"Standing United"

The flag in the front of the school was lowered to half staff in honor of those who lost their lives on September 11, 2001.

On the Friday after September 11th, students showed their respect, spirit and pride for our country by gathering around the flagpole and praying for our country and countrymen.

Middle: Students gather around the flag pole as Eric Purswell leads a prayer for the safety of our nation and those who live in it and serve it.

Right top: On Wednesday, September 12th, the front page of the Houston Chronicle was filled entirely with articles on the World Trade Center and Pentagon attacks that were led by terrorists.

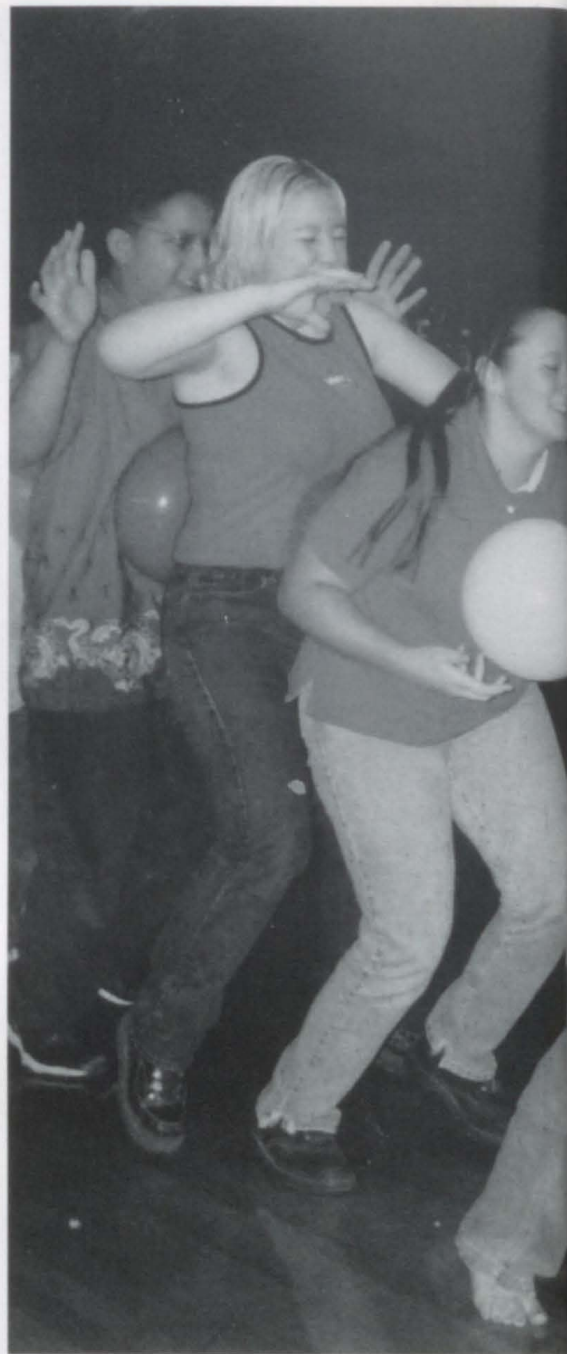

Michael Gonzales and Heather Rodriguez work on 'Spirit of Freedom' ribbons to be handed out to the students.

Right: Chance Winfrey and Ryan Hickl show their patriotism, for their country, by flying their American flags on the back of their pickup trucks.

"It's time to be LOUD"

Daniel Garcia, Gabriel Lara and Darrell Machacek, dressed as cheerleaders, perform their cheer at the pep rally.

Right: Jake Johnson and Monica Bentancur are the finalists in the pie eating contest.

It's Off to Work We Go!

Josh Siptak has to take time to repair the string in the weed eater, while he is helping his father maintain the landscape around Auto Zone.

 Right: At McDonalds, Patrick Perez prepares a Big Mac to fill a customer's order.

