As we pass through life we are given help and advice by many people. But, sadly we often forget to show these people our true appreciation. Therefore I would like to thank those people who are responsible for this annual.

I would like to thank the rest of the Annual Staff and advisors who have dedicated so much of their time to this effort. I would like to also thank all of the students and faculty at T.H.S. for your support and cooperation.

As a student we have had many experiences. We have worked, laughed, and triumphed together. We possess many enjoyable memories about our years together.

I hope that you get as much enjoyment out of reading this book as we have had in preparing it for you. I also hope that in the future when you glance at this book you will recall your favorite memories, your old friends, and most of all, all the fun we have had at good old T.H.S.

Dedication

Dedication is the act of devoting oneself to some work, cause or duty. The 1979 Tigers dedicated themselves, and through hard work and tremendous team effort, reached their goal of becoming the 1979 District 26-A Co-Champions. An achievement not equaled since 1971.

Egret

The "plume bird" of the South, this white heron is known for its bright feathers which were once popular in decorating hats. At one time, the birds were on endangered lists until laws were passed to protect them. Today, the egret is fairly abundant in temperate and tropical wetlands.

Bald Eagle

Our national symbol is now extremely rare. Due to our neglect and the continued use of pesticides, this bird of prey has disappeared from most states. The bald eagle can be found along North American wetlands, where it has been protected by law since 1940. Previously, it was often shot by marksmen for sport and pursued by egg collectors.

Tidehaven will never again have a class of 1980 —

— just as the 1980 seniors will never again have TIDEHAVEN.

Goodbye

Will

We, the graduating Senior Class of 1980, being of sound mind and great body, do solemnly and with great enthusiasm, bequeath our great assets to the Junior Class.

I, Nat Longoria, leave my crutches to Alex Galvan just in case he needs them.

To Jane Foltyn, I, Lori Johnson, leave some top fertilizer so her stump will grow taller.

To Greg Piwonka, I, Paul Purswell, leave my lovely car. I also leave my ability to be cool to George Woods.

I, Kenny McKissick, leave to Mike Rush, my ability to keep my truck on the road at all times, my soberness, and my ability to stay at school. Having so much to give, I also leave Doug Seifert some skin!

To Orel and Lorel Schafer, I Dennis Naiser, leave my brand new shorthand pad.

I, Monica Gomez, leave to Hermelinda Gomez the ability to keep what is rightfully yours, my messy lockers to Debbie Shepard, and all the hidden whiskey at T.H.S. to Donna Gonzales. May she have all the luck in finding it!

I, Tracy Smith, will my ability to soar over a culvert to atrocious driver, Kelly Jalufka.

I, Terry Sliva, leave my ability to smoke cigarettes in the restroom without getting caught to Troup Foster.

I, Hank Fitzgerald, will all my empty copenhagen cans to Steve Biskup. May he use them wisely.

To Timmy Warn, I, Ricky Patterson, will my ability to barely pass English IV.

I, Steven Kaspar, leave my responsibilities and work as Editor of the Annual to Mary Jo Janak. To Susan Hayes, I leave my great intelligence just in case she doesn't go to A&M and needs more brains than are required there.

I, Mark Merta, leave my ability to keep my mouth shut to Lottie Brooks.

I, Mike Pierce, will my sister to Junior Krenek and my back teeth to Alex Galvan.

I, Dwayne Ellis, leave my empty beer cans to Greg Piwonka and Ray Carrillo so that they will become millionaires after selling them.

I, Gary Vacek, leave my ability to pass English class to Tom Curnutt.

To Junior Krenek, I, David Beane, will my ability to ski.

I, Jesse Lara, leave to David Perez my height and English book.

I, Greg Crain, will my ability to race without losing to Mike Chandler.

To Mary Helen Jasek, I, Geren Rusk, leave my ability to drive a tractor.

I, Sandy Hoffman, leave to Stacey Harvey my ability to get along with the person she most detests.

I, Darryl Jordan, regretfully leave to Edward and Robert Sagissor, the whole school because I know how it is to be a new kid in town.

I, Maria Olguin, wish to leave my brains to split between Dwight Sanford and Kenneth Griggs. Moreover, I will to the Longoria girls — Rozann, Audrey, and Dora the song "We are Family."

To Stacey Harvey, I, Tracey Farthing, will my pocket dictionary to be used in English IV Class.

I, Teri Peters, will to the 1980-81 cheerleaders the ability to do so well on evaluation nights at cheerleading camps! To next year's football players the State Playoffs!

