FOREWORD —

Bay City is the hub of commerce, industry and ranching in Matagorda County, as we have attempted to show on the cover of your 1982 Black Cat.

And, similarly, Bay City High School can be considered as the center of learning even though there are four smaller school districts in the county.

Our students come from families that are intimately connected with a western heritage which has expanded to include not only ranching and farming, but also a multi-billion-dollar nuclear power plant, a thriving chemical industry, a healthy gas and oil economy, and a construction industry that also builds beautiful new homes and shopping centers.

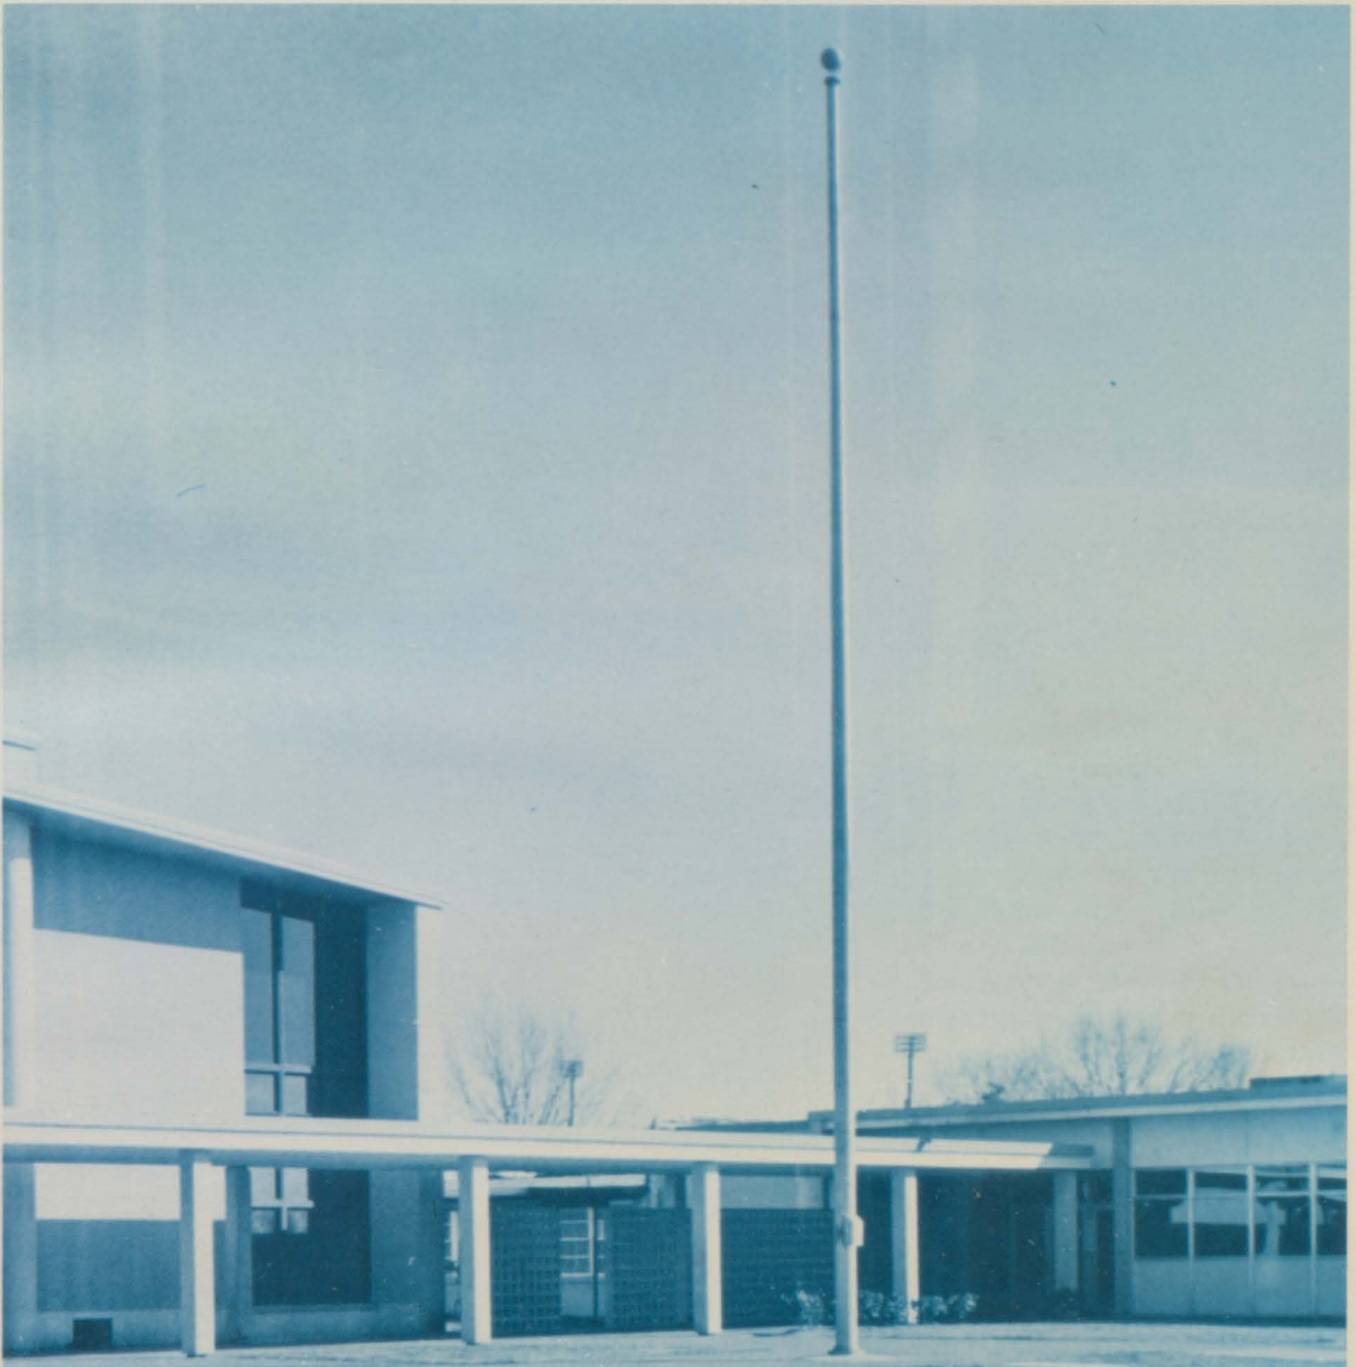

The staff salutes the past and future of the county with this edition and spotlights some of the most interesting landmarks of our area.

We probably have missed some of the pictures you might have included. But, we hope that you generally will be pleased with what is here and return to the pages of your annual in the distant future to recall the days when BCHS was the center of your life.

1. Charge for victory!
2. Proud mothers and sons.
3. Excitement lingers in the halls.
4. Enough said.
5. Seniors add just the right touch.
6. The traditional queen's ride.
7. The nominees practice in their "fifties-day" attire.
8. And the 1982 Homecoming queen is . . .