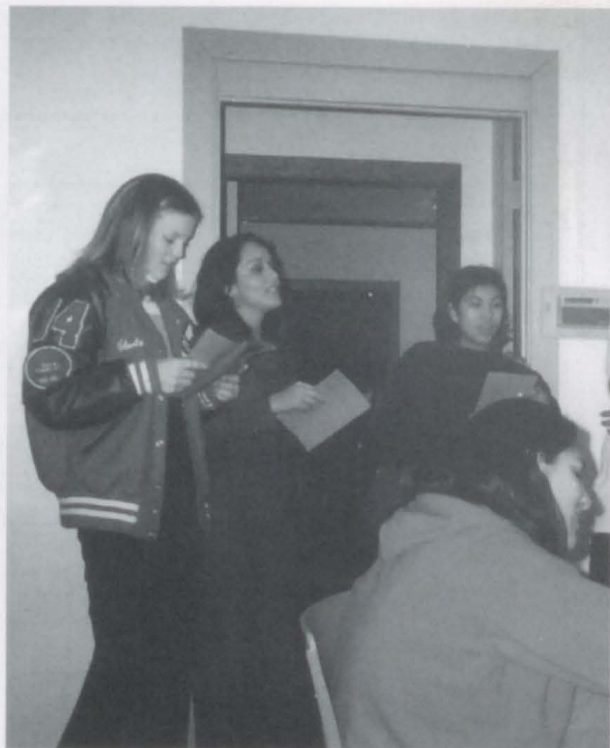

Miranda Trevino helps her fellow classmate and co-worker, Mark Ruiz, gather shopping baskets in the HEB parking lot in Bay City.

Tammy Recendez sells a shirt to long time customer and fellow classmate, Bubba Massey, at Wild Bill's Western Wear in Bay City.

31 Years of Students...

A native of 'downtown' Tin-Top and a graduate of Palacios High School, Mr. McMillan did not always know what he wanted to do with his life. While attending A&I in Kingsville, Mr. 'Mac' saw a need for teachers in the technical field. Graduating from A&I with bachelors and masters degrees, he also received additional training at East Texas State University and Texas A&M.

Mr. McMillan began his teaching career at Bishop, Texas, where he taught for six years. After Bishop, he moved on to Brazosport, where he taught for five years. Tidehaven has been his 'home' for the past twenty years.

When asked what some 'highlights' of his career were, Mr. Mac simply replied, "When a student comes back to me and tells me he has used what I taught him, that's a great feeling!"

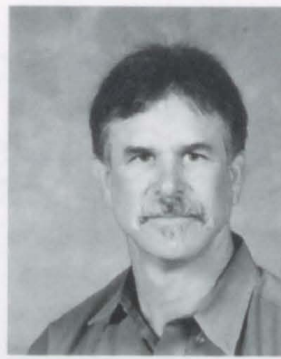

Although Mr. Mac loves to teach, he has decided to retire this year. Some of his plans after retirement include a large amount of traveling, woodworking, a little fishing and hunting and, of course, spending time with his family. Even though Mr. Mac is happy about retiring, he did let us know that if he ever had to go back to work, he would come back to teaching.

Everyone at Tidehaven wishes Mr. McMillan a happy and pleasant retirement, and if he ever does need to work again, please come back to Tidehaven!

ACADEMICS

Everyday

Valerie Villarreal has a big smile for the trip to the Palacios bay shore.

Life

There are eight students in the Life Skills class. These exceptional students learn the basics of everyday life inside the classroom and then, they take those skills out into the community in order to learn to live independently. The Life Skills students have daily activities that consist of health and hygiene, daily living, housekeeping chores, cooking, math, physical education, reading and writing skills, and recreation and leisure time. Some of the daily housekeeping chores include washing, drying and storing dishes, sweeping and mopping the classroom floors, dusting the furniture and vacuuming the carpet. The students also get experience with washing, drying and folding towels, dishcloths, and aprons for both the High School and the Intermediate cafeterias. This is done on a daily basis also. The revenue that the students earn from doing this laundry is used to fund their field trips.

Class members have taken several field trips. Some places they have toured are the Victoria Zoo, the Palacios Marine Center and the Bay City Post Office. Students have also been to Sam's, Target, and WalMart in Victoria and H.E.B. in Bay City. On these trips, the students buy supplies for their class projects. To earn extra spending money, class members sell homemade cookies, breakfast tacos, chips and pickles to the other students at Tidehaven.

Skills

In construction systems and technology systems, the class learned the proper uses of tools and the principles of tool safety. Students learn how to use their hands to make wooden projects, while at the same time they grow more responsible and independent in their use of the machinery. Going into the course, students start out creating small objects like name plaques but later on become experienced enough with the machinery to create shelves, chairs, and tables.

Construction systems students are also taught mass production. This year, that came in the form of producing picnic tables for the Matagorda County Birding Center. The students had to work as a team and had a different job for each day. At the end of the project, students had to promote two people on the job and fire two people that were not working towards the goal. Along with the firing and hiring, students had to justify their reasons for the promotions and releases from the job.