To Lori Horton, I, Gay Thurmond, leave my devotion, hard work, and my ability to fall asleep during the research paper.

I, Norma Garcia, will to Naomi Garcia the ability to get along with Mrs. Hale in Cosmetology classes. To David Reddic, I willingly leave my manicure set.

To Dana Savage and Shelley Schurtz, I, Brad Maroney, will all my free time that I have, being nice to all of the teachers, and all my bad grades.

I, David Vance, bequeath my nickname "Macho Man" to Gary Lara. To Robert McGee, I leave my ability to get along with band directors. I, still being so resourceful, will my nickname "Lips" to Freddy Lara. Having much more than I need, I leave my History notes to Ronnie Radford and my Chemistry ability to Rene Longoria.

I, Patricia Franklin, after waiting so long for David Vance, leave to my onliest sister, Rhonda Franklin my ability to get along with teachers.

To Brenda Allen, I, Lloyd Schafer, do hereby will all my bad luck and hard classes.

To both Mary Garcia and Mary Benavidez, I, Paulina Cowger, leave my ability to stay off the ground.

I, Roger Havel, leave all my ex-Louise girlfriends to Steve Alley, and my shaggy hair to Mr. Baker.

To Susan Hayes, I, Rhonda Seifert, leave my sea-blue eyes to trade for her green ones.

I, Marilyn Merta, leave my sexy smile to Mary Catherine Ryan.

I, Pete Rush, leave my curly red hair to Shelley Schurtz who needs some brightness in her life.

I Joe Frick, leave my Doberman's dog muzzle to Ellaine Mondrik who desperately needs one.

I, Bubba Lee, leave Brenda Allen and Lydia Leal to Brian Smith so that they may live harmiously.

I, Dan Burney, leave to Chris Nemece what I know about Tammy Blackwell because he knows nothing about her. I also leave all the Marine Recruiting Officers to all of the Junior boys.

I, Leslie Sliva, leave my rusty aprons to Mike Chandler and to Mark Richardson, I leave my doctor uniform.

To Jamie Sliva, I, Diana Losoya, leave my drum major whistle.

I, Lydia Gomez, will to Dana Savage the ability to do as well as I did in Cosmetology and to Tammy Bohuslar a Mirror so she may keep her hair in the best condition.

I, Johnny Hoffman, will my ability to goof off and fail to Ricky Galvan and Robin Spencer. Use it to your advantage.

Prophecy

Due to the increasing energy problems and a rising cost of living, the modern world took many steps backwards. Instead of progressing forward into the expected nuclear era, we find the Seniors of 1980 "back in the saddle again," in the days of the Old West.

As we approach the city of El Maton, up ahead in the distance we see Pete Rush tying Marilyn Merta to the railroad tracks because she wouldn't help him have a Eugene Thomas Rush V. Sheriff Greg Crain along with his deputy Ricky Patterson come to her rescue and hauled Pete off to jail where he joins Bubba Lee. Bubba has been in jail for the past ten years for female impersonation.

Stepping off the train, we are greeted by Mayor Gary Vacek who tells us that he has finally decided to forget old ties and go straight. We ask Mayor Vacek where Paul Purswell is and we are told that he and his wife, Teri Peters Purswell are off "taking a trip" in search of Teri's accent mark. Strolling on through the changed town, we notice Joe Frick in the old horse trough. We ask Joe why he doesn't get out, but he doesn't answer us. Whether it is because he is incapacitated or not we don't know, but we do remember that this seems normal because Joe never could decide what or whom he wanted anyway. When we make the block, we spot a horse stuck in the culvert. Passersby Rhonda Seifert and Tracey Farthing tell us that it is Steven's horse and she broke her nose. We are sorry to learn that Steven Kaspar is in the hospital, but happy to learn that he is being carefully attended to by Doc Lloyd Schafer and his dedicated assistants, Gay Thurmond and Pat Franklin.

Deciding we are in need of a cold sasparilla, we amble on over to the saloon. The keeper of the saloon and head manager of the saloon girls is Mark "hook 'em all" Merta. Entertaining the rowdy customers are the saloon's star features, the famous belly-dancers, Nat Longoria and Lori Johnson. At a nearby poker table we see the world-famous gamblers Tracy Smith and Darryl Jordan so absorbed in their game and so used to rejection that they don't even notice that even their cards get up and walk away.