Homecoming brings excitement

Homecoming was full of excitement and good times for all.

The students enjoyed "Fifties-Day" activities during the day and the Black Cat victory over Wharton made it all complete.

The Homecoming queen for 1981-82 was Denise Chambers.

She was presented to the crowd in pre-game ceremonies and reigned over the Homecoming Dance held after the Black Cat victory.

Fifties Day relives gaity

The "Fifties Day" Pep Rally began with enthusiasts dressed out in slicked hair, baggy pants, ponytails and petticoats.

A jitterbug festival, led by the cast of "Grease", also added to the fun and the Aristocats performed a sassy dance to the tune of "Rock Around the Clock."

Truly a memorable pep rally, the spirit lasted and concluded with a homecoming victory.

1. Cheerleaders in petticoats and jeans.
2. Roland gives "his" version.
3. . . .a 'rockin' and a 'rollin'

Pep rally cheers

For 10 Fridays in the fall, the entire student body gathered at 2:45 p.m. to cheer the athletes and compete for the school spirit stick.

Each week the cheerleaders challenged the students to show their spirit on Friday by participating in different themes.

These ranged from Fifties Day to Punk Day.

Students found the rallies and theme days as much a part of school as the football games.

1. We have spirit!
2. Ye-e-e — Ha-a-aw!
3. Set to go
4. Swinging out

Rice Festival attracts 'cats

Bay City's Annual Rice Festival was spotlighted by a beauty contest which lasted for three days and featured many local coeds as well as out-of-town girls.

This year's contest found Lori Graham, Paula Minkert, and Daphne McKinney among the trophy winners.

Waiting for the parade to begin

The Rice Festival also furnished a carnival with rides, food booths, and games, and the Fair-goers weren't all "little kids."

These were the days —

1. "Goo-O-od MOR-ning! May we have your attention?!"
2. "Me? I'm an urban cowgirl!"
3. "Thank goodness it's Friday!"
4. "We're all tied up"

always

1. "It's my turn to talk!"
2. It's the only hat I own"
3. "We're just a couple of swells"
4. "We're learning sign language"

Halloween Madness

For the second year in a row, Halloween was on a weekend and students were allowed to wear costumes to show their spirit.

1. It's a bird. It's a . . .
2. Pierrot and Coppelia
3. May I help you?
4. What's more appropriate?
5. Trick or Treat!

1. What a pair!
2. Raggedy Ann and Andy
3. The alarm clock didn't go off.
4. Chief harem girl.
5. Three peas in a pod.

Punk Day fun

Riding the wave of a popular British musical sensation, the cheerleaders sponsored a Punk Rock Day.

Way-out makeup and costumes suggested future trends for the best-dressed lists.

1. Miss, America.
2. "I'm a superfreak."
3. Real mod maid.
4. Hair today . . .
5. Radical man.

When it rains

September rains turned the campus into a watery wonderland that amazed newcomers but only served to amuse long-time residents of the Matagorda County area.

With any luck, the same scenes occur in the spring time, too!

Madrigal adds magic

Heralding the holiday season, the BCHS choir invited the community to join in its annual Madrigal.

For the past two seasons, this traditional event has been held in the Service Center which features a high-windowed auditorium that the choir is able to convert into a mighty bard's hall.

As for the past few years, the festivities were "presided over" by his genial lordship, Sir Bill of the House of Spacek. This year his lovely Lady Spacek was also able to attend.

Choir director was Richard Tinker. Music accompaniment was provided by Maestro John Reinke and his select musicians.

1981-1982 Board of Trustees

Charged with setting policies to meet the student educational goals of patrons of Bay City Independent School District, the Board of Trustees spends many hours working for the benefit of all students.

Dr. R. L. McMichael, Superintendent of Schools, BCISD

Professionals direct programs

Heading BCISD as chief executive officer is Dr. R. L. McMichael, Superintendent.

Assisting him are two long-term administrators. They are Eddie G. Jecmenek, Assistant Superintendent for Business Affairs and Sam Maglitto, Assistant Superintendent for Curriculum and Instruction.

Eddie G. Jecmenek, Business Manager

Sam Maglitto, Curriculum Director

Black Cat administrators offer leadership

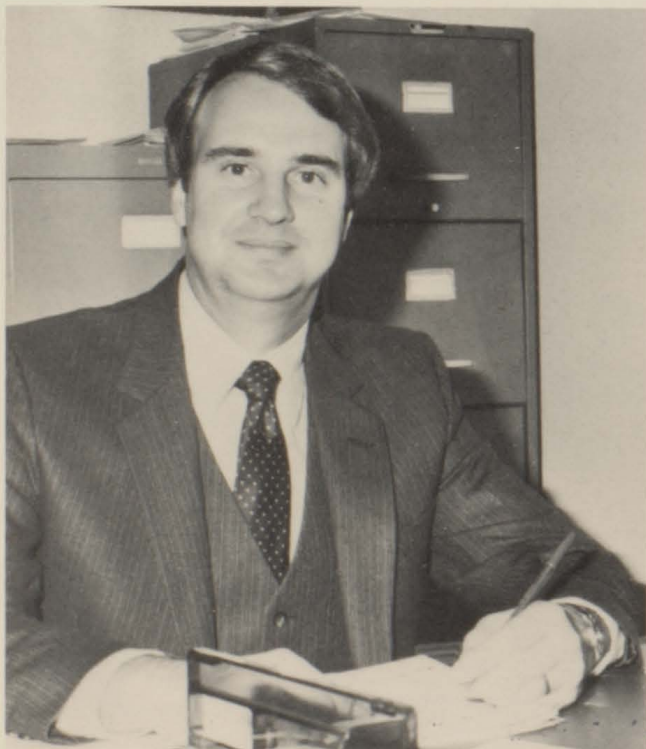

Guiding the student body through sometimes hectic, sometimes calm activities during the high school years are the three men in "the front office" at BCHS.

Familiar figures at off-campus as well as on-campus events, they are Principal Bobby Kimball, and Assistant Principals Orlando Schraub and Richard Walton.

And, no matter what the subject, ranging from a senior's hard-luck tale of why he was late getting back from lunch, to a freshman's dilemma over forgetting his locker combination, they can be counted on for advice.

Counselors know all

It doesn't take long for students to become acquainted with counselors at BCCHS.

With their help, schedules are arranged, graduation requirements are met, and, even jobs and scholarships are found.

Standing behind vocational counselor Joseph (Buzz) Murphy are Nanciruth Cox and Lillian Willis.

Vocational department serves needs of area-wide school patrons

Vocational Director Robert Matthews

Serving an area-wide audience is the Vocational Department under the direction of Robert Matthews.

Fully equipped shops and qualified teaching personnel direct students who plan to seek careers in auto mechanics, agriculture, cosmetology, business offices, merchandising, health occupations, welding, construction trades, and food services.

Staff members aid administrators, counselors

Details of student records and school business are efficiently handled by the clerical staff.

Their sensitive work includes talking on the phone to parents and making appointments for the school administrators, parents and students.

In addition, the school nurse this year had to face and overcome the challenge of making sure that each student met the legislative mandate for measles immunization.

