FOREWORD

Though time will pass and we shall part, this book will be an unbreakable link in your chain of memories. And if, when looking through these pages you relive the happy days of yesteryears for just a little while, our efforts will not have been in vain.

SUPERINTENDENT'S MESSAGE

Once again a group of fine young people have arrived at that period of their lives when they break the bonds which have bound them loyally to the activities of high school life. You go forth now to claim your heritage as citizens of this great democracy; your heritage as members of a world-wide society of men and women and boys and girls charged with keeping the world safe for the generations yet to come.

But as you go forth from your various classes, may I remind you that you have this precious heritage only because those who traveled the paths before you, worked with a high and noble purpose. They hoped to leave a heritage of worth behind them for you to enjoy. So as you receive your heritage of citizenship of this nation and of membership in a world society, you receive with this heritage certain obligations, also.

Guard this heritage; add to it; hand it down to others who follow you, with an increased value, with a greater worth.

The greatest happiness which can come to any individual is not that which comes from amassing a great fortune of material wealth; but the greatest happiness anyone can have is the compensation which comes from feeling and knowing that one has made a contribution to the welfare and happiness of someone else.

And so, as you go forth to enjoy the heritage which your forefathers are handing down to you, may you find in your activities happiness and joy because you ever hold before you the ideal that you, too, will pass on to those who follow along the trail after you, a heritage of worth.

SENIOR PROPHECY

As I read through the biographies of the '54 seniors, I find many interesting facts. Otis and James have a hot-rod club down on Buckeye Road by the soft shoulders and sharp curves.

Joan Bartosh has so many diamonds that her dates are afraid of her, and late husband left her even more. A real sad problem--

Dot M. is going to WCJC now and she's driving a '59 Cadillac with boys all over the car.

Juanita has been making $1,500 a week and going to night school. She is such a demand, they are paying her for going to school. (They have to.)

Ole Elmer was selling his own designed shoes at the downtown super-duper market for wholesale shoes. Now he is selling other people's designs and is making more money.

Well, well, our muscle boy, Howard Snider! He's gone into the Judo business. Besides teaching the stuff, he wrestles on TV with his favorite opponent, "Bully Bully." Before every show, Howard puts on a weight-lifting act in which he lifts 500 lbs.

Look what kind of job ole Billy has. He's a photographer for "Atlas Muscles for-- Ladies." Of course, it's purely business, but you should see some of the pin-up girls he has to take shots of. All the boys wish they had the same job.

That little girl with a big heart and voice, Joan Krenek! And do you know what her little ole new song is? "E-Con-O-Me." She also writes her songs.

Here's an interesting profession that Lester Smith does. He is a ladies' material tester. He puts this material around himself, goes through the process of rain, sleet, hail, and snow, and really gets a beating. As a pastime, he is a rugged bouncer for the Bowlie Club.

Here's Irene Hickl's book. She's a star in motion pictures. Seems she has taken over Jane Wyman's place for her sincere dramatic career. Swell break for you, Irene, but what you gonna do with Jane Wyman? She can't be your maid forever on the salary you pay her.

Here's a book with the title of "Robots." Why, it's T.J. Mynar. Or, should I say, Dr. Mynar? He is a great scientist in the process of developing a human robot. Rather, a mechanical robot with a human brain.

The next heading I see on a book is "Aviation." Jimmie McKissick is a pilot for the Rice Farmers Association. He sprays everything from rice to hay. He has a training school for his children and his wife is the Dean of Students.

Frank Krenek! He is a real gad-a-bout. He's a traveling salesman for the "New Brick Plan Housing Club." He travels from Washington to Maine selling advertisements for other businesses. Profitable--I guess, and if it isn't, it is a good way to see the country.

Well, I might have known this was Vincent Fromen's book. He never could say what he wanted said in a few simple words. He indubantly used his very distinguished vocabulary for this volume. He has put his very best vocabulary to use and if you ever go into a book store, you will find a huge dictionary consisting of Vincent's words. As a sideline, he is a Texas senator.

Why, it's "The Singing Silver-tone", Emil Sliva. I personally never heard him sing but he made a recording. He is doing great things.

Look whose book I have found. It's our athletic friend, Carlos Vacek. He is a coach at the Central Boys' Athletic Association College, and has fulfilled one of his high school ambitions--to become a millionaire.

This looks like a book on politics. Since Barbara Fitzgerald was elected as a candidate for the DAR, she's been making speeches to people all over the world. It seems to me I always did say that she was vaccinated with a phonograph needle. She is supposed to run for President next year against Billy.

Let's see whose name is on this red book, "The Hep-Cat Dancer." Why, it's Manford Foster's. He has a dancing school teaching all the kids cool, real-gone, and smooth dances.

This title looks like an advertising book. It seems Sonny is selling the newest model of cars. Mercury's, of course! He has a whole barnload of them and is trying to sell them so he can start selling jet propelled bicycles.