Hearing some commotion outside in the town square, we run to the door just in time to see outlaw Terry Sliva hurriedly leaving the bank that he has just robbed. AS he rides off, he shoots amazingly at the screaming bank teller, Johnny Hoffman, who is still in the bank. Astounded at Terry's shooting accuracy, we recall that he must have got his practice from shooting snipes. Millionaire Brad Maroney who happened to be riding into town to make a deposit with his wife, Paulina Cowger, lassoed Terry and brought him in that afternoon when he was hanged. The hanging was carried out by the town priest, David Beane, who was closely followed by his faithful nun, Sister Lydia Gomez. She was busy selling "Cow Patty Candy Bars" which were made by Professor David "Eulipses" Vance, whose latest invention had been to convert cactus juice into Lipton tea.

Beginning to feel hungry, we made our way to Boss Hogg's House of Slop, owned and operated by none other than Dennis Naiser. At the door, we are greeted by his wife and head waitress, Leslie Sliva Naiser. She seats us at a table and takes our order. While waiting for our food, we notice Sandy Hoffman and Hank Fitzgerald a secluded corner still trying to decide on a wedding day. In through the door, come a trio of cowhands, Dwayne Ellis, Roger Herbie Havel, and Kenny McKissick. They have been out on the range herding cattle and fighting off the rough rustler, Geren Rusk. Geren almost bushwacked the three of them but General Dan Custer Burney came to their rescue along with his soldiers Jesse Lara and Norma Garcia. Norma was still trying to prove the age-old issue of the equality of women. We also learn that Monica Gomez and Maria Olguin were tragically run over by Diana Losoya's CHUCKwagon.

Ready for bed and eager to get to the hotel, we are overjoyed to learn that a new shower system has been recently installed. It was put in by Mike Pierce's "Slobber Spa Corporation."

Rested by a good night's sleep and satisfied at learning all the fates of the Seniors of 1980, we begin our journey home. We decide that the Seniors have indeed made their marks and we are happy that they didn't turn out quite as bad as everyone expected them to.

Juniors

Rhinoceros

An enormous horned animal, the rhinoceros is found in Africa and Asia. However, it is quickly disappearing as a result of the cruel methods used by poachers. The profitable hunt for their horns has narrowed their numbers immensely. As a result, the animal is now quite rare except within a few protected areas.

Timber Wolf

The timber or gray wolf is rare these days . . . restricted to sparsely populated, northern regions of Europe and North America. An ancestor of domestic dogs, the wolf has been almost systematically hunted down and killed. These animals help to control and improve deer populations by weeding out the sickly ones.

Condor

Frequently described as a "giant of the skies," this superb flier is almost extinct. While they once covered a broad expanse of the United States, the bird is now limited to California's San Joaquin Valley. A remote condor sanctuary has been set aside to protect the birds from the molestations and disturbances of man.

Mountain Lion

Also known as a puma, this animal lives almost entirely in deserted wilderness. It can be found in Florida, the western United States and Central and South America. Yet, even here, where it was once abundant, the mountain lion is fast disappearing as it is hunted for sport.

Galapagos Tortoise

This member of the turtle family, found only in the Galapagos Islands, grows to remarkable size. However, many of the original dozen varieties are nearly extinct. The remaining ones are believed to have originated from a different type of South American tortoise that somehow drifted to the islands. Yet, other animals which have recently been introduced are destroying the food, eggs and young of the Galapagos.

Cheetah

Often called a hunting leopard, this spotted cat is reportedly the world's fastest animal. It once roamed throughout the hot, arid regions of Africa and Asia, but now is becoming quite rare. Hunters have almost exterminated the tawny cat despite its lightning-like speed. Its present world population is not known.

Cinderella Team

The Tigerettes became known as the Dist. 26-A "Cinderella Team". This was due to the fact that they won 1 and lost 4 games the 1st round of dist. play. The 2nd round of dist. play they won 4 and lost 1 game, putting them in contention for the dist. championship. They were a young team and through hard work improved 100%

Alligator

Along with other members of the crocodile family, this powerful animal is the closest living relative of the dinosaur. Yet, the alligator too is disappearing. Today, he can only be found in a few protected sanctuaries and parks of the southeastern United States. Here, hunters are restricted from killing the alligator for his valuable hide.

Grizzly

At one time, this large bear was widespread in western North America. This is no longer true. Today, the bears, which can vary in coloring, are rare except in Alaska, Canada and the Yellowstone and Glacier National Parks. Man is their greatest enemy, but strong protection within the wilderness may allow them to survive.

Tuatera

A living fossil protected in New Zealand, this brownish-yellow lizard was once abundant throughout the world. Often close to three feet long, the tuatera is noted for the remnant of a third eye on the top of its head. Today, it survives only in the security of a few small islands.