Keeping track of excused and unexcused absences is the important job of Jan Langston and Peggy Schraub.

Bright smiles and pleasant telephone voices are found at the front desk where Betty Coney and Kim Marceaux preside.

Health and course credits are the domain of Nurse Ginny Jackson and Mary Domstead.

Experts at finding sources in the Learning Center

Learning Center aids everyone

The Learning Center provides resources for teachers and students.

In addition to print media, the center also services audio-visual equipment and materials.

Waiting for their next request for help are Sally Arnold, Lou Brown, and head librarian Elizabeth Young.

Plan 'A', Resource, Bi-Lingual classes held

Plan special programs to meet special needs

Providing an appropriate educational experience to those who need special assistance are the members of the various assisting teacher programs.

Added to the staff this year on the high school level was a secondary-level bilingual education class.

Staffers include (reading clockwise): Pete Hale, Pat Ashton, Elvira Barela, Mary Sullivan, Hope Flores, Daisy Perez and Jean Deadrick.

Home Economics remain popular

The Home Economics Dept. helps to prepare students for their future by equipping them with some of the "home basics" needed by both guys and girls.

In addition to homemaking classes, students can enroll in home-and-family courses in their junior or senior year.

Students in these classes are automatically eligible for membership in the Future Homemakers of America Chapters.

Vi Sullivan, Lottie Witherspoon and Phyllis Dutil

Vocational Homemaking prepares workers

Home economics skills that are valued in the food industries dominate the curriculum of students enrolled in the vocational homemaking courses.

These students also gain valuable work experience under the supervision of school coordinators and community employers.

Membership in HERO and HECE are an important part of their program and provide a special club spirit.

Ann Williams and Shirley Hart

Annie David, Myrna Pontiff and Blanche Johnson

Secretarial, accounting skills can be learned

Bookkeeping, stenography, typing, and even business law can be studied in the business department at BCHS.

Equipped with this knowledge, students are qualified to seek employment in offices or use these skills to make their college studies easier.

Vocational teachers, supervisors forge link

Special block-of-time crafts programs and pre-vocational programs are made available through the vocational department.

Skilled teachers prepare students for entry-level posts in area businesses and trades.

Vocational supervisors help place qualified students with cooperating program employers and assist in evaluating the teenagers as they learn specific job details.

Science courses range spectrum

Newest staffer, Vicki McClain, visits with mother, Mrs. Daniel and District Science Coordinator Mays

A new offering in the science department this year was Marine Biology. Taught by Dianne Frankson, it offered a chance for students to take field trips to study firsthand the marine life of nearby Matagorda Bay and Gulf of Mexico.

Other course offerings for budding scientists included environmental science, biology, physics and chemistry.

Instructors challenge students in science

Instruction available in French, Spanish, and German for interested students

Instructors know value of foreign languages

The foreign languages offered include French, German, and Spanish. Besides learning to read, write, and conjugate verbs, foreign language students study the histories of the languages, the countries and their cultures.

Instructors are Garth Parker, German; Jan Brown, French; and Eugenio Milian, Spanish.

Teachers exchange notes at brief meeting

Math courses meet needs

Whether a person needs to know how to balance a checkbook, or how to operate a minicomputer, this knowledge can be acquired in the math department at BCHS.

The talented group of teachers stands ready to help students learn the intricacies and mysteries of the world of facts and figures.

English dept. communicates

Teachers of language arts — English — are found in the 500-Wing, a building on the south-side of the campus.

BCISD requires four years of English for graduation and subjects range from the usual grammar studies to a survey of literature in the ninth and tenth grade, to American Literature, and the foundations of British literature and mythology in the twelfth grade.

Some students substitute an introductory course in speech for ½-credit in English, but all of them get the experience of writing a formal research paper in the junior and/or senior year.

G. Brown, Howze, Parker and Cordes

Faseler, Hinds, Fountain, Klawon, J. Brown, Ludwig, Cribb, McMichael, and Hamilton

Fine Arts offer cultural pursuits

Coaches inspire talented students

Speech, drama and art appeal to both the artist and the observer.

Dana Hamilton guided the drama department through a successful and challenging year highlighted by the production of "Grease" in the early fall and "To Kill a Mockingbird" as the BCHS One-Act Play entry.

Jan Brown led aspiring speech and debate squad members through their grueling series of contests in preparation for the UIL spring competitions.

And, Joe Cobb directed the efforts of school artists.

The Black Cat Music Men keep good sounds coming

Quintet for music

Band and choir members were directed by a talented group of five men this year.

These included choir director Richard Tinker, and band directors John Reinke, Bob Curtis, Jim Popham and Dean Parsons.

Social Studies informs

Knowledge about the world and its peoples is found in the social studies department.

Students also learn about the political parties of the United States.

Teachers supplement classroom work with frequent films showing other peoples and other cultures.

The junior and senior government classes also learn how democracy works and what they must know to be knowledgeable citizens.

Ag instructors fill area need

Bender joins Acuff for 1981-1982 year

Serving the needs of a predominantly rural-oriented segment of the Bay City High School student body are the vo-ag instructors, Wayne Bender and Norman Acuff.

Under their direction, students become proficient in the agricultural sciences.

Preparing show animals for the Matagorda County Fair is also an important annual challenge. Some students even show their animals and win prizes at competitions held in other parts of the region.

Spacek and Pennington take a few minutes' breather

IA Shop appeals to craftsmen

The Industrial Arts shop contains facilities to instruct students in crafts and skills that they can enjoy as hobbies as well as vocational fields.

Directed by Paul Pennington and William Spacek, students can learn crafts that range from photography and electrical wiring to drafting, woodworking, and handling small industrial tools.

Coaches build

Long hours and hard work go into the building of successful Black Cat athletic teams.

The men and women who dedicate their lives to coaching the youth of the District are truly the unsung heroes of every game.

This year Bay City was fortunate enough to add the service of a professional trainer who worked to help young athletes overcome the pain and injury that often occurs on the playing field.

At Top: Centilli, Tanguma, Wendtland, Carlin and Brown. Bottom: Gilzow, Nelson, Coach Mills, Jones and Sardelich.

After 33 Years Mr. Haley Will 'Retire'

A deeply respected member of the BCHS faculty turns in his building keys for the last time this year.

He is Don Haley, dean of the Social Studies staff. He first joined the district in 1949 when the new high school boasted 20 teachers and one principal.

Fresh out of Baylor, he was an assistant coach for C. B. Roland. After earning his master's degree in history in 1953, he became the Black Cat head coach, a challenging post he held for 18 years.