“Techniques taught in this class can be carried through to real life situations.”

Engineering graphics, commonly known as drafting, is a hands-on course dealing with the basic uses of drafting instruments and tools, mechanical drawing, and even architectural designs. A student taking the course can draw anything from a floor plan to blueprints, all using complicated measurements and designs. One element of this course is having to mentally transform a 3-D object into 2-D that can be placed on paper. This requires tremendous visualization, interpretation and application on the part of the student.

Que' tal?

At Tidehaven, Spanish is a language that can be used every day. Many students live in homes where Spanish is the main language spoken. So, for this reason alone, Spanish is a course many students should choose to take.

With a new Spanish instructor this year, students were exposed to many different aspects of Mexican culture and customs. One of the customs that students learned about are pinatas. First, they learned the history of pinatas and then, each student was able to make an individual pinata. This was two weeks of mess, but in the end, there were many beautiful pinatas. Then, in May, the students learned the history behind El Cinco de Mayo and to celebrate this significant date, broke a pinata filled with candy.

"Learning a second language gives students an opportunity to also learn a new culture."

For Christmas, students learned about the Posadas. They also learned about the most common foods in the Mexican household during this holiday season and celebrated the event with traditional food.

Flour tortillas are a common staple in Mexican households. Students in Spanish classes were able to try their hand at making the tortillas from scratch. The class members were able to try two different recipes with specific instructions on how to make the tortillas. The first day was a little rough with some smoke and some burned tortillas as the outcome. However, the second day was great, with the students enjoying making the dough, rolling out the tortillas, cooking and, of course, eating them with their favorite dishes.

There is more to Family and Consumer Sciences than just cooking and sewing. But, as one can see from the pictures on these two pages, that is what the students most enjoy. In Personal and Family Development, a one year course, students get to cook and sew and also cover other topics, such as personal development, family relationships and consumerism. For the cooking portion of the class, students were able to prepare dishes that included fruits, vegetables, meats, milk and cheese. They were also able to choose recipes, to their tastes, to prepare in class.

In the sewing section, students were able to choose their own construction projects. Projects ranged from pillows and stuffed animals to duffle bags, shirts and shorts. The most popular item were the stadium blankets students made by choosing their own fabric and after sewing, tacking the blanket.

Food Science and Nutrition, a semester course, deals with nutritional aspects and working in the kitchen. Students prepared many recipes and had the chance to try new and different foods. A rule in Family & Consumer Sciences is that a student must always try the food they prepare. Otherwise, a person might never find out about new dishes. For many students, this class can be daunting when faced with a food they have never tasted. But, as most can testify, once they tried a new dish, they found they liked it. Students were able to choose many of the recipes they prepared, so they were careful to read the ingredients before choosing a recipe.

Amanda Brune and Janet Sardelich water their plants in the Ag garden.

With a wide range of courses to choose from, Agriculture Science students have many different opportunities for learning. For this school year, the Plant and Soil Science students, along with the Landscaping students, planted and maintained a garden located behind the Agriculture Sciences building. Students were responsible for rows in the garden. The rows of plants had to be kept clean, watered and fertilized. If there were any insect problems, it was the responsibility of the students to identify the insects and come up with the remedy for the problem. Some of the vegetable items planted in the garden included sweet corn, tomatoes, cucumbers, squash, green beans and peppers. Fruits planted included cantaloupe and watermelon.

“These hands-on experiences help students obtain valuable knowledge.”

Another course offered to the students is Introduction to Agriculture Mechanics. In this course, students are exposed to carpentry work and welding. Members of the class have the opportunity to make individual projects, using the skills they learn in the course. Projects ranged from bookcases and hanging baskets for plants to ammunition boxes. Welding round hay bale rings was the project undertaken by the entire class. The students had to bend the pipes used for the bale rings before welding them together and finishing with paint. Working on small engines was also part of the class instruction. Students were given small engines such as irrigation pumps and tillers to work on. They first had to figure out the problem and then repair the engine. Through these activities, students gain valuable knowledge.

Getting together to work on the plants in front of the school are Stephanie Dannels, Amanda Brune, Janet Sardelich, Kimi Yoxtheimer and Karissa Clontz.

