copies of the '95 edition. Mrs. Cunningham provided us with sales incentives-a cookie and coke party and a pizza party.

CROSS COUNTRY

LeAnn Duran

When the Jr. High Cross Country Team started, it consisted of two boys--Patrick White and Jaime Valdez. LeAnn Duran was the first girl to approach Coach Arredondo with the determination to run. It was finally agreed that she could as long as she maintained her grades. It was then that she recruited three other girls that would make a team of six.

This team turned out to be very successful and dedicated.

All the girls were involved in volleyball and both boys played football. This was the first year that girls ran on the team, and the first year that the Jr. High couldn't compete at High School meets. Coach Arredondo was worried at first that the team might not have the time to be totally dedicated to running or to their studies, but they proved to her that they could handle the responsibility and get the job done.

JR. HIGH BAND IN REVIEW

During the 1994-1995 year the Jr. High band has made quite a number of accomplishments. They started out the year by playing at the pep rallies for the Jr. High. At the last home game the Jr. High got to march with the High School; to some it was very exciting to get a taste and the actual feel of performing, especially the eighth graders who get to join the Shark Band the following year. What they didn't know was that it was more than it seemed. It was hard work and dedication and those dreaded Monday night practices for two hours that makes a show.

During the Christmas Concert the audience was introduced to something new. It was the first time that the woodwind and brass beginner classes played together at a concert. It was good for a change and the students seemed to enjoy it.

On February twenty-fifth, at El Campo Middle School, the Jr. High Band participated in their first contest of the year. The Solo and Ensemble Contest contained thirty-six participating members of the Jr. High Band. The following students made superior ratings at solos and/or ensembles: Brandi Garcia, Luyen Tran, Courtney Wallis, Martha Constancio, Pamela Constancio, Kelly Oliphant, Angela Yeager, Jesse Rodriguez, Magaly Vazquez, Quan Vo, Minh Nguyen, Hoang Nguyen, Angela Farmer, Patrick White, Patrick Neese, Julee Purvis, Will Joines, Joshua Morales, Nathan Fuhrman, Michael Worsham, Amanda Dupuis, Cynthia Hernandez, John Herlin, Jenni McEntire, Kim Nguyen, Jordan Savage, and Rosemary Vasquez. Congratulations to these students.

During the spring at the Concert and Sightreading Contest, the band made a 1, 2, 2 for their concert scores and straight ones for their sightreading scores. This left them with an overall second division rating in concert and a superior rating in sightreading. This is also to be congratulated.

The band ended out the year by performing in the Spring Concert in which they received awards based on accumulation of points through participation in various events. Quan Vo, Julee Purvis, John Herlin, and Jenni McEntire got the Master Musician Award. The following students got the First Class Award:

Courtney Wallis, Martha Constancio, Pamela Constancio, Kelly Oliphant, Minh Nguyen, Nathan Fuhrman, Amanda Dupuis, Kim Nguyen, and Jordan Savage. This year left the directors and audience looking forward to another outstanding year.

Eight grader Julee Purvis was awarded the Director's Award at the Spring Concert, the highest recognition in the Jr. High band program.

Super Sandsharks

Super Sandsharks is an incentive program that motivates students to work and perform to their full potential. They receive these awards from their teachers who get to pick one student each six weeks for every subject they teach. The awards are given to students who have excelled at their work or who are the most improved in their class. This is the first year for the Super Sandshark program and hopefully it's success will continue.