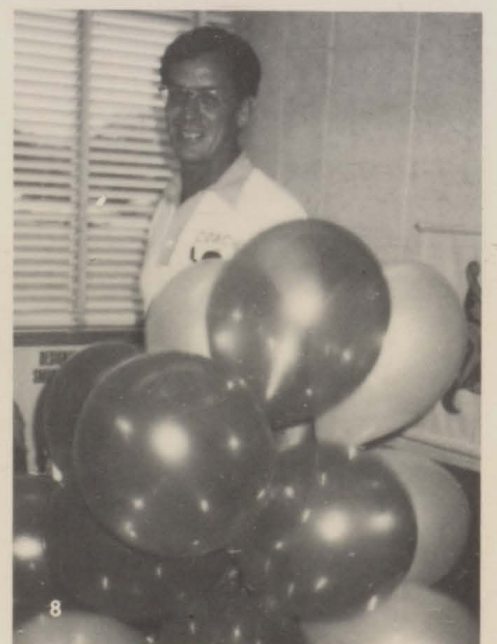

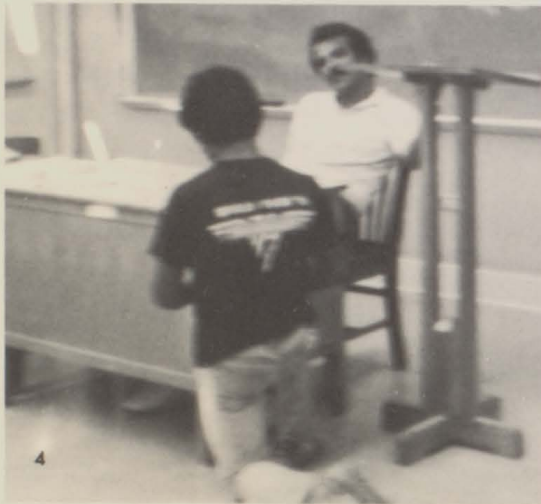

Although he will no longer stroll the halls during regular school hours, Mr. Haley will continue teaching WCJC history courses and working with the BCISD Adult Education program.

... Good teachers never retire, they just find new ways to keep educating!

Staff Does Book

Armed with new status as an elective credit in Journalism, the annual staff worked hard to produce a memorable book.

Faced with soaring production costs in a year of recession, the staff managed to avoid going into the red while presenting a quality book you can be proud to own.

Long hours 'pay off' for band

At least a month before school begins each year, members of the Black Cat band receive letters announcing the start of morning and evening practice sessions.

The hard, long process continues through the football season and on into spring as the members sharpen their skills as musicians and drill corps members.

The dedication and hard work bring results in first place rankings, not only among their personal fans, but also among the judges who rate their performances.

"Paris in the spring" — for real!

A trip to Paris in the spring was the special topping served to some of the members of Bay City High's French Club.

Under the leadership of "Madame Brown", members found several unique ways to practice their French and have fun, too.

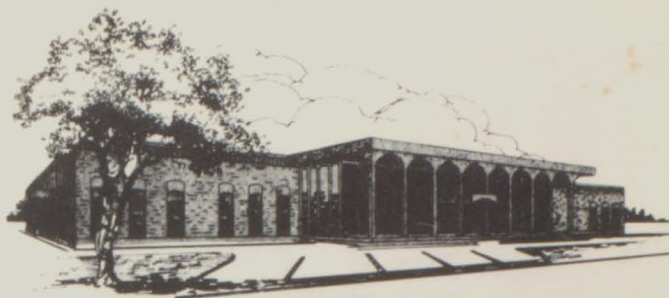

Highlights of the year also included a trip to see a mime show in action and a visit to a French restaurant.

So popular has the French program been this year, that the School Board approved a third year of French studies.

Consequently, there will be even more activities next year.

There may be no mountains in Matagorda County, but members of the German Club can probably describe the beauties of Bavaria, which, incidentally, doesn't look much different from the country around Fredericksburg, Shiner and Hallettsville.

Magic Circle weavers spell

The Magic Circle drew many crowds to its activities during the year.

The Fall musical, "Grease", was a community-wide sell-out and the One-Act Play contest production of "To Kill a Mockingbird" proved very thought-provoking.

Indeed, sponsors Dana Hamilton and Jan Brown turned out to be quite a tireless dynamic-duo behind the scenes.

FTA offers incentive

The Future Teachers of America Chapter at BCHS continued its traditional duty of helping make the teachers feel that their efforts are appreciated.

The many members of the group also participated in ongoing projects throughout the year.

Their exposure to the profession of teaching is expected to confirm their wishes to "follow the footsteps" of some of their favorite instructors while enrolled in the school and in the FTA.

And, to assist them, some scholarship aid is made available by the professional teacher groups.

TALA aids library, young writers

TALA members like all-things literary

An interest in all things literate characterizes members of the Teenage Library Association chapter on campus.

Their interests allow them to participate in workshops for like-minded young people and they also promote the writing and publishing of the school's literary magazine, "Kaleidoscope."

Trade skills prove popular

A trade that is most useful today, auto mechanics, continues to increase in popularity. Students work in a "block of time" at the automotive shop located in the modern vocational education building. The instructor is Bobby Evans.

Also drawing many students are the classes in construction trades. The Co-ordinated Vocational Academic Education (CVAE) classes for boys are conducted by Bill Brooks. These students are especially helpful in providing labor for community construction projects.

Volleyball Stars Shine

Hope Flores' quick striking volleyball teams kept District 14-AAA opponents on their toes this year.

They did well enough to catch all-district nominations for three team members. Juniors Claudette Roberson and Terri Kirby were named to the all-district first and second teams, respectively; while Jessie Jecmenek was given honorable mention plaudits.

Fall Cross-Country Tests Stamina

Marshall Brown's cross-country team proved its hardiness in races over hills and dales in a fall-season peppered by cold and rain.

They also sponsored again their highly successful cross-country invitational meet which started from beautiful LeTulle Park, located across the Colorado River from Bay City.

Fired up and Ready Cats

The 1981-82 football season was characterized by a slow start against two tough pre-district opponents. The Cats, however, caught fire in district and finished 3rd with a 6-4 season record.

The 1981-82 Junior Varsity football team followed the varsity's example and ended their season with a 3-6-1 record.

The 1981-82 Freshman team fared best of all three squads with their 10-0 season record.

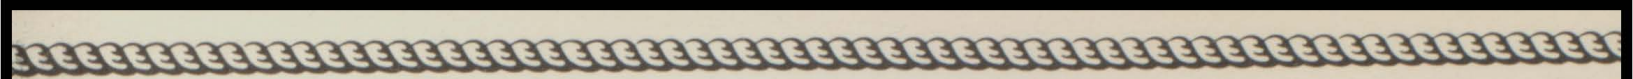

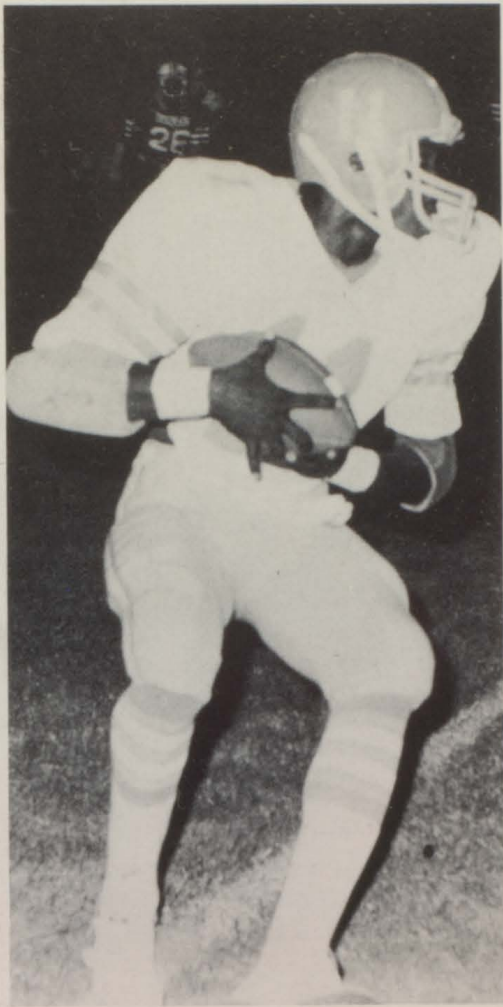

The fighting Blackcat Varsity team had a 6-4 win-loss record this season. They showed a great amount of effort in their games and the coaches did a fine job with the players this year.