Students

Students in the Art classes were offered a variety of projects to experiment with during the school year. After learning the basic techniques of drawing, such as sketching and shading, class members were given ample time to experiment with many types of paints, including acrylics and oils. Surfaces the students painted on included paper, canvas, wood, and the bricks in the hallway of the Art room.

Craft projects were another part of the Art classes this year. One of the first items to be made were pillows. The students had to handsew the front and back of the pillow together, stuff the pillow and then, sew the pillow closed. For many students, this was the first time for using a needle and sewing. Another item that used sewing techniques was making a woven potholder. Students used a loom to produce a potholder out of yam loops.

Using socks, seed and dirt, students made 'sock heads.'

The socks were filled with dirt and seed, then watered and were hung by the windows in the room. After several days, the seed would sprout, the sock would be trimmed and the student could then paint a picture on the sock to resemble a face.

Using lightbulbs, students were taught how to make maracas. The lightbulbs were covered with plaster of Paris, allowed to dry and then painted with oil paints in a design of the student's liking. After completely drying, the student would hit the lightbulb against the wall several time to break the glass inside, cause the noise associated with maracas.

Computers are everywhere now. They help fly airplanes and even allow us to talk to friends from all over the globe via the internet. As part of the curriculum, school offered classes to help students in becoming computer literate. After all, computers are a part of the future. Students learned to use powerpoint, word processor, and telecommunications. They also learned to use computer graphics, like charts and graphs.

Some computer courses also helped prepare students for the world of business and also the realities of 'real' world computer applications. Students were taught speed typing and how to type business letter formats.

At Last... Graduation

On Friday, May 31, 2002, in front of bleachers full of families and friends, the graduating class of 2002 received their diplomas and scholarships, listened to and gave speeches and said their last goodbyes on the Tiger field. For this group of seniors, special memories were also made on the field as a World War II veteran, Albert C. Herreth, Jr. received his diploma. 'A.C.' volunteered for service during World War II in his senior year of school and was not able to graduate with his 1945 class. With the passing of a new bill allowing veterans to receive their high school diplomas, A.C. was able to participate in the graduation ceremonies with the class of 2002.

The guest speaker for the evening was Dawn Johnson, M.D., a 1988 graduate of Tidehaven High School. She told the students and guests about her life and how hard she worked to reach her dream of becoming a doctor. Dr. Johnson reminded students that she had been sitting in the same chairs they were sitting in now and with determination and realizing that life is not fair and you will have to work for what you want, a person can reach the goals they set in life.

The graduation ceremony was over. The bleachers were empty and only ghosts of memories lingered in the air. Now, the all-night party could begin. After getting hugs from families and friends, the senior and their guests checked into the school, leaving their car keys at the door and having their bags searched. Check-in was by midnight and then, students were released at six the next morning. During the time everyone was locked in the school, they challenged each other in team skills, ate pizza, played miniature golf, ate cookies, watched movies, ate more pizza and then, ate cake and more pizza!

A Tough Season

Life doesn't always go the way we would like it to. This is one of the lessons the football team experienced this season. The Tiger team, led by four seniors, did a lot of growing up in a matter of sixteen weeks. Beginning and ending the season with wins could be considered the highlight of the season for this team. Because there were so many young players, the team made young team mistakes but always played their hardest till the final second. The young players acquired a lot of playing time which should help them for the next season.

Can You Dig It?

Going into the season, the varsity girls knew that they were young and inexperienced. Maybe this was because most of them had played on the junior varsity team in the last season. The girls learned much about the game and will be able to return in the next season with more experience and knowledge. Even though their record was five wins and five losses, there were highlights in the season. The final victory over VanVleck earned the team a playoff game against Boling, to see which team would represent the district in the playoffs.

A Team Effort

With no wins for the varsity basketball team, this season was a very difficult time. Even with the difficulties, there were some rewarding moments. Some of the highlights included Chris Hammonds scoring twenty-two points against VanVleck and eighteen points scored against Danbury by Zach Randle.

With Coach Lacey's words of advice, "Do not worry about things beyond your control. Only concern yourself with those things that are within your control," the team members should be commended for giving a great effort all the way to the end of the season.

Reaching Upward

"Together." That is the motto of the girls basketball coach, Coach Hill. And 'together' is how the girls basketball team played the season. For the beginning of district play, the girls had one of the most memorable games of the season. In playing Danbury, Lacey Shindler made a basket with only a few seconds left on the clock to send the game into overtime. Teri Schneider hit the game winning shot at the end of overtime to give the Tigettes their first district win. Another highlight of the season included finishing second at the Boling Tournament.