Let us take a gander at the blue book now. It has the appearance of a baby book, but it couldn't be. I believe this book is Edna Mae Hahn Wratishaw's. Oh, my stars. It is a baby's book. Seems Edna Mae is running a babies' nursery, and has a few of her own in with the others.

Paul Gonzales! Seems he's got a profitable filling station out on Four Rose Lane located at 6th and 7th Streets and he has a beautiful wife who keeps his books for him. I knew he was quite so good in math, but boy the figures.

Well, you can imagine what happened to Joyce Henkes? She was engaged before school was out, later married, and now she and her hubby live in Zink City and run a night club. Joyce is the hostess and her husband, the bartender and bouncer.

Let's see this book. Eugene Saha. He always was the Casanova around school and had his arm around a girl all the time.

Ole Margie Brown is some character. She was always giggling. Now she is a first rate comedian.

Dorothy Jalufka is drum major at Shakespeare's Point. I guess they need a good shape and pair of legs in front of the band. It's not that she isn't a brilliant scholar.

"Ole Spiker" What a marvelous title for Georgie Hickl. She sure could hit that ball. I was glad that I played on the other team.

"Horse Racing" by Peggy Nygard. It says she owns about five thoroughbreds and they are in the gib race set for January, 1957. She says they will fully understand what they are going to race for by that time. I placed a bet on one, but I'm not worried. Peg always raised winners.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

- I, Wilbur Vaclavick, leave my ability to sleep in history class and still make A's to Billy Black.
- I, Sonny Foster, leave my ability to make time with Evelyn Zapalac to Walter Skutca.
- I, Frank Krenek, leave my quiet, but very deceiving ways to Alvin Saha.
- I, Carlos Vacek, leave my ability to have wrecks going into the park instead of waiting until coming out, to Bobby Watkins.
- I, Billy Smith, do bequeath my ability to get straight A's to Delbert Dannels.
- I, Emil Sliva, leave my ability to get along with everyone to Norman Green.
- I, Manford Foster, do bequeath my man-about-town life to whoever else can take it.
- I, Otis Anderson, bequeath all the slightly used gum under my English seat and to get by with it, to Jerry Lezak.
- I, Lester Smith, leave my quiet, sober ways to Felo Alaniz.
- I, Eugene Saha, bequeath all my forged excuse blanks and absentee privileges to Henry Hoffman.
- I, Jimmie McKissick, leave my suave, masculine charm and alluring smile to Alvin Joe Tomasek.
- I, James Schurtz, leave my serious ways to Ishmael Driscoll.
- I, Howard Snider, leave to Lee Hall Pierce, my physique (without pads).
- I, Vincent Fromen, leave my height and emotional contortions and my vocabulary of distinguished words to Leroy Urban.
- I, Paul Gonzales, leave my blond hair to Louis Fabrygal.
- I, T.J. Mynar, bequeath my English ability to write term themes to Danny Savage.
- I, Elmer Treumer, leave my ability to run high hurdles to Albert Gonzales.
- I, Joan Bartosh, leave my slim and trim silhouette to Sue Upton.
- I, Juanita Conkle, leave my humorous disposition to Virginia Zapalac.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT - Continued

I, Carolyn Cessor, bequeath my ability to be active in school activities to Janice Barnett.

I, Edna Mae Hahn, leave my prissy ways to Elenora Henkes.

I, Barbara Fitzgerald, leave my quiet, studious ways to Alyce Sparks.

I, Dorothy Moss, leave my sweet disposition and popularity to Evelyn Zapalac.

I, Joyce Henkes, leave my talkative ways to Emily Swinky.

I, Dorothy Jalufka, leave to Marie York my twirling and band abilities.

I, Joan Krenek, leave my co-operative ways and to "turn my little body" when spiking a ball, to Carolyn Davant and Marjorie Fitzgerald.

I, Peggy Nygard, leave to Shirley Watkins my ability to get along with boys from other schools.

I, Margie Brown, leave my ability to write a legible left hand to Alfred Kopecky.

I, Irene Hickl, leave my ability to get along with the teachers to Minnie McDonald and Doris Smith.

I, Georgie Hickl, leave my athletic ability to Frances Powell.

WHO'S

CARLOS VACEK, because of his outstanding ability as an athlete and his friendliness to all, has gained the admiration and affection of us all.

VINCENT FROMEN, an excellent student, is very intelligent and participated in athletics for four years.

CAROLYN CESSAR, because of her abundance of school spirit and pleasing personality, has gained a place in Tidehaven forever.

BARBARA FITZGERALD, because of her ability as a student and complete honesty will always be remembered as a senior of '54.

BILLY SMITH'S undying spirit, intelligence, and willingness to help has made a name for him at Tidehaven.

WHO

PEGGY NYGARD, with her excellent qualities of leadership and co-operation, will long be remembered by the students and teachers of T.H.S.

CAROLYN DAVANT, who is known for her willingness to do more than her share in all school activities, is a student you can always depend on.

JANICE BARNETT is one of our hard-working students and is a wonderful friend to all. She is editor of "The Tiger's Tale".