State-Class

Showing their winning form, Black Cat cagers were honored by four members named to "ideal teams."

Senior guards Ivan Pettit and Shawn Gaskin were First Team with Leonard Eaton Second Team and Bill Bradley honorable mention.

Coach Nelson earned his long-deserved "Coach of the Year" title and Ivan was voted Most Valuable Player.

Girls Battle to Play offs

The Black Cat girls' team also dominated District 14-4A basketball play and won their third consecutive title.

As they advanced to the regional game, the girls earned many individual honors.

Audry Smith clinched the Most Valuable Player Award. She was also named to the All-District team along with teammates Pam Brown and Peggy Franklin.

Honorable Mention praise went to Rebecca Alexander and Jan Duey.

Coach Mattie Sue Ringgold experienced a "first" in 27 years of coaching when Audry and Pam were both named to the Associated Press All-State Team at the end of the season.

Girls Begin Rebuilding

With no seniors on her squad, Coach Mattie Sue Ringgold fielded a fresh group of feminine tracksters this year.

Third-year veterans Donna Grasmuck, and Terri Kirby were joined by Lynn Brown, Sandy Cantrell, Audrey Cavit, Vickie Cubillos, Brenda Cumberbatch, Angella Ellis, Karen Falks, Debra Gatson, Laura Godsey, Pam Johnson, Bonnie Monroe, Betra Parker, Tonie Perez, Sonya Smith, Kelly Stuard, Debbie Trevino and Tiffini Wallace.

Track Teams Show Versatility, Speed

Coach Marshall Brown's track and field men set records that were noted throughout the area.

Winning special acclaim were high jumper Roland Mitchell and pole vaulter Neal Craft who placed early in state rankings. Roland cleared a 7-0½-foot-span early-on and Neal soared a lofty 14-7-foot height before the season ended.

Mitchell, Sheldon Fletcher and Greg Simons in high jump events, and Neal Craft, Scott Steves, Daniel Hawkins and Mike Tomek in the pole vault event set the pace for scooping up medals.

Varsity track and field squads added exciting records in '82 season.

Swimmers Earn New Accolades

The six-year-old swimming program reached a milestone with the sending of sophomore Steve Grein to the UIL State Swim Meet in Austin.

Tiffany Tietz, another sophomore, barely missed out on State-ranking as she was edged-out in the Region 5 competition.

A record 10 swimmers earned positions in the regional competition. And, with a minimal number of graduating seniors, Coach Laura expects even more records in '83.

Golfers Enjoy Life on Tees

Student golfers learn a sport they can enjoy throughout their lifetime.

Only three girls competed until the end of the season but Coach Adams had a large number of anxious competitors for spots in the district men's competition.

Seniors Ronnie O'Neal and Rebecca Bossley continued their winning ways down the links as they lead the trail of low scorers.

Black Cat Team's No 'Diamond in Rough'

Coach Walt Wendtland's baseball squad provided plenty of excitement for the fans in a season that saw great plays and pitching.

David Pena could be counted on in the clutch to pull out the needed fastballs and curves on opposing batters.

In addition to the hardy full-season players, the team also took advantage of the skills of athletes recruited at the end of the basketball season.

Subvarsity Teams Work Hard

Although their games do not draw the crowds that the varsity squads command, the JV and freshman squads learn the plays that make them leading scorers in their sports.

Cheerleader Hopefuls 'Try-Out' Time

March brought election time once again and hopeful candidates for places on the cheerleading squads presented cheers and yells at a specially arranged pep rally.

Seniors, of course, were not allowed to attend since these will be the girls leading next year's call to victory on the athletic field and court.

Steady, up there, girls!

Yes, you're supposed to be here.

We'll get better by next fall.

STUDENT LIFE

CSB

Blood Drive Succeeds

Spotlighting National Heart Month, the Student Council called upon students, faculty, and community members to participate in the annual February Blood Drive.

Understanding teachers offered words of comfort to woozy students who arrived tardy to class and sympathetic school mates often offered to take class notes for those unable to do so after contributing their pint of life-saving fluid.

Behind-the-Scenes —

Hard-working and dedicated students who are seldom seen by the audience are an essential part of any successful stage production.

Here just a few members of the crew take a day to show what goes on back-stage to elementary students who came to high school on a field trip.

Perhaps they, too, will eventually perform at BCHS.

Mythology Provokes Imagination

Interpreting the myths of the ancient world is a challenging part of English 403.

Students in this year's classes resorted to a wide variety of presentations for class members, ranging from skits to narrations to game shows. They were all members of English 403 classes.

My friend is now a flower?

Adonis and Hyacinthus begin game.

Classrooms Offer More Than Just Learning

Classrooms offer a wide variety of learning environments to meet the needs of different students as well as different subjects as these candid shots around BCHS show.

Editors like solitude.

Teachers like center-front.

Some like group work.

Some like panels and moderators.

Vocational Skills Popular

Talents that can be put to use during the school years and then transfer directly to the world of work are learned in the vocational programs.

After learning the basics of their vocational field, many continue to earn and learn.

Spring-time, Show-time

Three outstanding musical and drama productions hit the boards of Keye Ingram Auditorium in May. There were the Aristocats "Live in Concert," the Top Cats Variety Show, and the comedy "Dear Ruth" which was directed by senior drama student Dinna Robinson.

Shown are scenes from the Aristocats and drama production.

... Our apologies to the band for a lost roll of film taken of their terrific show. Those who attended will always remember the great music and special effects, the highly-memorable surfing number by the senior boys and Mr. Spacek's country-western parody.

Sports Picnics Honors Spring Athletes

Most valuable players line up for final moment

Athletes whose sports take up most of the spring semester gathered at Celanese Park for their Booster Club picnic and awards ceremony.

Two "top ten" athletes were cited as "most academic." They were basketball letterman Jan Duey, who is 1982 Valedictorian, and tennis letterman Doyle Simons.

Basketball guard Shawn Gaskin was named MVP with guard Ivan Petitt, who earned a Rice University Scholarship, was cited as the most outstanding player. Audrey Smith earned the outstanding girl basketball player award and University of Texas Scholarship. Teammate Pam Brown was named as most dependable "Lady Cat."