The will to win is important, the will to prepare is vital.

JOE PATERNO

With the senior pitching staff as the backbone of the team, the Tiger team had several highlights of the season. In the Yorktown tournament, the team won two games with Travis Fuentes and Matt Krenek each pitching no hitters. Another highlight was Bubba Massey's home run hit against Van Vleck in Van Vleck. The playoff games against Brazos were probably the highlight of the season, because, as Coach Wuthrich states, "That's what it's all about." Making the playoff was the number one goal of the team and this was accomplished by tying with Van Vleck for second in the district.

Hey, Batter, Batter!

To the average watcher, softball may seem boring. But to team members, softball means thinking at all times. One mental mistake can mean the difference between winning and losing. This year, the Tigrette softball team worked very hard at learning the fundamentals of the game and keeping their minds on the game at all times. To that end, the future looks bright for the team. There were no senior members on the team so next year, all members will be returning as seasoned veterans.

A highlight of the season was a win against Schulenberg. The team scored four runs in the bottom of the seventh inning to beat the Schulenberg team.

Tiger Track...

In the Running

'TAXING.' That would be the word to describe the boys track season. Competition was fierce as the team competed against 3A and 4A schools in the six meets of the season. The Tigers did not win any of the meets but the members did compete well. The varsity and junior varsity team members competed with a lot of determination. As the track coach, Coach Jenkins advised his team members to 'just compete. Competing against bigger schools makes you work harder to try to win, therefore, making you a better athlete.'

Going the Distance

'Run hard, throw far!' These was the motto given to the girls track team by their coach, Coach Hill. He also gave the girls the advice that they must be willing to work harder than the girls at other schools. With this in mind, the Tigerette track team worked very hard and showed a lot of determination at the meets they competed in. The Junior Varsity team members won first place at the Tidehaven track meet. The highlight of the season came when Lacey Shindler qualified and competed in the shotput at the regional track meet.

Power Lifting...

Pushing for Power

"Powerlifting is not for everyone" as we all have been told, but it was for Coach Jenkins twenty lifters. They went to four meets including two junior varsity meets. The team took second place at the Columbus Varsity meet and the Junior Varsity won the JV division at Ganado. Two lifters qualified for the Regional meet in Kirbyville. The highlight of this season, as Coach Jenkins sees it, is Doyle Atkinson and Patrick Perez advancing to Regionals in the 242 pound class and the SHW Class respectively. Coach's words of advice to his athletes are "I always tell them to compete as best they can, no matter what happens. If they do not compete, they'll never know what they can accomplish."

Golf...

In the Swing of Things

'On the Way Back to Success' was Coach Jasek's motto for this year's golf team. The fairly young team hit better at each tournament they went to. Even though there were not enough girls to have a team for District, Bobbie Besler was able to qualify for regional in the singles division. The boys team won third at the district tournament. Some words of advice that Coach Jasek gives to her athletes are "Work on your game-keep playing, take any lessons that you can, and listen to the other golfers advice. This is a game you can play for life."

Serve It Up

"Getting better each year," is how Coach Jasek described the Tennis team this year. Being very pleased at the increase in participation, Coach looks forward to a better season next year. Although they did not have as many matches as the players would have liked, the tennis team had a doubles team and three individuals place in district at the Junior Varsity level. The highlight of the season was winning the Junior Varsity Boys team Championship at the District Meet. Coach Jasek's words of advice to her athletes are "play as much as you can, talk others into playing, and we will be much better next year."

Deadlines Don't Scare Us!

Four hard-working students and one tired advisor put together the yearbook for the 2001-2002 school year. With a lot of work and perseverance, the yearbook members tried to cover every aspect of student life at Tidehaven. Hopefully, this yearbook will serve as a record and a memory of the school year, giving students the chance to look back on their days at Tidehaven with good thoughts.

During the first weeks of school, staff members visited local businesses and organizations in the hopes of selling ads. Without this income, your yearbook would cost approximately $75. Be sure to check out the advertisements in the back of this yearbook and support those businesses that support Tidehaven.

Using the UltraVision program from Taylor Publishing, yearbook members worked many hours to put together a book that would include all students from Kindergarten to the Seniors. Staff members were responsible for writing articles, taking pictures, interviewing students, getting correct student parents night. A Homecoming Dance was sponsored by the club and held at the Blessing Elementary gym. Music for the dance was provided by Julian J & JAR.