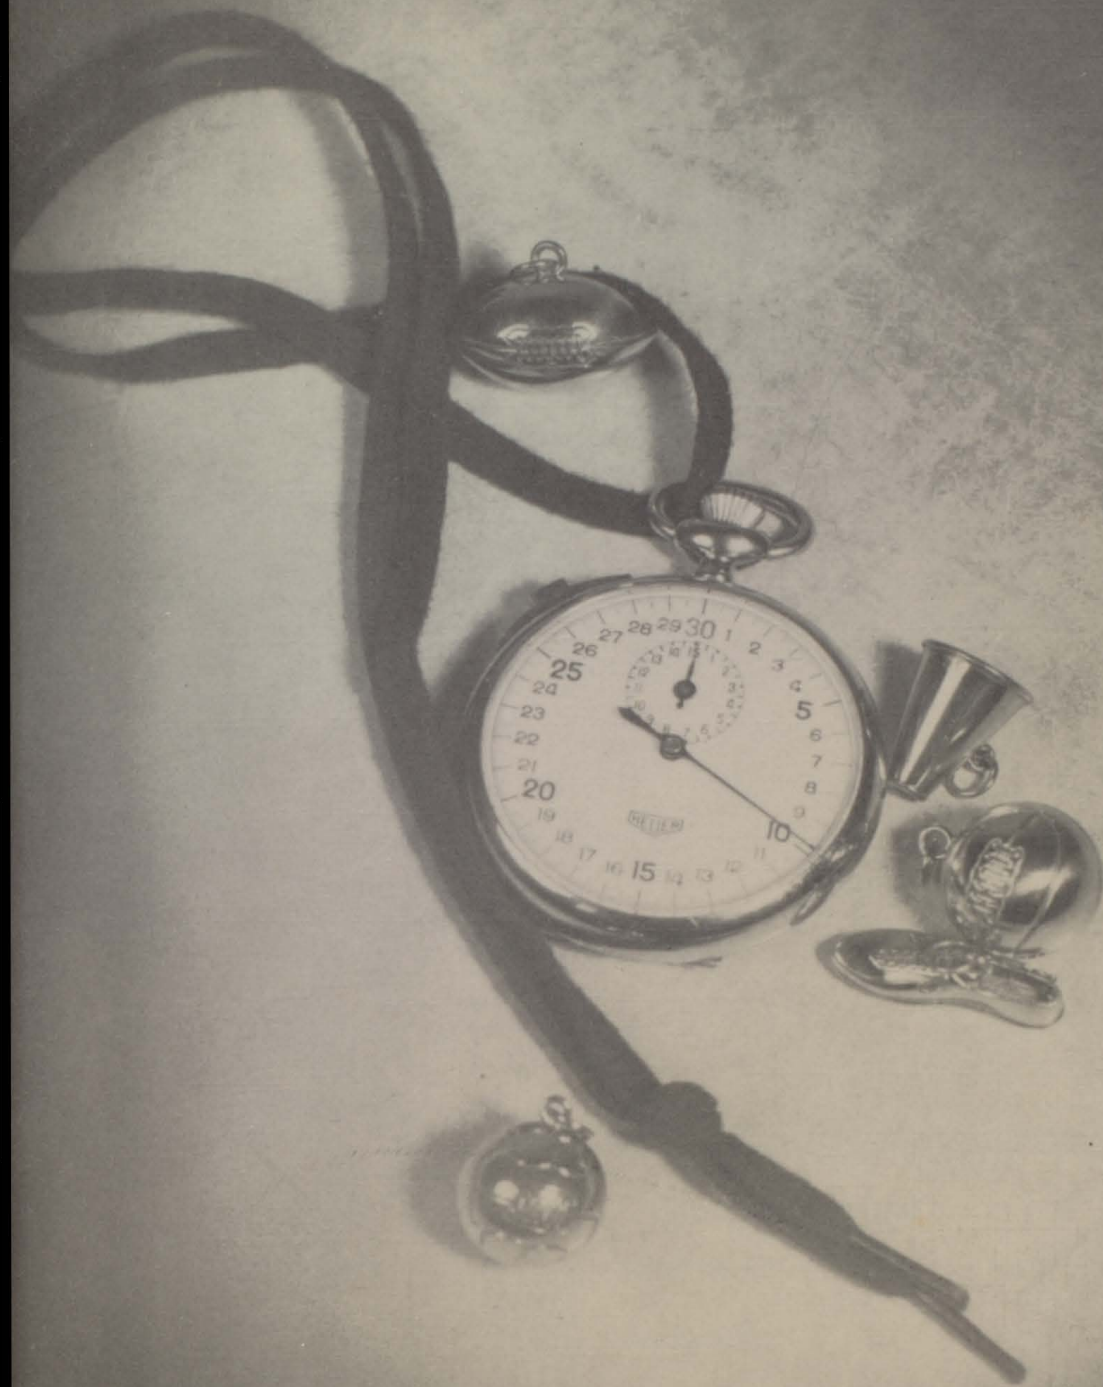

JOAN KRENEK is a good athlete, a good student, and has a wonderful personality.