For the second year in a row, Ronnie O'Neal and Rebecca Bossley were named most outstanding golfers. Regional qualifier Tiffany Tietz received the MVP for the girls' swimming team while sixth-place state finalist Stephen Grein captured the boy's most outstanding honor.

Linda Andrade earned a second listing as most valuable girl tennis player while the outstanding male tennis award went to Mark Brown.

Junior baseball star Daniel Pena was named MVP and cited as "best pitcher" for the Black Cat baseball team. Third baseman Leappy Callis was recognized as the best hitter on the team. These ball players were also recognized for earning slots on the 14-4A all-district team with shortstop Randy Lynch named to the all-district second team.

Roland Mitchell earned the MVP award in track by becoming one of the select group of individual athletes ever to receive a gold state medal. He high jumped six-feet-ten-inches at Austin. Freshman Angie Ellis rated as the MVP coed trackster for coping a bronze medal in the shot put at the regional track meet held at Huntsville. Terry Kirby was cited as the most valuable player from the volleyball season.

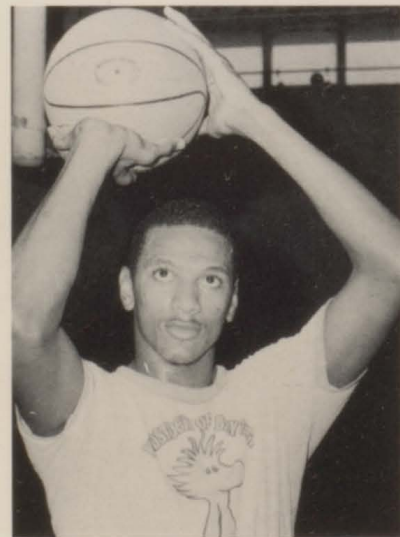

And, fighting heart awards were presented to baseball catcher Steve Gasaway, and swimmer Lynne Hennessy.

Here's how we used to look . . . . .

The mighty seniors of '82 began their days much like other "little kids," as shown by these photos raided from family picture books.

Try to guess who they are today . . . And, when you give up, check on page 194.

1. Pamper-model.

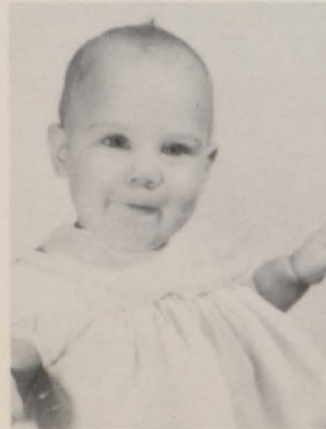

2. I see you!

3. See my toothie!

4. Patty-cake time.

5. Keeping time.

6. I'm ready.

7. Handsome dude.

8. I'm ready, too!

9. Two-tooth guy.

from pages of family albums

1. Sitting pretty.

2. Swinging pretty.

3. Kneeling pretty.

4. Finger-lickin'.

5. Calling direct.

6. Peter Pan collar.

7. Turtleneck.

8. Smiling through ...

9. Tutu-time.

Senior Day!

The bus should be here now!

Mrs. Sullivan checks list

Now, what's so funny in that book?

Any film in that camera?

Even 'though unseasonably cool weather and over-hanging clouds dampened the day, they could not dampen the '82 senior spirit.

Traditionally, Senior Day marks the beginning of "countdown" days that bring to a close the four-year adventure that is "high school."

Students enjoyed playing ball games, throwing frisbees, swimming, and stuffing themselves with barbecue.

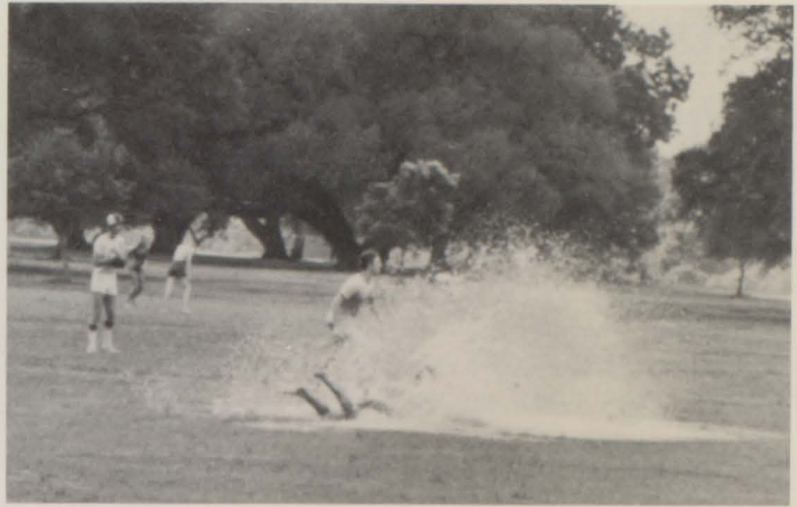

Come on in the water and stop watching us!

Watch out! . . .

Funtime Finally Arrives

Sliding into home, or water-skiing?

Stack those plates plenty full

Just like at Dairy Queen . . .

Time to talk and make big plans

Any film in that camera?

Prom Night Provides Memories

Just waiting for the festivities to begin

Waiting for a disco-beat

We've got rhythm down to our toes.

Swinging to a perfect tune

Senior Prom King and Queen

Juniors Sponsor Annual Event

Climaxing a year of fund raising, the Junior Class honored the graduating seniors with a Southern Plantation prom.

Held at the KC Hall, on the Saturday evening after the Senior Picnic, the dance was highlighted by the announcing of this year's Senior Prom king, Kenneth Davis, and Senior Prom queen, Cindi Centilli. They were elected by members of the senior class to reign over the night's festivities.

Much fun was had by all who put behind them thoughts of that final week of school which lay ahead.

Debbie as a Southern Miss

Swing low, Sweet Chariots . . .

Traditional Rites Mark Graduation

Are we really going to wear these?

Hurry up and wait a while

That's my number, up there

Does it have to ruin our hair?

Here we are, Ms. Cox, like you said

Yea, we guys wore gowns and ties

Let's get this over with:

So, this is really graduation time

You're on someone's list

What a swell party this is!

Now, be serious!

Just a few more times together

Commencement is worth the price.

Presenting the Mighty Seniors

Class colors:
Blue and gold

Class flower:
The yellow rose

Class song:
"Don't stop believing"
— by Journey

... the Class of 1982!