To make money for all of these activities, the members worked in several concessions stands and used the commission money received from the snack machine. However, the club lost some money because they had to pay off the old snack machine and therefore, did not have much left in funds for other projects. Even with the lack of funds, members were still able to keep the paw prints in the front of the school looking good and sponsor a cash prize of $50 each semester given to one student who had perfect attendance and no tardies to class.

Members of Student Council started the year by putting up a welcome back poster in the front of the school and also putting individual welcomes with candy in each locker. During the football season, the council was responsible for providing flowers for the moms of football players on Hat days were a popular fund raiser for the club. For the price of one dollar, students received a pass permitting them to wear their hat or cap in class for the school day. Some of the money raised from these days was given to a student who had the misfortune of having his home bum.

Service With a Smile

The Tidehaven chapter of the National Honor Society welcomed fourteen new members into the organization on Monday, November 12, 2001 during their annual induction ceremony. The candlelight service was held in the library where each officer gave an interpretation of the organization's cardinal principles - - — Scholarship, Service, Leadership, and Character.

This year, instead of the annual convention, the Mid-Coast Association of NHS held a Leadership Conference for the current and incoming officers in Needville on May 1st. Our ten attending members took part in a variety of team building activities and instructional seminars. They also heard Congressional Medal of Honor recipient, Michael Thornton, give an account of his experiences in Vietnam as a Navy seal.

Miranda Trevino waits to write down next year's officers, while Michelle Hickl closes nominations during a NHS meeting.

Throughout the year, members worked hard to accomplish their service hours by mentoring, peer tutoring, donating blood, and other community, church, and school-related volunteer activities.

The Women's Crisis Center was the receiver of six baby blankets that were made by members of the club. Members stayed after school to sew and then tack the blankets to give to babies and children who may have been taken out of a bad or scary home life. The club plans to continue this worthy cause during the next school year.

Eight hundred cookies were sold for the annual Valentine cookie sales. Members spent many hours selling, mixing, baking and delivering the cookies. The money raised with this project is used to buy supplies for community service projects, attend regional and state meeting and for the end-of-school trip. Members who attended the regional meeting in January at the Hyatt Regency in Houston were Kara Saha, Jeanice Thompson, Amber Gilchrist and Sabrina Gilchrist. The club's end-of-school trip was to Astroworld in Houston in June.

Cows and More

Tidehaven FFA began the year with an ice cream social for the first meeting. In October, the club held their fourth annual Greenhand camp and invited four surrounding schools. In the morning, leadership sessions were held for the attendees and the afternoon was spent in cooperative teamwork games. Jim Black, Kristan Streams and Mr. Comelius traveled to Louisville, Kentucky, where they received the National Chapter Rating Award for the chapter. During the months of November, January, February, March and April, members participated in judging contests in Sealy, San Antonio, Victoria, Katy and College Station.

Members had many chances for showing their animals in competition. Some of the shows that members took their animals to included San Antonio, Houston, Fort Worth and the Matagorda County Fair.

Reaching Goals

The John Ben Shepperd Public Leadership Institute is a program of The University of Texas of the Permian Basin and is sponsored locally by the Lower Colorado River Authority, hence the name, LCRA Leadership Team. This student portion of the Institute offers young people the opportunity to learn leadership skills, communication styles, and goal setting skills and heightens their awareness of responsible citizenship.

Members of the Tidehaven chapter of LCRA are chosen by a committee of faculty members. This year, the members of the group chose a community service project of restoring the High School gazebo. A Hat Day was held to raise money for supplies and then, the students stayed after school to make repairs to the gazebo and also to paint the gazebo in school colors.

Christian Athletes

The Tidehaven Chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes was started this year by Coach and Mrs. Lacey. FCA is a club that brings students together from all denominations. They are given a support group for developing their Christian life. Also, for those people that do not choose to go to a specific church, the FCA gives them an alternative for a place to belong.

The organization started off the school year by meeting every two weeks. At some of the meetings, they had a guest speaker from different churches in the community. For their fundraiser, students took orders for carnations for Valentine's day. The flowers were delivered on Valentine's day to lucky recipients at both the high school and the intermediate school.