Class motto:

Yesterday is already a dream,

Tomorrow a vision;

Today well-lived

Makes every yesterday

A dream of happiness

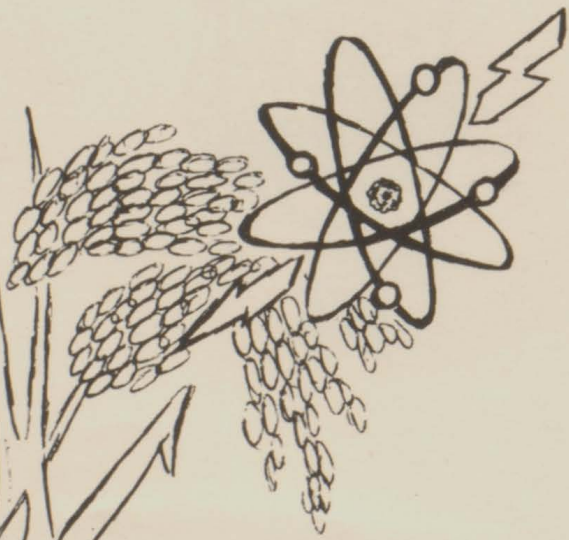

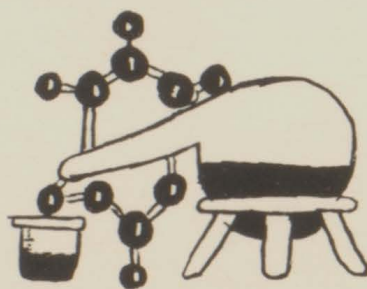

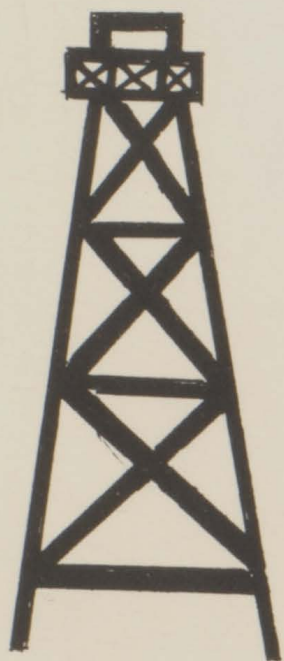

and

Tomorrow a vision of hope.

AND THIS IS THE YEAR THAT WAS
1981-1982

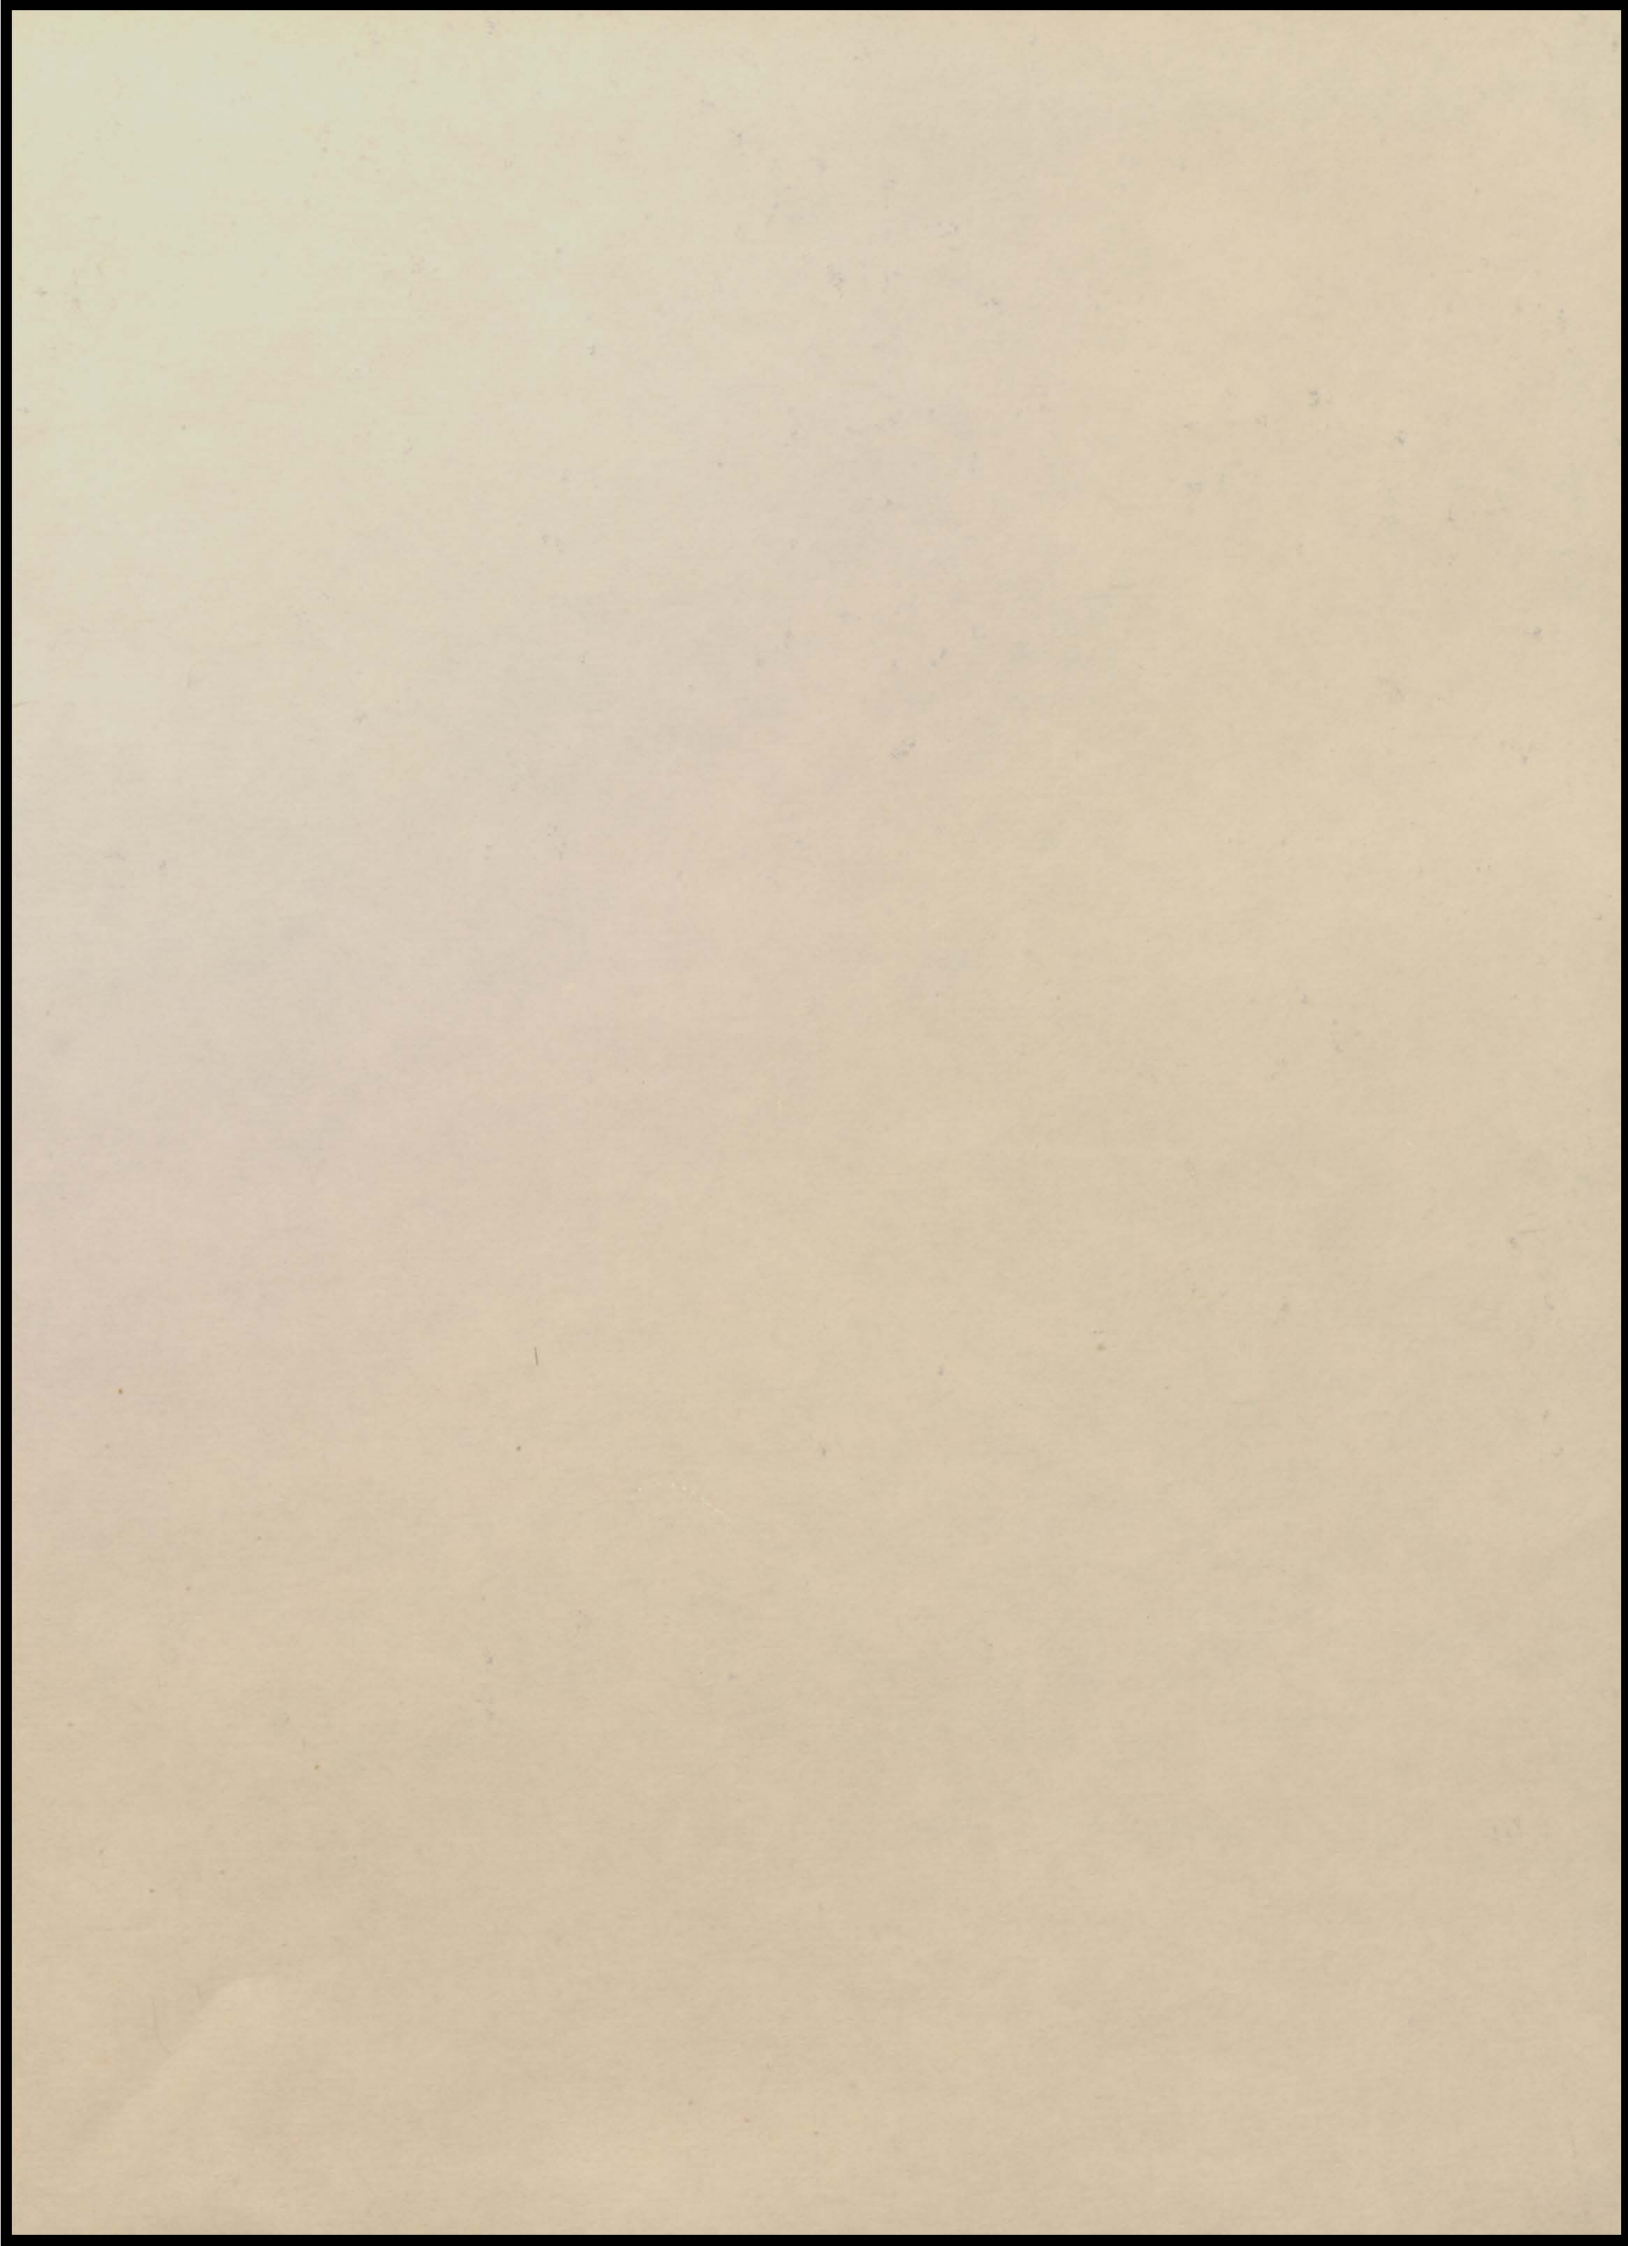

Your yearbook staff had fun putting together what we hope you will treasure as a keepsake of this very busy year.

Editor Daphne McKinney and Business Manager Sherry Cerny are shown as they took a trial-run of the Townsend Arena site of last year's graduation. It was to be the permanent location of the rite until the administration was persuaded to use it only in the event of rain.

Basically, though, it's the FACT — not the site — of graduation that counts!

“So proudly we hail the cherished gold and blue . . .”
— wherever and forever —