In Step, In Tune

The High School Band stayed very busy during the school year. The band started preparing for football half time shows and marching contest. After marching contest, the band prepared for the annual Christmas Concert performed in December. Also, during this time, students prepared for Region Band auditions. Four band members made the all region band: Angie Darby, Galen Evens, David Galvan, and Ashlee Huffman. Angie Darby placed high enough to qualify for Area Band and a chance to audition for state. In February, Jeffrey Wendel and Angie Darby attended Solo and Ensemble contest. Angie brought home a first division rating and a gold medal to boot!

The Spring UIL presentation was "The Marvelous Playbill" by Tim Kelly. With weekly meetings and hard work, these students made their production a huge hit. At the District competition, David Galvan was selected to the All-Star Cast. Doyle Atkinson and Lacey Shindler received Honorable Mention for their acting in the play. After District competition, the club members presented the play in front of family and friends during the dinner theatre, which was held in cooperation with Project Graduation.

It's Time To Get Loud!

During the 2001-2002 school year, the Varsity and Junior Varsity cheerleaders, along with the mascot, attended National Cheerleading Association summer camp in Corpus Christi. Despite the extremely hot weather, the group did a great job learning new cheers and skits and earning several red and blue ribbons for their performances. In the summer, the cheerleaders held their annual Mini-cheerleading Camp for elementary students and had several fund-raising activities.

On the first day of school, students were welcomed with brightly decorated hallways, thanks to the cheerleaders! Football games were fun for the girls. They always had spirited run-throughs for the players and they helped keep the crowd cheering.

Kara Cummings and Racheal Kudelka help the mini-cheerleaders through a cheer during the football game.

Pep rallies took a lot of practice, patience and many last minute adjustments, but in the end, the rallies turned out well with a lot of fun for both students and cheerleaders.

Because of the girls' enduring efforts, this year was a GREAT year for the cheerleaders!

U.I.L. Academic Events

The University Interscholastic League believes that most students enjoy the pursuit of excellence and seek opportunities to test themselves against their own accomplishments and those of their peers. These opportunities are best provided through properly conducted and equitable administered competitive activities. The invaluable lessons that young people learn in UIL competition prepare them for lives of achievement.

To this end, THS participates in academic competition. This year, the academic squad traveled to Whatron to compete in district competition on March 22. Those who placed in the top three positions went on to regional competition in San Marcos on April 20.

TEC 4 - Albert C. Herreth, Jr.

"To you who answered the call of your country and served in its Armed Forces to bring about the total defeat of the enemy, I extend the heartfelt thanks of a grateful Nation. As one of the Nation's finest, you undertook the most severe task one can be called upon to perform. Because you demonstrated the fortitude, resourcefulness and calm judgment necessary to carry out that task, we now look to you for leadership and example in further exalting our country in peace."

Harry Truman, United States President, 1946

The Tidehaven class of 2002 will always remember their graduation ceremony, not only because of all the hard work it took to graduate, but also because of the special graduate that was included in their commencement exercises.

With the passage of Texas Education Code 28.0251, a school district may now issue a high school diploma to veterans who were honorably discharged members of the armed forces of the United States, scheduled to graduate from high school after 1940 and before 1951, and left high school before graduation to serve in World War II.

While attending Blessing High School, A.C. Herreth, Jr. volunteered for service and was inducted on the second of January, 1945. He served in the Asiatic-Pacific Campaign during World War II and received his honorable discharge from the army on November 15, 1946. Because of his service, A.C. was not able to graduate with his classmates in 1945 but was able to finally receive his diploma at this year's graduation exercises. This was a special moment for A.C., his family and friends, the class of 2002 and everyone attending.

The Tiger yearbook staff members who include Stephanie Bigelow, Hannah Brown, Kaci McGuire, and Veronica Picon are proud to present the 2002 Tiger. The press run was 150 copies, consisting of 160 pages with one four page color tip-in. The book was printed on 80# enamel paper. The book sold for $27 presale in November, $30 presale in March, with an addition $3 for cover name. At distribution time in August, the books were available for $36 on a first come basis.

Portraits and group pictures were taken by Neil's Photography of Needville and Life Touch studios. Candid photos were taken primarily by staff photographers, with some photos provided as a courtesy by others. The yearbook was produced using the UltraVision yearbook computer design program from Taylor Publishing Company.

The Tiger is produced using only monies raised by staff members. Fundraisers include selling ads for the yearbook and providing supplies for football concession stands, in addition to yearbook sales.
